STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 16, 1957

FIVE CENTS

Goin' Fishin'

YOUNG FISHERMAN Larry Kerstetter was determined to catch a trout on the first day of fishing season. Larry is the 7-year-old son of Walter Kerstetter, employed by the Nittany Printing Company to operate the presses that print The Daily Collegian. Larry and his father were fishing on Spring Creek yesterday. Thousands of fishermen flocked to the streams.

Coed's Form Hits Ag Senior's Eye

John Thornton, a senior in agricultural journalism from Lehigh, has an eye for feminine form.

Thornton, in a note left in The Daily Collegian office yesterday, criticized the form of the coed on the May cover of Froth . . . that is, her archery form.

"For one thing," Thornton said, "that arrow is on the wrong side of the bow for a right-handed archer. For another, there are too many fingers on the string. Thirdly, the quiver is on backwards."

Who else noticed her form? Archery form, that is!

Road Construction May Delay Travel

Two road construction projects and a 20-mile detour on main east-west highways will delay many students driving home today and tomorrow for the spring recess.

Although the spring recess does not officially begin until 11:50 a.m. tomorrow, many students have already left campus or will do so today. Clear, dry weather is predicted for today.

The 20-mile detour is to the east, between Mifflintown and Liverpool, where Route 322 is blocked by construction. Traffic is being maintained over another construction project on Route 322, about 20 miles west of Harrisburg.

Rt. 22 Construction

A short stretch of Route 22 outside of Pittsburgh is under construction, but traffic is also being maintained there.

This will be the last edition of Collegian until the Thursday after vacation.

Residence halls will close at 5 p.m. tomorrow and will re-open at 1 p.m. Tuesday. The last meal served in residence dining halls will be lunch tomorrow. The first meal served following vacation will be lunch Wednesday, April 24.

Temporary accommodations in Pollock Circle will be provided for men students living in residence halls who must remain on campus.

The Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel will close at 5 p.m. tomorrow, and will re-open at 8 a.m. next Wednesday.

Library to Be Open

During the vacation, the Fred Lewis Pattee Library will observe the following hours: tomorrow, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon; Sunday, closed; Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The Hetzel Union Building will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the vacation except Sunday, when it will be closed.

The Terrace Room in the Hetzel Union Building will close at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow, and open again at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The Lions Den will close at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow and will re-open at noon next Wednesday.

Lion Dejected Despite Spring

The spring-like weather predicted for today could do little to raise the spirits of the dejected Nittany Lion this morning.

The Lion was disappointed at not being asked to throw out the first ball of the 1957 baseball season. He had told the den crowd that he was sure to be asked because he "obviously will soon be number one in the country," and he assumed that the "baseball people would want to get on his side in the beginning, thereby assuring the continued uninterrupted progress of the national pastime."

Despite the blow to his pride, the Lion took time off to predict increasing cloudiness and rising temperatures for today. The high should be about 56.

Walker Will Confer With Ike at Capital

University president Eric A. Walker will meet with President Dwight D. Eisenhower at 10:30 a.m. today in the White House to plan a 3-day conference on technical distribution research.

Eisenhower last month appointed Dr. Walker general chairman of the conference. The conference is for the benefit of small business and will be held in Washington early in the fall.

Assisting Dr. Walker will be two deputy chairmen. Dr. Charles N. Kimball, president of Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City, Mo., will organize the part of the conference devoted to research in product development.

Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publications Inc., New York City, will organize the conference program on research distribution.

Weeks and Barnes Aid

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Small Business Administrator Wendell B. Barnes are cooperating in planning the conference.

The conference was recommended by the Cabinet Committee on Small Business in its first progress report. It will seek to carry out the President's objective of widening the opportunities for small business through research on product development and marketing. Outstanding specialists from industry, education and government will participate.

To Include Special Analysis

The conference program will include special analyses by research experts of practical value to small firms and will provide for discussion by small groups and by the conference as a whole.

The initial report by the Cabinet Committee on Small Business suggested a conference date early this year, but the date was set for the fall to provide time for a thorough exploration of research needs of small business and for adequate preparation of material for use at the sessions.

Auto Accidents Over Weekend Involve Four

Three students and a professor were involved in automobile accidents over the weekend, including a hit-and-run crash.

Police are looking for a 1949 to 1951 model red convertible coupe which collided with two cars Saturday afternoon at the corner of Beaver Ave. and S. Allen St.

The hit-and-run car struck vehicles driven by Donald Fought, senior in aeronautical engineering from Mechanicsburg, and Charles Carabell, junior in business administration from Oil City. Neither of the students were injured.

Damages to a car driven by Milton Burchett, senior in meteorology from Ft. Thomas, Kentucky, were estimated at $100. The automobile was involved in a rear-end collision with a car driven by George W. Grubb, Bellefonte, Saturday night. Grubb was charged with reckless driving.

Damages to a parked car owned by Bertil G. Anderson, professor of zoology, were estimated at $75 after it was struck by a car driven by Richard Weber, State College, on N. Atherton St. Sunday night. Weber, who told State College police he lost control of his car while wiping cigarette ashes from his eyes, will be charged with reckless driving.

Wood Noncommittal On University Aid

Chairman Norman Wood (R.-Lancaster) of the House Appropriations Committee said yesterday that he could not say at this time what the chances are for the University's receiving the additional $6 million in state funds sought by President Eric A. Walker.

Wood, April 8 introduced a bill in the House allocating $33,849,000 to the University for the 1957-59 biennium. The bill represents a $6,135,000 increase over the $27,713,400 recommended by Gov. George M. Leader in his budget message.

Wood, in a telephone interview with The Daily Collegian, said he expected his bill to come before the House "between the middle of May and the first of June" along with other appropriations in the general appropriations bill.

Will Work Until May

He said, in essence, that his committee, which expects to be working until the first of May, will have to look things over to see if the money is available for the University increase.

Wood, when he introduced the bill, told the Associated Press that Rep. H. G. Andrews (D.-Cambria), would co-sponsor the bill with him. Wood and Andrews are leading figures in the House.

Finds Support Elsewhere

Meanwhile, the University's request for more funds has picked up support elsewhere.

The State Council of Farm Organizations has thrown its support behind increasing the University's budget. The council represents 35 statewide farm organizations.

The council, according to the Associated Press, hinged its support to needs of the University in the agricultural field.

Need for Salary Increases

Wood, although a farmer himself, has based his reasons for the proposed increase on need for faculty salary increases. This is what Dr. Walker has used for his main argument for the increased appropriation.

The farm council, in backing the University's request for more funds, noted the services the College of Agriculture provides. The council listed these as:

- Resident instruction — Provide a program for education in the college to increase competence of individuals in the field.
- Agricultural research — Maintain an Agricultural Experimental Station for investigating and solving agricultural problems.

● Agricultural and Home Economics Extension service — Provide farm information and service to some 16,000 persons across the state.

The College of Agriculture, according to the Associated Press, has asked $8,894,000 in new buildings during the 1957-59 biennium, beginning July 1. The largest project would be a $3 million biology building to house the Departments of Bacteriology, Zoology and Entomology.

The second largest project would be a $2.5 million animal industries building to house the Departments of Animal Husbandry, Animal Nutrition and Veterinary Science.

The deficiency bill was passed on a voice vote and sent to the Senate, which may act on it tomorrow.

Post offices throughout the country were closed to the public Saturday, and Saturday deliveries suspended.

C of C Advocates Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—An $800-million cut in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program was advocated today by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

A chamber spokesman recommended to a special Senate committee that foreign aid appropriations be held to $3,800,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1 and that the whole program be placed on a "longer range" basis.

Many members of Congress are proposing cuts a good deal deeper than the $800 million.

Hussein Purges Jordan Leaders

AMMAN, Jordan, April 15 (AP)—Young King Hussein, backed by tough Bedouin fighters of the Arab Legion, won today in his struggle to give Jordan a moderate government purged of Communist and extremists.

Dr. Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, 61-year-old Palestinian refugee who has shown leanings toward the West, was named prime minister in a seven-man Cabinet.

His appointment ended a six-day crisis set off by Hussein's ouster of Prime Minister Suleiman Nabulsi, a moderate Leftist who headed the powerful National Socialist party. Nabulsi is included in the new Cabinet as a concession to the party.

Hussein emerged from the crisis with greater stature than ever. The 21-year-old King was ruling through virtual martial law.
