

Modern Color Schemes To Brighten New Dorms

Interior painting in the new women's residence halls, scheduled for completion in two of the halls within four weeks, will be modern in every respect, including a bright color scheme which will vary from wall to wall and from room to room.

The long hallways will have yellow walls broken at intervals by alternate door frame colors. The door frame colors will include blue, beige, grey, green, light red and tan.

The living rooms will all have three walls done in beige while the color of the window walls will be different from room to room. Some will be light red, some tan and other deep blue and green.

Shellac Applied

Furniture has already been placed in the living rooms. One coat of shellac has been applied to the pieces, and another coat of shellac and one of varnish will be applied within three weeks.

The shellac and varnish are clear so as to preserve the natural color of the wood to conform to the modern scheme of the new buildings.

The bathrooms, which are nearing completion, will be painted yellow. They contain both shower stalls and bathtubs, enclosed by marble walls.

Modern Trend Used

The painting throughout the building is being done right on the construction block, a practice which painting foreman William H. Jones described as the modern trend in campus buildings.

A prime coat was applied to blocks seven to eight weeks ago. An undercoat is placed over this and then a finish coat.

The G. T. Beckstrom Co. of Baltimore, Md., is doing the painting.

Wiring is about finished in the two buildings scheduled for fall completion and installation of asphalt tiling will begin next week, according to the construction foreman.

Regular tiling will be placed on the floors and acoustic tiling on the hall ceilings.
