

3 Parking Suggestions To Be Heard by Cabinet

By PAT EARLEY

Three parking recommendations—that two parking lots be resurfaced, that Shortlidge Rd. be made one-way, and that another opening be constructed for the Grange parking lot—will be presented to All-University Cabinet Thursday by John Sopko, sophomore class president.

These recommendations were made by the parking committee of the Sophomore Class Advisory Board.

The first recommendation asks that the parking lot near the skating rink and the one near the fertility plots be resurfaced. These lots are now covered with gravel. The parking committee believes that if these lots were paved and marked off, they would allow more parking spaces.

The recommendations that Shortlidge Rd. be made one-way and that another opening be constructed for the Grange parking lot are tied in with the alleviation of weekend traffic jams.

One-Way Traffic Plan

If Shortlidge Rd. were made one-way on weekends, it would be divided into three lanes. Lane 1 would be used by drivers who want to park their cars and take their dates into the residence halls. Lane 2 would be used by drivers who want to stop to let passengers out. Lane 3 would be used by drivers who want to go into Grange parking lot.

The parking committee believes that this change would not only alleviate the weekend traffic jams, but would cut down the number of minor accidents that occur on this street during the rush hour Friday and Saturday nights.

Traffic Jams Predicted

Valentina Kopach, education major from Ramsey, N.J., reminded the members of the board that the location of the new residence halls is going to create greater traffic jams than those which already exist. The traffic will no longer be divided between the eastern and the western end of the campus since all the women will be living at the eastern end.

Miss Kopach also suggested that the hours of the women be staggered. For instance, freshman and sophomore women would be required to return to the residence halls a half an hour earlier than the junior and senior women.

Would Not Relieve Trouble

The members of the board felt that this would not relieve the traffic jam, but would only cause two smaller traffic jams.

Also, it would cause more work for the hostesses of the residence halls. Women from all four classes are scattered in all of the residence halls. Thus, the hostesses would have to be on duty for a longer period of time.

It was suggested that the "stagger system" be tried for a week-end to see if it really would alleviate the traffic jam.

Drawings Set For Livestock In Dairy Show

Animal drawings for the Dairy Exposition will be held at the Dairy Science Club meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in 117 Dairy.

The exposition is open to all undergraduate students. They may draw from five breeds of animals—Guernsey, Jersey, Holstein, Brown Swiss and Ayrshire.

With the aid of an experienced person who is assigned to each breed, the student will prepare the animal, which he draws, for showing.

A queen will be selected to reign over the exposition, which will be held May 11. Application blanks will be available April 1 and must be returned by April 25. Blanks will be sent to all fraternities and sororities except the agriculture fraternities.

Participants are required to pay a $2 deposit for fitting and showing equipment which will be refunded after the show.

The equipment will be distributed after the drawings, and a fitting and showing demonstration will also be conducted at this time.

Approximately 30 awards and trophies will be presented at the exposition.

Christ-Janer Tells Aim of Modern Art

By LYNN WARD

Dr. Albert Christ-Janer, director of the School of the Arts, said yesterday that we should not try to understand modern art.

Dr. Christ-Janer spoke to the Faculty Luncheon Club on "How to Observe Contemporary Painting."

He said we do not try to understand the song of a bird or the sky, but we try to translate contemporary paintings into a literal sense. "As an artist," he said, "I am not convinced that everything can be said in words."

There are more aesthetic things, he said, that come to us in art. "Painting is not nature nor is nature painting," Dr. Christ-Janer said. "Painting is man made and nature is God-made," and no man should imitate what God made, he said. Thus he established that nature and art are two entirely different things.

Dr. Christ-Janer said that "through art we express our conception of what nature is not." Then, he said, we come to the question of what art is. In the strictest dictionary sense, he said, art is artificial; it is a fiction of the development of the imagination. The expressive painter today wants to tell you what he as a creative painter wants to convey, he said. The painter takes today's modern visual experiences in city and country and expresses his impression of them. He also expresses, Dr. Christ-Janer said, his personal reaction to today's analysis of man's inner self.

We, as the observers of contemporary painting, "can take pleasure in seeing what these reactions are." Artists, Dr. Christ-Janer said, express what is real to them in many diverse ways. We should look, select and enjoy their expressions. "What may be upside down to you may be Tuesday to someone else," he said.

The appointment was made by the fraternity's national office. The province over which Tague will have jurisdiction includes chapters at Syracuse, Rochester, Mansfield State Teachers College, Hartwick and Ithaca Colleges and the University.

Tague will succeed Craig McHenry of Ithaca College who resigned as governor when he became dean of the School of Music. McHenry had held the post for six years.

LA Council Will Elect 3 Officers

The Liberal Arts Student Council, with no nominees for council president and only one nominee for vice president, will hold final nominations and election of officers at 7:30 tonight in 212-213 Hetzel Union.

2 Nominees Decline

The council at its last meeting nominated Robert Nurock, junior from Elkins Park; and Robert Steele, junior from State College; for council president. Both declined the nomination, however. Steele is the Campus party nominee for All-University president.

Richard Schriger, president of the council, said that the members who declined the nominations at the last meeting are eligible to be nominated again.

Feldstein Nominated

Jay Feldstein, sophomore from Elizabeth, is the only nominee for vice president.

The candidates for secretary-treasurer are Lois Henderson, sophomore from Hazleton; Bonnie Keys, sophomore from Mt. Penn; and Sandra Shogren, sophomore from Pittsburgh.

Other business scheduled for tonight's meeting includes final committee reports and probably a decision on a faculty adviser. The council currently has no adviser.

IFC Presidency—

(Continued from page two) that was approved by the council last week, its Board of Directors will consist of five undergraduate fraternity men and six other persons who are not undergraduate students.

The election of these members, as provided for in the constitution, will be by a majority vote of the IFC, one meeting after the election of IFC officers.

Undergraduates may nominate themselves by letter. Non-undergraduates will be nominated by a board of directors nominating committee.

Froth Circulation Meeting

The Froth circulation staff will meet at 6:30 tonight in the Hetzel Union assembly hall.
