

Sigma Nu Wins IM Mat Title

Compiles 110 Points to Nip Chi Phi, DU

By LES POWELL

Sigma Nu, finishing with one champion in three finalists, nosed out defending champ Chi Phi, 110-106, to capture team laurels for the 1957 intramural wrestling tournament.

Rox Carl emerged the hero, scoring Sigma Nu's lone victory to enable his club to outscore Chi Phi, Delta Upsilon (86 points) and Lambda Chi Alpha (84).

Carl copped his all-important win by out-grappling Sigma Chi's Rich Boggs, 3-0, for the 165-pound crown. The Sigma Nu matman scored a first-period takedown and a time advantage to account for the points.

The independent attraction was 135-pounder Don McCreary's 50-second pin over Al Larson. McCreary followed a takedown with a cradle to show Larson the lights in the fastest time of the evening.

Chi Phi's Phil Sieg, last year's 175-pound king, squeezed out a 4-3 decision over DU's Gove Elder to clinch the runner-up spot for his team. Sieg got off to a 3-0 advantage with a takedown and a point for an illegal hold by Elder. Elder staged a belated surge in the third period, racking up an escape and a takedown, but Sieg held a time advantage.

Tom Williams, Delta Theta Sigma 135-pounder, pulled a mild upset over Acacia's Jim Hart, 1956 128-pound victor. Williams, in winning by a 5-1 count, proved too strong for the game "Little Bipper" of Acacia.

DU's Jack Stewart, indie 135-pounder, added his second championship with a 5-0 win over Sigma Nu's Jim McLaughlin. A takedown, reverse and time advantage turned the trick.

Bob Wenner, Pi Kappa Phi,

edged Woody Griffiths of Sigma Nu, 2-0, on the strength of a third-period escape and riding time.

Lambda Chi's Dick King scored one of the night's numerous falls, pinning Chi Phi's Fred Simpson at 3:48. King had gotten off to a 5-1 lead on a takedown, predicament and reverse.

Indie Bob Kasubick pinned Sam Fry at 5:46 to take the 165-pound title. Kasubick held a 9-2 bulge when he floored his opponent.

Chi Phi's Marty Bollinger employed an inside crotch and body press to pin Hal Lynch, Sigma Phi Epsilon, at 4:30 of the 121-pound title bout.

Jack Frey, Beta Theta Pi 155-pounder, used a cradle to stretch Phi Kappa Psi's Neil Gearhart at the 4:41 mark.

A second-period escape and riding time gave independent 155-pound grappler Fred Bridge a 2-0 decision over Fred Tener.

Indie heavyweight Scott Bomberger came up with a double arm bar and body press to gain a fall over Art Stein at the 4:17 mark.

Dave Patterson won the independent 128-pound championship with a lopsided 9-2 triumph over Al Gordon. Patterson tallied two takedowns, an escape, near fall, time advantage, and added another point on an illegal hold.

Terry Snyder captured indie 145-pound laurels with a 5-4 victory over Glen Klippenstein.

Nittany Gridders In Blue-White Game Today

Head Coach Rip Engle takes a neutral seat on the 50-yard line at 2 this afternoon while he casts a critical eye on his 1957 Lion grid hopefuls during the annual Blue-White game at Beaver Field.

The game is the highlight of the football spring practice sessions and is intended to give Engle a better idea of what he will have to work with come the fall and another football season.

The contest usually puts the closing wrappers on spring workouts, but, due to the poor weather conditions, Engle will practice his squad both Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Several of the Lion practices were cancelled because of poor weather and Engle feels that the club can use the additional days.

The old football plague—injuries—have dampened the outlook for the game during the past week. Seven gridders—guard Richie McMillen, ends Andy Stynchula and Norm Neff, center Earl Koulhass and backs Ed Caye, George Watson and Pete Tenerare are not expected to play. Pat Botula, a promising sophomore back, is on the doubtful list.

McMillen, Stynchula and Caye were all listed as game starters, while Botula, Koulhass and Neff were on second teams. McMillen is being counted on to take up the slack at guard.

With Engle standing neutral, his assistants will take over the coaching reins. Frank Patrick, Tor Toretti and Earl Bruce will handle the White squad, with Jim O'Hara, J. T. White and Joe Paterno in command of the Blues.

Engle tried to divide the squads up as evenly as possible. For the Whites, only Les Walters and fullback Maurice Schleicher were consistent starters last season. However, quarterback Bob Scrabis, guard and captain-elect Joe Sabot, center Charlie Ruslavage and halfback Dave Kasperian all saw considerable action in Engle's two-platoon system.

In the Blue lineup, quarterback Al Jacks, fullback Emil Caprara, halfback Bruce Gilmore, center Steve Garban, tackle Bill Wehmer, and end Romeo Pannozzo are the experienced veterans.

Engle expressed some disappointment in the progress of this year's spring drills. "Between late classes and the weather," he said, "spring practice was not as successful as I thought it might be. "We've got a lot of willing kids out," he said, "but we don't have a football team picked by any means."

Two experienced Lion players will be missing from the game tomorrow. End Jack Farls and halfback Andy Mocoyni ran into academic difficulty last semester and were dropped from school for the spring term.

However, the addition of veterans Jerry Summerly and Pete Shopa is expected to soften the blow somewhat. Taking everything into consideration, prospects are bright for another successful year.

The lineups:

WHITE	POS	BLUE
Walters	LE	Pannozzo
Urban	LT	Wehmer
Sabot	LG	Stellatella
Ruslavage	C	Garban
Smith	RG	Fottion
Summerly	RT	Bohart
Graham	RE	Murphy
Scrabis	QB	Jacks
Kasperian	LHB	Gilmore
McEachern	RHB	Paolone
Schleicher	FB	Caprara
