SPLASH PRACTICE: Two coeds practice their routine for the Swim Club's "Wide Wide World" show.

WRA Water Show Will Open Tonight

Ten features of the "Wide Wide World" will be the theme of the Women's Recreation Association Swimming Club's 17th annual aquacade which opens tonight.

The water show will be presented by the WRA "Naiads" at 8 tonight and tomorrow night in the White Hall pool.

Tickets for both performances may be obtained at the main office in White Hall.

"Rhythmic timing and synchronization in movement, accompanied by music, will interpret the variety of themes.

"Easter Parade," the first theme set to Berlin's music, is directed by Mary Phillips. Kay Berry, Sylvia Bohlayer, Gay Briggs, Elizabeth Buckhout, Susan Cope, Mary Alice Griesemer, Nancy May, Rachel Neff, Kip Newlin, Sherry Parkin, Barbara Schoenly and Sally Stauffer will be featured in this number.

The second theme, "Paris Flirtation," is directed by Jean McMahon. Marilyn Doan, Mary Hurley, Polly McMichael and Shirley Pittman will swim to "Little Bells and Big Bells."

"Weather," directed by Rachel Neff and Lynn Stollmeyer, will be interpreted by Jean Bodman, Sylvia Bohlayer, Nancy May, Rachel Neff, Kip Newlin and Barbara Runyan to Richard Rodgers' "Mare Nostrum."
 Mary Hurley, Mary Lockwood and Joanna Mason will swim in "Jungle Drums" with original percussion accompaniment.

Ann Lutz directs "Dreams," with Lynn McNitt, Shirley Pittman, Sue Reen and Rae Waters swimming to "Dusk."

"Spring Spree," a number done to "Intermezzo For A Day In May," will feature Carolyn Allison, Barbara Beamer, Barbara Easter, Ina Hildebrand, Barbara Jewell, Sybil Klein, Meg Dvashay, Doris Little, Evelyn Nikitscher.

Linda Paynter, Maxine Richter, Marilyn Roberts, Jeanette Saxe, Nancy Shane, Leona Shreiner, Gloria Swartz, Evelyn Wernham and Mary Ann Zittle. This number is directed by Judy Tame, president of the Swimming Club.

The seventh theme of the show, "Peppermint Sticks," features Helen Baldwin, Elizabeth Buckhout, Sue Hansen, Ann Lutz, Jean McMahon, Polly McMichael, Shirley Pittman and Jessica Whitaker. Shirley Pittman directs the

Indie Queen To Highlight NISA Dance

The "Carnival Time" dance, highlighted by the coronation of the National Independent Student Association queen, will be held from 8 to 12 tonight in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

The AIM sponsored dance will climax the NISA week festivities which have been proceeding since Sunday.

Charles Speidel, wrestling coach, will crown the queen between 10:30 and 11 p.m. She will receive a loving cup and a bouquet of spring flowers.

Finalists Named

The queen will be chosen from five finalists. They are Nancy Marchese, sophomore in education from Boston; Betsy Orr, freshman in applied art from Tarentum; Nancy Tate, sophomore in home economics from Biglerville; Donna Tokar, sophomore in liberal arts from Mount Pleasant; and Marilyn Turki, freshman in physical education from Canonsburg.

The four runners-up will make up the queen's court and will receive smaller bouquets.

Carnival Theme Planned

Dress for the dance will be informal, on a carnival theme, according to John Marko, chairman of the dance committee. Music will be provided by the AIM dance band.

The Continentals, a vocal quintet of the AIM band, will perform during the first hour of the dance.

Journ Society Initiates Nine

Five students and four faculty members of the School of Journalism have been initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, national journalism honorary scholarship society.

Undergraduate students initiated are Lee Ranck, senior from Harrisburg; Patricia Grossman, junior from Bloomsburg; and Barbara Budnick, junior from Schenectady, N.Y.

Graduate students initiated are Harry Carroll, Philipsburg; and Ralph Goodwin, Miami, Fla.

Faculty members initiated are Professors Robert M. Pockrass, Wallace Abel, Ronald L. Hicks and John D. Vairo.

Dr. Guido H. Stempel, faculty advisor of the chapter, conducted the initiation ceremonies. Dr. James W. Markham, national secretary of Kappa Tau Alpha, welcomed the new members.

57% DIR Students Attain 2.0 Averages

About 57 per cent of the 419 students completing one semester in the Division of Intermediate Registration attained an average of 2.0 or better, a division survey shows.

A study was made for the fall semester under Dr. Harold K. Wilson, director of DIR, involving a total of 580 students.

Of these, 455 had been enrolled in the program for one semester. The remaining 125 were in the program for two consecutive terms.

Transfers to other colleges from DIR amounted to 186 students. The College of Business Administration gained the largest proportion entering a single college, 63. The College of the Liberal Arts, with 38 transfers from DIR, was second.

DIR dropped 142 persons because they were not making satisfactory progress. University action, resulting from the rules concerning a student who fails 50 per cent of his courses or has an average below 1.5, accounted for only 18 suspensions.

The study, which lists the grades made by the students who had been in DIR for one or two semesters, also includes the statistics on their high school rank. The greatest number of this first group, 175, was in the second fifth of its high-school graduating class.

A similar relationship was maintained in the group continuing in DIR for a second semester. One per cent, or four, of those who had been in the program for a term were on the Dean's List.

Commenting on the high school ranks, Dr. Wilson said that finding the proper curriculum and being motivated is a more important factor in the student's college career than his high school grades.

Bixler Will Head News and Views

Karen Bixler, junior in home economics from Huntingdon Valley, has been named editor of News and Views, home economics magazine.

Other new staff members are: Barbara Bollinger, assistant to the editor; Lenore Hamilton, managing editor; Patricia Roth, associate editor; Alice Morrow, national advertising; Mary Anne Wood, local advertising.

Marilyn Roberts, circulation; Barbara Rittenhouse, business manager; Geraldine Guzik, secretary; Carol Davidson, layout editor; Eileen Loehr, publicity; and Anny Ries, art and features.

The new staff will take over the magazine's operation April 25.

Prof Receives Stanford Post

Dr. Alberta Siegel, assistant professor of child development, has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of psychology at Stanford University for the 1957-58 academic year.

She will teach courses in child psychology, adolescent psychology and human development there while on leave from the University.

Dr. Siegel currently is working on a study of methodology in research on personality and social behavior in young children. This work is supported by a $6000 fellowship grant from the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund of Chicago, a foundation which supports research in human development.

Dr. Siegel's husband, Dr. Sidney Siegel, associate professor of psychology, has been named a fellow of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences for the 1957-58 academic year.

Well—Hello!

Yes, it's me and I'm in love again... well, not really, the truth is that it's me (Brunhilda, typical college coed) and I'm back again with a few helpful hints for coeds, or is it helpful hints for helpful coeds? Anyhow, like it says in the little booklet we coeds received before coming to this institution of learning.

Since the main topic of conversation on campus is Easter vacation we'll talk about Easter vacation.

Also, since most coeds will be doing the town during this vacation, here's a helpful hint.

Did you know that Simons has the perfect shoe to add dash and excitement to your Easter outfit? Slick black patents that just go with EVERYTHING, plus the ever popular navy blue calf. Simons also has shoes in beige and white for the lucky lovelies who are spending their Easter in Florida or Bermuda. Smart, smart shoes with pointed toes and tapered heels that make your feet look eensy weensy.

Don't get stuck trying to pick out a pair of shoes from what's-left-over-at-home-by-the-time-you-get-there. Stop in Simons today and look over their complete selection. Stunning Mannequins, Mademoiselles, Debs, Town & Country plus many more. Exclusively at...
