

Jordan Leaders Resign At Request of Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan, April 10 (AP) — Premier Suleiman Nabulsi's government resigned today at the request of young King Hussein. The development cast doubt on the future of this little country, center of a possible Middle East explosion. The action came as surprise, less than 24 hours after the

Nasser Said To Still Feel Superiority

CAIRO, April 10 (AP)—President Gamal Abdul Nasser was represented today as feeling that he holds all the cards in the present negotiations with the United States over the Suez Canal.

Sources close to the Egyptian government reported Nasser's attitude as U.S. Ambassador Raymond A. Hare talked again with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi more than two hours.

Nasser Stubborn
The informants said Nasser had not made a single major concession since Hare began last week a series of six conferences with Fawzi, and Washington reports said Britain and France are convinced the United States is getting nowhere.

The two Western powers were said to be urging that the issue again be tossed in the lap of the UN Security Council.

Ike Hopes
At a news conference in Washington, however, President Eisenhower said the United States still had hopes of getting a satisfactory agreement in the direct talks with Egypt.

He said he was not yet ready to transfer the matter to another stage—the Security Council.

GOP to Remove Coal Tax Doubts

HARRISBURG, April 10 (AP)—Senate Republicans decided today to remove all possible legal doubts that coal is exempt from the 3 per cent sales tax.

Sen. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said the exemption will be spelled out when the Legislature returns April 23 after an Easter recess.

Legal Holiday Announced

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Geo. M. Leader today proclaimed Good Friday a legal Pennsylvania holiday and called on Pennsylvanians to set aside their usual duties for worship.

Foreign Aid Endorsed

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The head of the Export-Import Bank endorsed the administration's new foreign aid loan program today but warned against making too many loans on "soft" terms.

"Excessive extension of soft loans," Samuel C. Waugh told a Senate committee, "may seriously imperil the status of any loans made on a strictly banking basis."

The Export-Import Bank is the major foreign lending arm of the government. Its loans are made only in dollars and repayable in dollars on the basis of what Waugh called "banking judgments regarding reasonable assurances of repayment."

Russian Refugees Give Guilty Plea To Spy Charges

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP) — A refugee couple, pale with anguish, today pleaded guilty to spying for Russia against the United States, the land that gave them sanctuary. Their plea erased the threat of a death sentence against them. Hand in hand, Jack Soble, 53, and his wife, Myra, 52, threw off the shackles that had bound them to their Iron Curtain homelands ever since they fled here during World War II. They cast their lot at last with the free world—to rid themselves of a burden, they said, and to "recapture their souls."

10 Years Maximum
Their plea of reduced guilt carries a maximum prison sentence of 10 years. A third defendant, Jacob Albam, 64, still awaits trial.

Within minutes of their federal court appearance, the apparently repentant Sobles were before a grand jury to tell what they know of Soviet intrigue.

Fantastic Tale
Their lawyer called it a tale bordering on the fantastic. It involves Soviet Reds in diplomatic listening posts being fed national defense secrets by a well-knit international spy ring headed by Soble, an obscure figure in New York's animal hair products industry.

The Sobles, he a lean 6-footer, she, eight inches shorter and with bleached blonde hair streaked with gray, were tense and solemn as they stood before U. S. District Judge Richard H. Levet. Gone from Mrs. Soble's lips were the laughter and taunts with which she greeted their arrest last Jan. 25.

Postmaster Backed In Fund Request By Citizen Board

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Post Office Department's Citizens advisory board today backed up Postmaster General Summerfield's threat to curtail Saturday mail service if he doesn't get additional operating funds this week.

The group also endorsed proposed rate increases and the department's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

In a unanimous statement released by the department, the advisory group said after a regular quarterly meeting here:

"It is paradoxical and regrettable that this wealthiest nation in the world faces serious reductions in postal service because of congressional failure up to now to appropriate the funds needed to operate regular mail service without interruption for the last quarter of the present fiscal year."

Premier publicly acknowledged that the government had been having a crisis, but claimed that it had ended.

The announcement appeared to bear out reports that the 22-year-old King had been involved in a long struggle with the Nabulsi government to keep Jordan from divorcing herself completely from all Western influence in the name of an "Arab liberation" inspired by Egypt.

Some foreign observers speculated that the King, who only recently took a strong stand against increasing Communist influence in Jordan, may have won a temporary victory in the struggle which may mean the future of his throne. But these observers stressed the word "temporary".

Premier Nabulsi, who rode into office last October on a wave of anti-Western sentiment, had called his Cabinet into session only this afternoon, after announcing that the government crisis was over.

While the Cabinet still was meeting, the chief of the King's own Royal Cabinet, Bahjat Talhouni, went to the Premier's offices and informed Nabulsi the monarch desired the government's resignation.

The government made public Nabulsi's letter of resignation, stating he was complying with the King's wish in accordance with Jordan's constitution. The King asked Nabulsi and his ministers to stay on only until a new government could be formed.

Russian Unrest Still Prevails

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The U.S. Information Agency says there is unrest in Russia and the satellites which may eventually shake up Communist governments and make them more friendly to the United States.

This hopeful possibility was raised by Arthur Larson, USIA director, at recent closed hearings of a House appropriations subcommittee. The record of the sessions was made public today.

Larson touched on conditions behind the Iron Curtain in defending President Eisenhower's request that USIA, which operates the Voice of America and other propaganda projects, be given 140 million dollars for the coming year.

The Senate group is taking a new look at the U.S. foreign aid program in advance of action on President Dwight D. Eisenhower's $4,000,000,000 foreign aid budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Secretary of State Dulles appeared before the senators Monday to urge "a new approach" to foreign aid, including a special fund to loan up to 750 million dollars a year to friendly nations on easy terms.

Waugh said he thought this was a good way of helping underdeveloped countries.

But he told the senators his bank's directors feel that some of these countries "can safely incur only limited amounts of debt, no matter how soft the terms." Excessive lending to any country, he said, would make that country "unsuitable" for further loans negotiated on a businesslike basis.

Soviet Bonds Frozen

Moscow, April 10 (AP)—The Soviet government plans to stop interest and freeze repayment of principal for 20 to 25 years on 260 billion rubles in state bonds bought by Soviet citizens.

The debt thus frozen amounts to 65 billion dollars at the official exchange rate.

The bonds are held by Soviet wage and salary earners and collective farmers, who bought them with payroll deductions averaging from 6 to 8½ per cent over the last two decades or more.

Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, in announcing the freeze at a meeting of 60,000 workers in the industrial city of Gorky, also revealed that from 1958 on there will be no more of the annual drives at which Soviet citizens have had to sign up for bonds.

Last year the drive collected around 30 billion rubles. This year it was originally planned to collect 26 billion—but Khrushchev said that target has been reduced.

Atom-Driven Ship

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today announced the award of a $9,872,000 contract for a reactor to power the nation's first nuclear-driven merchant ship. The contract went to Babcock & Wilcox Co., New York.

British Money Deferred

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The House today passed a bill allowing Britain to postpone payments on her big U.S. loan, but not before some angry talk about Queen Elizabeth's wardrobe and elegant living quarters for British diplomats.
