

Chances Improve For Extra Funds

The chances for the University receiving that additional $6 million President Eric A. Walker would "like to settle for" appeared brighter today.

Chairman Norman Wood (R.-Lancaster) of the House Appropriations Committee yesterday introduced a bill in the House allocating $33,849,000 to the University for the 1957-59 biennium.

The bill represents a $6,135,600 increase over the $27,713,400 recommended in Gov. George M. Leader's budget. The University had asked Leader to include the $33-million figure in his budget.

Wood said the increased appropriation was fixed "to help Penn State keep in line with other state colleges as far as salaries and programs were concerned." Wood said he and Rep. H. G. Andrews (D.-Cambria) would co-sponsor the bill.

Explaining the proposed increase appropriation, Wood told the Associated Press:

"Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania Universities each got between 40 and 60 per cent increases in the last budget while Penn State's came to about 21 per cent. It is with this in mind that we're proposing a bill to keep Penn State in line with other schools."

Dr. Walker appeared before a joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee last week and requested the $6 million increase.

At that time, Dr. Walker said the University needs the money to keep faculty salaries in line with other schools. He termed this the University's "most obvious need."

Dr. Walker told the legislators that the University was not only losing faculty members to industry but also to other colleges.

He said that "if the University is to keep a faculty equal to other land-grant colleges—and I think we're committed to do that—we've got to do something about salaries."

Dr. Walker said the additional money is also needed to permit raising secretarial and other employees' salaries, most of which he said are below those paid state workers in the same categories.

"We're aiming to meet the wages paid by the other colleges. Of course they aren't going to stand still. But at the present time, we're only talking about meeting them," he said.

Dulles Asks $750 Million Special Aid

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles urged a "new approach" to foreign aid today, including a special fund to loan up to 750 million dollars a year to friendly nations on easy terms.

He emphasized it would be a long-term proposition under which military aid would be transferred to the Defense Department and administered separately from economic assistance.

$4½ Billion Needed

Under questioning before a special Senate committee studying the foreign aid problem, Dulles said the new approach would not require any more money than the 4½ billion dollars now in the foreign aid budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, and might even call for "a little less."

But he made it clear he thinks the United States must continue to help other countries both militarily and economically in the years ahead, although perhaps at a diminishing rate.

Grants Limited

He recommended that outright grants of aid be limited to direct military assistance, economic help to meet "contingencies and imperative needs," and to about 150 million dollars a year in technical assistance.

Under current programs, about 80 per cent of economic development funds are earmarked for loans.

Competition Will Begin Among 'Uglies' Today

By MARIAN BEATTY

A week of competition among 37 fraternities and one independent group to see which one has the ugliest man on campus will begin today with the opening of the annual Ugly Man contest.

The contest will begin today with penny voting on the Mall in front of the Armory from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and a parade of the candidates at 6:30 tonight. Voting today will be entirely by picture, as none of the entrants will be unveiled until tonight.

The ugly men and their retinue must be assembled by the skating rink at 5:45 tonight. The parade will move west along Pollock Rd to Burrowes Rd. It will then turn south past Recreation Hall and disband behind the library. The location of the judges' stand is being kept secret so the contestants will not know when they are being judged.

If the parade is to be cancelled because of bad weather, an announcement will be made between 4 and 5 p.m. today over Station WMAJ.

No motor vehicles will be allowed in the parade. Any group using one will be automatically disqualified. The committee has placed no limit on the number of people who may perform in the parade. The use of floats is optional. All floats must be removed from campus by 10 tonight.

The judges will pick three top entrants tonight. Each group will be awarded 1000 points, or the equivalent of $10 in penny voting. Judging will be on the basis of group participation, originality, continuity of theme and planning shown.

Penny voting will continue tomorrow and Thursday until 5 p.m. The entrants may sponsor demonstrations on campus to encourage voting from noon to 1 p.m. and from 5 to 5:30 p.m. today, tomorrow and Thursday. Each penny vote will count as one point.

The seven fraternities with the highest number of points at 5 p.m. Thursday will be eligible for the skits composing the contest finals Friday night. The skits will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Hetzel Union ballroom. Any number of men or women may participate. The winning group will be decided solely on the basis of the skit.

Proceeds of the contest will be divided between an All-University scholarship and service projects of Alpha Phi Omega, national men's service fraternity and sponsor of the contest.

Poor Weather To Continue

The Nittany Lion was optimistic this morning, despite the prospect of more poor weather for the area.

The Lion, in a press release which accompanied today's weather bulletin, reports some stirrings of support for his "Don't-Cross-the-Lion, He'll-Soon-Be-On-Top" campaign.

He claims that this is only the beginning, and predicted that within a few days a wave of Lion sentiment will sweep the campus, "snowballing in intensity."

Today's forecast calls for a drop in temperatures, wind, and snow flurries. High should be between 35 and 40.

British Attache to Speak To Plant Science Club

Owen G. Williams, assistant agricultural and food attache of the British Embassy, Washington, D.C., will address the Plant Science Club at 7:30 tonight in 111 Plant Industries.

Williams will speak on the "duties of an Agricultural Attache and some of the problems associated with the work."

THE FOUR FRESHMEN, Ross Barbour, Bob Flanigan, Ken Alhers and Don Barbour, give forth with their "uninhibited sound" at Sunday's Jazz Concert at Rec Hall. The Freshmen shared the spotlight with Buddy Morrow and his band. Such tunes as "Stormy Weather," "Mr. B's Blues," "Graduation Day" and "Night Train" were heard by the largest audience to attend a concert this year.

400 Walk-in Donors Needed To Meet Red Cross Goal

Approximately 400 walk-in donors will be needed today and tomorrow in the Red Cross blood drive to meet the 600-pint goal.

Two hundred persons have pledged to give blood between 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today or tomorrow in the Hetzel Union card room, according to David Myerson, Alpha Zeta blood drive chairman.

A goal of 500 pints in last spring's drive was topped when 541 pints were collected in the two-day period.

Trophies, now on display in the Waring Lounge, will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority having the highest percentage of members giving blood.

The Association of Independent

Men will give 100 free movie tickets to the first 100 independent men and women to give blood. AIM will also award $10 to the dormitory unit having the greatest percentage of residents giving blood.

Students under 21 must have minor's release forms signed by their parents in order to give blood. Students under 18 may not give blood.

All those wishing to give blood will be examined beforehand for any signs of blood infection.

The examination, drawing of blood and rest period afterwards is expected to take about an hour.

The blood collected in the drive will be used by the Johnstown region of the Red Cross for civilian purposes.

Scientist To Speak at Commencement

Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research since 1953 and president of the National Academy of Sciences since 1950, will deliver the Commencement address Saturday, June 8.

President Eric A. Walker will confer degrees on more than 2000 students at the exercises planned for 10:30 a.m. In case of inclement weather, the ceremonies will be divided into two sections, one at 10:30 a.m. and one at 2 p.m. and will be held in Recreation Hall.

Graduated from Swarthmore

Dr. Bronk, a graduate of Swarthmore College, studied at the University of Pennsylvania and received his master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees from the University of Michigan. He has been conferred honorary degrees by more than 20 colleges and universities.

Dr. Bronk served on the faculty at Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Swarthmore before he was named in 1929 as Johnson professor of biophysics and director of the Eldridge Reeves Johnson Foundation for Medical Physics at the University of Pennsylvania, a position he held for 20 years.

During this time, he also held positions as director of the Institute of Neurology and as professor physiology of Cornell Medical College.

Elected President

In 1948 Dr. Bronk was elected president of The Johns Hopkins University and he served in that capacity until accepting his present position with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in 1953. From 1942 to 1946 he was coordinator of research in the Air

Students Receive 2801 Polio Shots

University students have received 2801 Salk polio vaccine shots to date, according to Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the Health Service.

The vaccine program, initiated in January, is operating at near capacity.

A letter of parental permission, mailed from the student's home town, and $1 will enable any student in good health to receive the shots.

Officers' Names Due

The names of all new officers of clubs, fraternities, sororities, honorary societies and other organizations should be turned in at the Hetzel Union desk by April 26. These names will be included in the Hetzel Union Directory.

Surgeon's Office.

Dr. Bronk served as chairman of the National Research Council from 1946 to 1950; was president in 1952 of the American Academy of Sciences; served from 1947 to 1951 on the executive committee of the Society of the Sigma Xi; and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa as well as other professional and scholastic societies.

Served as Journalist He has served on the editorial boards of several professional and scientific journals.

For the commencement program graduating students will be allowed an unlimited number of guests, and no tickets will be necessary if the ceremonies are held in Beaver Field.

If the ceremonies are held indoors a probable limit of two tickets for each student will be made because of limited seating capacity.

Three Convicts Still at Large

Three escapees from the Rockview Penitentiary who made their getaway during a movie at 7 p.m. Sunday were still at large last night.

BULLETIN

The three escapees from the Rockview Penitentiary were apprehended last night in Monroe County near Stroudsburg, according to police authorities.

Both prison and state police are searching for the three, who made their escape over the north fence of the prison after climbing out of unbarred corridor windows.

The three are William Richter, 35, Philadelphia, burglar and receiver of stolen goods; John Welty, 27, Easton, burglar; and Earl Fehr, 25, Philadelphia, rapist.

Richter was serving an 8 to 20 year sentence; Welty, a 6 to 12 year sentence, and Fehr, 5 to 10 year.

All three were wearing the regular prison uniform—khaki shirts and trousers.

Eng Senior Orders Due For Caps and Gowns

Seniors enrolled in the College of Engineering and Architecture must order their caps and gowns today and tomorrow at the Athletic Store.

Students must leave a $5 deposit and give their hat sizes when ordering. Invitations and announcements are available at the Hetzel Union desk.

Freshman Test Results

The division of counseling will interpret freshman orientation test results at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 18 and 19 Sparks.
