

Female Proposals Urged At Marriage Conclave

Dr. Jessie R. Bernard, professor of sociology, set an optimistic scene for marriages last night and said "marriage means more to a woman and she should therefore have the privilege of asking for dates and proposing."

However, men would be reluctant to relinquish this high privilege, she added at the fourth annual Marriage Conference.

Teams Fail To Place In Debates

The men's and women's debate teams failed to place in the 10th annual tournament of the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges, but two squad members won a first and a second place in individual competition.

Edward Klevans, senior in electrical engineering from Roaring Springs, won the men's oratory championship. Klevans' speech, entitled "Confess," was on Communist brainwashing.

Vicki O'Donnell, sophomore in arts and letters from Irwin, tied for second place in the women's oratory contest. Miss O'Donnell spoke on "Seeds of Destruction."

The women's teams brought home a split record, winning five matches and losing five.

The members of the affirmative team were Bonnie Jones, sophomore in education from Baltimore, Md., and Susan Whittington, sophomore in arts and letters from Arlington, Va.

The negative team members were Phoebe Felk, junior in arts and letters from Ambridge and Miss O'Donnell.

The men's squad was represented by Jonathan Plaut, senior in industrial engineering from Rockville, and Klevans, who defended the affirmative side, and Daniel Fegert, senior in arts and letters from Milwaukee, Wis., and Robert Adams, junior in business administration from Johnstown.

The teams debated the international debate topic: Resolved: That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries.

Sociologist to Address Historical Club Meeting

Dr. Roy C. Buck, associate professor of rural sociology, will address a meeting of the Westmoreland-Fayette Historical Society Friday night at the Trotter Public School near Connellsville.

He will speak on "Broadening the Interest Base of the County Historical Society."

• The London Times runs all classified advertisements on its front page.

SIGMA PHI ALPHA

Barbershop Quartette CONTEST

APRIL 10
8:00 P.M.

Schwab Auditorium

All proceeds go to Muscular Dystrophy

Phi Kappa Sigma	4 Brothers
Tri Sigma	Sigma's Three Plus One
Pi Beta Phi	The Hi-Phi's
Pi Kappa Alpha	Pleasant Pikes
Alpha Tau Omega	Tau House Four
Chi Phi	Chakettes
Theta Phi Alpha	Taps Tonettes
Sigma Tau Gamma	Penn Statesmen
Kappa Alpha Theta	Thetattes
Delta Theta Sigma	Four Tones
Acacia	Alpha Chi Omega

● Guest Appearance of ●
Jack Kapitanoff's Collegians

Exhibit Shows 'Hell' Postmark

By PAULA MILLER

Have you ever received a letter from Hell? . . . Hell, Norway, that is?

Currently on display in the front lobby of the Pattee Library is a collection of stamps and envelopes from all over the world, even from Hell, Norway. The exhibit is being sponsored by the Mount Nittany Philatelic Society. In the display there are selections from several stamp collections of club members.

Featured in one of the cases is a collection of stamps with overprint errors. The collection is owned by Albert R. Erskine, instructor in mathematics and head of the exhibition.

Explains Overprints

In explaining why the stamps were overprinted, Erskine said that the stamps were given out in occupied Germany following World War II. When the Allies decided to increase the value of the Mark they also had to indicate on the stamps that they had an increased value.

Also on display is a selection of recent stamps from Monaco. Issued in 1956, the stamps include pictures of President Dwight D. Eisenhower worth 5 francs, a stamp worth 40 francs with Prince Ranier's picture and a stamp worth 200 francs with a picture of Prince Ranier and wife Grace. Other stamps issued from Monaco have pictured on them old-fashioned cars, zeppelins and rockets.

Vatican Stamps Exhibited

In another of the cases is exhibited stamps from the Vatican City. One series in particular features the "Michelangelo's Dome of

Eng Senior Orders Due For Caps and Gowns

Today is the deadline for seniors enrolled in the College of Engineering and Architecture to order caps and gowns.

From Thursday through Saturday seniors in the College of Liberal Arts and Business Administration may order their caps and gowns. Orders are being taken at the Athletic Store.

Hillel Board to Meet

Hillel Governing Board will meet at 7 tonight at the Hillel Foundation.

The nominations committee will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow to nominate officers for next week. The graduating seniors of the governing board may attend the meeting.

Saint Peter's Basilica," honoring the first Pope.

Stamps issued in the United States can also be seen in the display. Some of these stamps were issued in honor of the Army, Navy, Red Cross, doctors' centennial, baseball's centennial and the newsboys of America.

A collection of stamps from Germany before the forming of the German Empire in 1872 is also featured in the display. At that time, each of the German free states and free cities issued its own stamps. In the exhibition are stamps from Hamburg, Mecklenburg-Schwerin and Saxony (1851).

In another of the cases is a collection of stamps on envelopes marked first day issued. One example is a stamp honoring Booker T. Washington's 100th year.

Included in the display is a series of letters between a local resident and a Polish lawyer. The two men, who started corresponding after World War II, have been exchanging stamps of special interest since then.

Also in the exhibition is a collection of stamps showing the history and progress of the United Nations.

Natural, poplin, water-repellent casual coat—just the ideal thing for campus wear now and through the season—with matching hat.

$17.98

Smart Shop
123 S. Allen Street

Something for Everyone

The Blast of The Year

See Gifts for Miss Penn State and He-Man April 12-15

See Trophies in 'A' Store Window April 25 - May 2

Here's To The Best Spring Yet... Disneyland of 1957

Start Now for the Big Events...

● Preliminaries of He-Man Contest	April 28
● Coronation of Miss Penn State	April 29
● Carnival	April 30
● Mad-Hatters Parade	May 1
● He-Man Finals	May 1
● Tournament of the Queen of Hearts	May 1
● All-Service Talent Show	May 2

Trophies awarded at the Talent Show