General Fun, Confusion To Prevail in 'Teahouse'

Japanese wrestling matches, oriental tea ceremonies and the general comedy and confusion of the play "The Teahouse of the August Moon," adapted by John Patrick from the novel by John Sneider, will be presented Mother's Day Weekend by Players.

Music will be used from the original stage play, which received the 1953-54 Critics Circle Award and the 1954 Pulitzer Prize for the best play of the year.

Cast members, according to the director, Robert Reifsnider, assistant professor of theatre arts, are Harry Jones, Sakini; Sheldon Odland, MacLean; Gilbert Aberg, Col. Purdy; George Vlachos, Capt. Fisby; Bruce Mackey, Gregovitch; Julia Lee, Lotus Blossom; Charlene Wong, Miss Higa Jiga; Lowell Solmon, Mr. Hokaida; Terrance Quinn, Mr. Omura; Frederick Mayers, Mr. Sumata; Joseph Servello, Mr. Seiko; Dennis Castelli, Mr. Keora; Robert Levitt, Mr. Oshio.

Property problems also exist since the play calls for highly embroidered Japanese costumes, cricket cages, a jeep and a live goat.

UCA Offers Students Posts on Commission
 Students may apply for positions on the University Christian Association Worship Commission by contacting Jean Watts in 418 Atherton.
 The commission meets at 6:30 p.m. on Mondays in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel.
 The "Teahouse" production has

Baer--

 plastics, Baer said: "It's my hobby. I enjoy fooling around with plastic."

Baer said that he is constantly seeking ways to improve athletic equipment to enhance player comfort and safety and to effect economies.

He believes that there is a need for people to find new athletic equipment and that coaches have many ideas for improvements but lack a way of getting them across to manufacturers. He said that there is a need to improve communications between the coach and the manufacturer.

With ambitious men such as Earnie Baer in the coaching game, this communication improvement will probably come about. If Baer has anything to do with it, you can be assured that efforts will be made in that direction—he's already taken steps to do so.

'Guys and Dolls' Party

A party for the cast and crews of "Guys and Dolls" will be held tomorrow night at Phi Sigma Delta fraternity. A 50-cent donation is requested.

The custom of wearing bridal veils was originated with the Greeks.
