Sociology Professor To Speak at Chapel

Dr. Samuel W. Blizzard, professor of sociology and rural sociology, will speak at Chapel Services at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

His subject will be "Self-Discovery and Responsible Living."

For the service the choir will sing as the anthem an ancient Irish hymn, "St. Patrick's Breastplate."

George E. Ceiga, organist, will play as the prelude, "Fantasia" by William Byrd; and as the postlude, "Carillon" by Leon Boellman.

Dr. Blizzard, an ordained Presbyterian minister, has been teaching at the University and conducting research in urban and rural community relations since 1947. His current studies are concerned with population and the rural church.

He has recently been appointed to direct the Town and Country Pastor's Conference which is held annually at the University.

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Blizzard holds degrees from Maryville College in Tennessee, Princeton Theological Seminary, the Hartford Seminary Foundation and Cornell University. He also attended the Biblical Seminary in New York and the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va.

Prior to joining the faculty at the University Dr. Blizzard taught sociology at the College of Wooster in Ohio and at Cornell University.

His appointments as a Presbyterian minister have included services as assistant minister at the First Presbyterian Church in Roselle, N.J., and minister of the Chestnut Grove Presbyterian Church in Long Green, Md.

Dr. Blizzard served three years as secretary-treasurer in the Rural Sociological Society. He is currently rently a member of the finance committee. He is also a member of the American Sociological Society, the Society for the Study of Social Problems and the Population Association of America.

For five years, Dr. Blizzard was a departmental editor of "Rural Sociology." He is the co-author with Emory J. Brown of "The Church and the Community."

IFC, Panhel Will Observe Greek Sunday

Members of 23 sororities and 55 fraternities will observe Greek Week Sunday tomorrow in churches and synagogues in the State College area as well as at the chapel services in Schwab Auditorium.

This is the first time that the "Greeks" have attended services in their respective churches or synagogues. In previous years, fraternity and sorority members attended chapel services at Schwab Auditorium in a body.

Dr. Samuel W. Blizzard, professor of sociology and rural sociology, will speak at the chapel services at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

His subject will be, "Self-Discovery and Responsible Living."

Several fraternities and sororities have donated flowers to the various church services on Sunday. Adela Modlovan and Patrick Rielly, co-chairmen of Greek Sunday, said that these flowers were sent to help strengthen community relations with the University.

State College clergymen have been notified of plans for Greek Sunday and are preparing for the large attendance that is expected, according to Miss Moldovan.

Newman Club Plans Day of Reflection

The Newman Club will hold its first annual day of Reflection with a Communion Breakfast at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the La Galleria restaurant.

The Rev. J. Lawler, Congregation of the Mission, from Philadelphia will be the guest speaker. Conferences will be held in the afternoon.

A formal initiation ceremony of all Newman Club members will precede evening devotions consisting of rosary and benediction at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Victory Church.

Evening prayer will be read at 5 p.m. tomorrow in St. Andrew's Church. The Canterbury Association will meet in the parish house for supper and a program at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow. A panel discussion "The Old Testament Question Mark" will be presented.

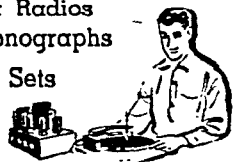

The fourth Sunday of Lent, commonly called "Refreshment Sunday" will be observed tomorrow with 9 a.m. services at the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel. The office of the morning prayer will be read with the litany and a sermon. The Meditation Chapel Choir will sing. Episcopal students may receive their Lenten Offering boxes at this service. A coffee hour will follow in the program center immediately after the service.

The United Student Fellowship of the Faith Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet at 6:30 (Continued on page eight)
