'Ugly Men' Parade Through Wind, Cold

Accompanied by the unearthly blat of horns, the ugliest men on campus marched through blustery winds and raw, early-April weather last night, leering and grimacing at the on-lookers.

A crowd of shivering enthusiastic students turned out to watch the Ugly Man parade, which might well have inspired a Boris Karloff horror film.

Budget Extras Said Expected To Miss Cuts

The House Appropriations Committee chairman said yesterday that most of an extra $6 million he is asking for the University should survive efforts to cut the budget.

"They'll probably get most of the extra money although I can't say exactly how much at this point," Chairman Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) told a newsmen, according to the Associated Press.

Rep. Wood Monday night sponsored a measure which would give $33,849,000 to the University for 1957-59 instead of the $27,713,400 recommended in Gov. George M. Leader's budget. The University had asked Gov. Leader to include the $33-million figure in his budget.

Wood said the increased appropriation was fixed to "help Penn State keep in line with other state colleges as far as salaries and programs were concerned."

President Eric A. Walker appeared before a joint House and Senate Appropriations Committee last week and requested the $6 million increase.

At that time, Dr. Walker said the University needs the money to keep faculty salaries in line with other schools' salaries.

WSGA Senate to Hear Report on Convention

The Women's Student Government Association Senate will meet at 6:30 tonight in 213 Hetzel Union.

Suzanne Aiken, secretary, will give a report on the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students convention. Miss Aiken, Susanne Smith, WSGA president; Rita Brown, out-going IAWS coordinator; and Mrs. Mae Shultz, WSGA adviser; attended the convention at Michigan State University three weeks ago.

Rockview Escapees Captured

Three Rockview Penitentiary inmates who escaped Sunday were captured Monday night after they had stolen and wrecked a car belonging to a student.

Leo Fisher, senior in meteorology from Shamokin, had reported his car missing from its parking space near the observatories. Police said they found it wrecked near Stroudsburg, not far from where the convicts were apprehended.

Trapped in Home

The convicts were trapped by police in a home in Kellersville, about five miles west of Stroudsburg. They had been holding a woman and her two children as hostages in the house.

Two of the convicts were captured immediately, but the third, who escaped through a window, was caught an hour later.

The three were William C. Richter, 35, of Philadelphia, convicted burglar and parole violator; Earl F. Fehr, 25, Philadelphia, rapist; and John J. Welty, 27, of Easton, burglar.

Escaped From Movies

The convicts had escaped while they were supposed to be attending a movie in the prison dining hall.

They made their exit through an unbarred corridor window and climbed the north gate.

Prior to their capture, they had eluded police in a chase through Easton.

Pageant Officials To Admit Coeds

The Centre County Miss America Pageant will be open to University coeds who meet the general requirements of the contest rules and pass preliminary screening.

Since there is a rule which states that the entrant must be a resident of the territory covered by the contest, there had been some question about the eligibility of entrants from the University.

Neil C. Wiggins, general chairman, said the rule would be waived only for college students who live in the territory at the time the contest is held.

Public Relations Talk

Harlan L. P. Wendell, public relations adviser to E. I. duPont de Nemours and Co., will speak to an industrial public relations class on community relations at 11 a.m. tomorrow in 121 Sparks.

8 Workshops Set For Encampment

Eight workshops have definitely been named and final plans are being completed for the sixth annual Student Encampment Sept. 4 to 7 at the Mont Alto Forest School, according to Encampment Committee Chairman Harry Martini.

Martini said the eight workshops as the committee will propose them to All-University Cabinet will be academic atmosphere; academic policies; communications and culture; orientation, tradition and school spirit.

Regulations, controls and student welfare; student enterprises; student government; and student placement and employment.

68 Positions Chosen

The holders of 68 student positions will attend Encampment automatically. At least 22 students will be chosen this week through interviews with the Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee.

The positions selected are the members of All-University Cabinet; the chairman of Tribunal, the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review, Women's Judicial, the Interfraternity Council Board of Control, Orientation Week and Customs Board.

The presidents of Town Independent Men, West Halls Council, Nittany Council and Pollock Council; the clique chairmen of Campus and Lion Parties; the presidents of Hat Society Council and of the University Christian Association.

U.S. Attache Expelled By Hungarians

BUDAPEST, Hungary, April 9 (AP)—The Hungarian government gave an expulsion notice with a 48-hour time limit today to Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, U. S. assistant military attache, as the result of a picture-taking incident.

The U. S. legation denied the Communist government's charge that Capt. Gleason had been guilty of "open espionage." A legation spokesman said the charges were "largely inaccurate" and did not constitute espionage under international usage.

Retaliation Hinted

In Washington, the possibility was raised that the American government would retaliate by ordering the ouster of a Hungarian diplomat.

Capt. Gleason, 32, of Urbana, Ill., and Col. James C. Todd, of Tulsa, Okla., the military attache, figured in an incident on a country road 55 miles southwest of Budapest last Wednesday when their car was surrounded by Hungarian secret police and Soviet officers.

Film Released

They were questioned for more than five hours through a partly lowered window of their locked station wagon on accusations that they had taken pictures of a nearby barracks occupied by the Russians. Gleason finally gave up a roll of color film which he said showed only family groups and landscapes. Then they were released.

Lion's Plans Receive Jolt

The Nittany Lion's campaign to catapult him to "total power in Old Main" received a severe jolt today.

The Lion discovered this morning that a band of ruthless animals, strong in number and well-armed, has already begun a march on campus from a home base located in the foothills beyond Boalsburg. The troupe, led by a bear reputed to be a military genius, is reported planning to establish a dictatorial state in the State College area.

The Lion refused to comment on the competition, and called a meeting behind closed doors of his strategy staff for noon today.

Today's forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and cooler temperatures. High should be between 35 and 40.

Blood Typing Service

The Rod and Coccus club will type students' blood for a 25-cent fee from 7 to 9 tonight in 205 Patterson.

An additional 25-cent charge will be made for determining the Rh factor. Proceeds will go to a scholarship fund for medical technology and bacteriology.

Blood Donors Total 189 for First Day

One hundred eighty-nine pints of blood were collected yesterday in the first of a two-day Red Cross blood drive in the Hetzel Union card room.

Dr. Loren D. Tukey, State College blood drive chairman, said yesterday was the second lowest Tuesday the drive has ever had. Last fall 167 pints of blood were given on Tuesday, the lowest day on record.

The drive will continue today from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the HUB card room.

Two hundred twenty-seven persons appeared at the blood donor headquarters yesterday to give blood, but 38 were rejected because of health reasons.

Sixty persons had pledged to give blood yesterday, but only 44 of these showed up at their appointed hours.

The Association of Independent Men gave 100 free movie tickets to the first 100 independent students who gave blood. The last ticket was given out at 3:30 p.m.

Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority with six donors and Theta Chi fraternity with 14 donors had the highest number of contributors.
