

Trackmen Lose Twice; Perry Sets Lion Mark

By LOU PRATO

The failure to pick up enough points in the second and third place positions cost Penn State's trackmen two meets over the Easter recess.

In a triangular season opener at Annapolis Saturday, the Lions—with a 45½ score—finished behind Villanova, 59, and Navy, 57½. Tuesday the Nittanies lost to the Quantico Marines, 69½-61½, in a dual encounter at Quantico.

However, the Lions found a little consolation in the record-breaking performance of captain Rod Perry. The senior ace ran the 120-high hurdles in :14 flat in the Quantico duel to snap the old school mark of :14.1 set by Bill Youkers in 1955.

Coach Chick Werner's proteges won five first places in the triangular meet—three less than Villanova but two more than Navy—but finished third because of Navy's superior effort in the runner-up spots.

The Middies copped eight seconds and five thirds while the Lions won four seconds and seven thirds. Villanova, regarded by many track experts as the top team in the East, had three seconds and four thirds.

The Lions outscored the Leathernecks, 9-6, in first place finishes but were edged, 11-5, and 8-5, in second and third place results.

Perry was a double winner in the Quantico meet with a :23.4 first place in the 220-low hurdles. He also won the low hur-

Frosh Cindermen Topped By Navy Plebes, 91-40

The Lions' yearling track squad was routed, 91-40, in their outdoor debut Friday at Annapolis.

Lanky Dick Engelbrink was Penn State's only double winner of the afternoon. He won the mile in 4:24.5, :10 ahead of teammate Joe Thompson, and the 880 in 1:57, :03.5 ahead of Bob Hight of Navy.

Tyrone's Dick Hambricht and Ridley Park's Andy Nyce were the only other winners for the Lions. Hambricht took the 440 in :50.3 and placed third in the 220 in :23. Nyce won the discus with a heave of 139' 5½" and placed second in the shot with a 39' 11" toss.

Dick Gross captured the Lions' only other second places with a 21' 1" leap in the broad jump and a 12' effort in the pole vault.

Jack Williams, Pete Kopcsak, Paul Sweetland, Dick Campbell, Bob Waldo and George Jones each took a third place for Norm Gordon's cindermen.

The Nittany mile relay team of Jones, Englebrink, Jim O'Connor and Hambricht was shaded by :00.1 by the Plebes in 3:29.1.

The Lions were shut out in the 100-yard dash, the 120 high hurdles and the javelin throw.

Harvey Avid Fisherman

George Harvey, Penn State's fly tying and fly casting expert, is an avid fisherman. He was on the streams for the opening of the Pennsylvania trout fishing season for the 40th consecutive year.

Golfers Score Two Wins Over Recess

Penn State's golfers added a pair of eggs to Coach Joe Boyle's Easter basket with victories over Maryland and West Point last Thursday and Saturday.

The Lion linksmen topped the Terrapins, 19-11, in a combination match and best-ball meeting, and won six matches from the Cadets to record a 6-1 triumph.

A 9-0 margin in best-ball play enabled the Lions to beat the Maryland golfers, who held an 11-10 match edge. The Terps got off to a 6-0 lead when Jerry McFerrer and Bob Hogg swept their match with Pat Rielly and John Boyanowski. The Lion duo came back for a win and three points in the best-ball column.

John Branish and Bill Davidson put Penn State ahead to stay by defeating Marty Parks and Dick Mason. A 4½-1½ match win and a 3-0 decision in best-ball play gave the Lions a 10½-7½ lead.

Bob Bainbridge and John Felus put the match on ice with a near sweep over the Terps' Harry Elwell and Dwight Mock. They scored three points in best-ball play and 5½ match points to hand Boyle's boys an insurmountable 19-18 bulge.

In the final match, Maryland's Roger Coonrod registered a 3-0 triumph over Lion Dave Myerson.

Felus and Rielly shone brilliantly for the Penn State golfers in the Cadet match. Felus fired a the Lions' lowest round of the season, a 67, while Rielly was right behind his teammate with a 69.

Branish shot a 72 but was the only Lion loser, dropping a heart-breaking 1-up decision to Cadet Bill Parks in 19 holes. Parks also tallied 72 for the regulation 18-hole distance.

Rielly's effort was good enough to trounce Army's Chicco Stone, 6 and 4, in the opening match.

Boyanowski followed Rielly with a 4 and 3 decision over the Cadets' John Abernathy. The Lion star came in with a 73 score.

Davidson nosed out Army's Art Mace, 1-up with a 73-stroke score. Bainbridge edged Cadet Dick Groves, 1-up. Bainbridge fired a 70, while Groves was right on his heels with a 72.

Felus' fine showing carried him to a 4 and 3 triumph over West Point's Harry Shedd. Shedd was eight strokes in back of Felus with a 75 tally.

Dave Myerson climaxed the Lion win with a 3 and 2 decision over John Soper. Myerson shot a 72.

Rod Perry
He set a new record

dles in the Annapolis affair with a :24.4 time, but had to share high hurdle honors in that meet with teammate Dick Winston. Their time was :14.3.

Perry and Winston were the big guns in both meets. Perry added a few points in the Marine meet with a third in the shot put while Winston sparkled in the broad jump of both meets with two first place jumps. He leaped 21'9½" in the triangular test and 21'8" in the dual meet.

According to Werner, Ed Moran, Chuck King, Fred Kerr and Bob Parker were also outstanding in the Quantico meet while John Tullar joined Perry and Winston as stars in the triangular run.

Moran won the Quantico mile in 4:16.1 and King was fourth. However, Werner said that King's performance was 10 seconds better than he had ever done before. King's time was 4:23.7.

Kerr won the two mile run at Quantico in 9:35 while Parker copped the high jump with a 6'3" leap. Tullar won the discus against the Marines with a throw of 156' 11".

Penn State's other first place in the triangular meet was in a special shuttle hurdle relay.

Moran added a second first place in the 880 against Quantico while Penn State's other first place was won by Dick Coats in the javelin. Moran's time was 1:56.4 and Coats' throw was 176' 10".
