

Smith to Head WSGA; Aiken to Be Secretary

Susanne Smith, junior in home economics from Bellefonte, was elected president of the Women's Student Government Association yesterday.

Suzanne Aiken, senior in home economics from Edgewood, runner-up to Miss Smith, automatically becomes secretary.

WSGA Officers To Fly Today To Convention

Three officers of the Women's Student Government Association and their adviser will fly to Michigan State University today to attend a 4-day national convention of the Interscholastic Association of Women Students.

They are Susanne Smith, newly-elected president of WSGA; Suzanne Aiken, newly-elected secretary and IAWS co-ordinator; Rita Brown, former IAWS co-ordinator; and Mrs. Mae Skultz, adviser.

Formerly, the offices of secretary and IAWS co-ordinator were separate positions. However, at a recent meeting, the Senate voted to combine the offices for the coming year. If this system operates well, it will be included in the constitution during the revision next fall.

The topic for discussion at the convention is "As We See It—the Role of the Educated Woman."

Pauline Fredrick, NBC commentator who works directly from the United Nations in New York, will be the principal speaker at the convention. Miss Fredrick has just completed a round-the-world trip.

The women will fly to Dearborn, Mich. today where they will stop to see the Ford Village. From there, they will go directly to Lansing, Mich. to attend the convention. They will return Tuesday.

Poster Contest to Close

Entries in the Greek Week Poster contest may be submitted until 5 p.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk.

Miss Smith received 647 votes to 472 for Miss Aiken. Miss Smith was WSGA vice president this past year.

Lois E. Henderson, sophomore in arts and letters from Hazelton, defeated Ellen Donovan, sophomore in arts and letters from Emporium, for vice president. Miss Donovan will automatically become a junior senator. Miss Henderson polled 591 votes to 519 for Miss Donovan.

Nancy Clark, sophomore in arts and letters from Paoli, defeated Dorothy Newman, sophomore in psychology from Philadelphia. Miss Clark polled 473 votes to 329 for Miss Newman.

Sondra Peters, junior in education from Meadville, was elected senior senator. She defeated Edith Gross, junior in education from Pittsburgh. Miss Peters polled 155 votes to 128 for Miss Gross.

Mary Lytle, sophomore in education from Clairton, defeated Ruth Johnson, sophomore in education from Mt. Jewett, in the race for junior senator. Miss Lytle received 153 votes to 140 for Miss Johnson.

Gail Bentley, freshman in arts and letters from Camp Hill, was elected sophomore senator. She defeated Patricia Frank, sophomore in education from Homestead. Miss Bentley received 200 votes to 160 for Miss Frank.

Virginia Barone, freshman in arts and letters, defeated Judith DuBois, sophomore in education, for town senator. Miss Barone was elected in the primary election on Tuesday.

Forty-one per cent of the women students, a total of 1119, voted in yesterday's election.

Forty-eight per cent of the women voted in last year's election. Information on the exact voting in the separate residence halls was not available last night.

Leetch to Talk About Opening For LA Grads

George N. P. Leetch, director of the University placement service, will speak to students in liberal arts to illustrate the wide field of opportunities open to them after graduation.

The speech, to be given at 7 p.m. April 9 in 110 Electrical Engineering, is part of an effort by the Liberal Arts Student Council to show that liberal arts graduates are not faced with a limited field of opportunities.

Jay Feldstein, chairman of the council committee that arranged the speech, said that Leetch's theme will be that most students are in the liberal arts because they are undecided about what they want to do after they graduate.

Feldstein explained that many of them don't realize that they will have a wide field of opportunities after graduation. He said that Leetch will point out some of these opportunities in his talk.

The talk, Feldstein said, will deal with opportunities for liberal arts graduates in retailing, advertising, and similar fields; and also with problems such as careers for pre-law students who do not have the chance to go to law school.

Self-Nomination Blanks Available to Ed Council

Self-nomination blanks for the Education Student Council elections are available until March 30 at the Hetzel Union desk.

Any student in the College of Education with a 2.2 All-University average is eligible.

Council elections will be held April 3 and 4.

The first Olympic Games were held in Greece in 776 B.C.

Antes Will Head Panhel; Stauffer Wins VP Post

Grace Antes, junior in arts and letters from State College, will serve as president of the Panhellenic Council after a year's reign as vice president.

Miss Antes was elected vice president last spring, and under the council's rotation system she automatically becomes president.

Kathryn Stauffer, sophomore in education from Bala-Cynwyd, was elected council vice president yesterday. She will be president during the 1958-59 term.

The council's system provides for the election of a vice president from each sorority, starting with the oldest on campus and working toward the most recent. The vice president then becomes president the next year.

Miss Antes is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Miss Stauffer is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Four other officers were chosen in today's elections. They are the council assistant vice president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, and treasurer.

The assistant vice president is Phyllis Muskat, sophomore in home economics from Oakmont. The office was created by the Panhel election committee this year to insure against a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Marilyn Cohen, sophomore in education from Athens, was elected recording secretary. The corresponding secretary is Florence Moran, sophomore in education from Pittsburgh. Mary Lockwood, junior in home economics from Washington, D.C., is treasurer.

About 600 women voted, 60 per cent of those eligible. The percentage was about the same as last year's.

Awards Given To 10 Students

Ten students have been awarded $100 scholarships for the present academic year by the Penn State Student Scholarship Fund. The committee received 51 applications.

The students are Sam Allison, Phyllis Croop, David Donley, Richard Hann, Ronald Henderson, Catherine Klepper, Norman Miller, David Nash, George Peavey and Audrey Sassano.

Two awards of $50 each were approved. These will go to Masceil Beckford and Percival Jackson.

These scholarships are the only ones that are supported solely by students. Part of the funds come from Spring Week proceeds.

'Hubzapoppin' to Present Miller Jazz Program

Tonight's Hubzapoppin' will feature the sound of the Jerry Miller Miller Septet.

Miller, who last year had one of his songs, "Japanese Rhumba," in the national hit parade, will introduce two new numbers tonight.

Hubzapoppin' will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Hetzel Union assembly hall. No admission will be charged.

Staff Members File For Borough Offices

Fifteen staff and faculty members have filed petitions as candidates for the May 21 primary in State College.

Dr. Roy D. Anthony, professor emeritus of pomology, (Rep.) and Leonard A. Doggett, professor emeritus of electrical engineering, (Dem.), have filed for the office of Burgess.

Filing for Borough Council were: Lawrence J. Perez, professor of civil engineering, (Rep.); Charles F. LeeDecker Jr., associate professor of political science, (Rep.); and Mrs. Edith H. Anderson, associate to the dean of women, (Dem.).

LeeDecker, president of Borough Council, is the only incumbent among the candidates for council.

Roy V. Watkins, assistant professor of English composition, (Rep.); Dr. J. W. C. Remaley, professor of education, (Dem.); and Dr. George M. Guthrie, associate professor of psychology, (Dem.), have filed for school board positions.
