

Ah---Fame!

—Daily Collegian Photo by Bob Thompson

P.S. TROUBADOR warily regards spectators from his colorfully decorated wagon as he rides in last night's Little International parade.

117 Will Compete In Livestock Show

By CAROLE GIBSON

The ability of 117 students to groom and show animals will be demonstrated at the Little International Livestock Show today.

The judging, which will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the livestock pavillion will be climaxed by an awards banquet at 7 p.m. in the Nittany Lion Inn. Tickets for the banquet are $2.50.

Besides the judging of the four divisions of sheep, cattle, swine and horses there will be special events and demonstrations in the afternoon. PS Troubadour will be on exhibition at 3:45.

Riding Skill Tested

Those who want to test their riding skill may enter the barrel riding contest. The contestants try to stick to a saddle mounted on a barrel while students pull on ropes attached to the four corners of the barrel.

A six pony team belonging to the Pepsi-Cola company will also participate. The team will draw a cart.

A team of two oxen from the Acadia Farms, Northfield, Ohio, and a six horse Belgium team from the Menzie Dairy were both loaned for the show.

Carroll S. Shaffner, University shepherd, will demonstrate the herding abilities of his Border Collies at 4:30, and at 2:45 his

(Continued on page eight)

Tax Seen Key To Budget Hike

Rep. Robert H. Breon Jr. (R-Centre) and Sen. Jo Hays (D-Centre and Clearfield) agreed yesterday that an increase in the University's appropriation must be accompanied by a tax levy of some sort.

Breon said he would support any appropriation recommended by the Joint House-Senate Committee so long as it conforms to the limitations of the present tax program. He added that he does not see where the Legislature will get the money to support a higher increase in the University's appropriation.

Breon said he was surprised by Hays' Tuesday proposal to raise the appropriation from the House's figure of $33,849,000 to $35,129,000. Gov. George M. Leader originally recommended a figure of $27,713,000.

Traffic Tallies for Survey Will Be Aired Monday

The field traffic counts for the campus parking and traffic survey—including the use of 28 automatic counters borrowed from the State Highways Department—will be discussed at an open meeting Monday.

The meeting, which will be open to the public, will be held at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of Old Main. Representatives from student groups and administrative officials will attend.

Calvin G. Reen, professor of civil engineering, who is directing the survey, will explain the field work, which is tentatively scheduled for May 13 through 17.

The automatic traffic counters, which the highways department has loaned to the University for the survey, are scheduled to be placed at 14 locations on campus roads during the week.

Cars to Trip Counter

Vehicles running over a pneumatic tube in the street will trip a mechanism in the counter, which will be located at the curb.

The counters will record hourly totals on tapes of the vehicles passing in each direction from 3:30 a.m. Monday, May 13, to 5:30 a.m. Friday, May 17.

About 125 students, physical plant staff members and Civil Engineering Department faculty members are scheduled to conduct a count of vehicular traffic on May 13, except in the case of unfavorable weather.

A similar count of campus pedestrian traffic is planned for May 17.

Sponsored by University

The survey is being conducted under the auspices of the University's parking and traffic committee, headed by Walter H. Wiegand, director of the physical plant.

Wiegand has said he believes the survey could lead to the alleviation of campus parking congestion within two years and the development of a long-range solution to the problem within five years.

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 57, No. 130 STATE COLLEGE, PA., SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1957 FIVE CENTS

Carnival to Open Tuesday; Miss PSU Coronation Set

Miss Pennsylvania To Crown Winner

Miss Pennsylvania, Lorna Ringler, will crown Miss Penn State at the Spring Week Coronation ceremony at 8 p.m. Monday in Recreation Hall.

The five finalists for Miss Penn State and their sponsors are Joan Kassing, junior in arts and letters from Bridgeville, Alpha Xi Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha; Barbara Kinnier, junior in education from Danboro, Beta Sigma Rho and Alpha Epsilon Phi; Ann McKnight, junior in education from Pittsburgh, Phi Kappa Sigma and Chi Omega; Anne Nitrauer, junior in education from Stroudsburg, Sigma Alpha Mu and Upper Class Independent Women; and Sally Lou Rolston, junior in education from Harrisburg, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Doyle to Conduct

Richard Doyle, junior in business administration from Penn-del, will act as master of ceremonies at the Coronation. The 28 entrants in the Miss Penn State contest will form an honor line through which the winner will walk up to the stage.

A motorcade carrying the five finalists, the 10 He-man finalists, and the judges will precede the Coronation.

The parade will start at 6 p.m. at Forestry Building, proceed along Shortridge Rd. to College Ave. and continue along College Ave. to Burrows Rd. It will then turn left on Burrows Rd. and disband at Recreation Hall.

Guests Named

Besides Miss Ringler, the others invited to judge the Coronation are Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the College of Agriculture; Dr. Ossian R. MacKenzie, dean of the College of Business Administration; Dr. Ferdinand G. Brickwedde, dean of the College of Chemistry and Physics; Dr. John R. Rackley, dean of the College of Education; Dr. Merritt A. Williamson, dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture.

Dr. Grace M. Henderson, dean of the College of Home Economics; Dr. Ben Euwema, dean of the College of the Liberal Arts; Dr. Elbert F. Osborn, dean of the College of Mineral Industries; Ernest B. McCoy, dean of the College of Physical Education and Athletics; and Dr. Har-

(Continued on page eight)

Lion Predicts Warm Weather

The Nittany Lion this morning issued a forecast for continued warm and humid weather.

The Lion was in especially high spirits this morning, as he sported a colorful black and green hat on his bushy head.

Closer inspection revealed that the Lion's new headpiece symbolized his tapping by the newest campus hat society, the Green Gargoyle. Green Gargoyle officials later revealed that candidates for the new society need not have any activity points, but must be "good fellows who aspire to no high campus positions, but rather, who champion the cause of the campus nondescript."

Today's forecast calls for continued high temperatures and high humidity, with thunderstorms probable this afternoon. The high should be about 80.

Booth Construction To Begin Monday

Fraternities, sororities and independent groups will begin construction on their booths at 1 p.m. Monday at the south-east corner of the Golf Course in preparation for the Spring Week Carnival on Tuesday night.

Groups may continue construction Monday and Tuesday until the time the Carnival opens at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. However, vehicles will not be permitted at the Carnival site after 3 p.m. Tuesday.

All booth areas will be marked off Sunday and groups may find out where they belong then.

No more than $50 may be spent for construction of booths, according to John Valentine, Carnival chairman. He emphasized that all receipts should be saved in the event booth expense is questioned.

Electrical Connections

Electrical sockets and connections will be available for each booth to use. However, Valentine said, groups must supply their own lights. No public address systems will be permitted outside the booths at the Carnival site. Each organization will be responsible for an adequate fire extinguisher at their booth site at all times.

Any type of publicity involving use of persons, automobiles or musical instruments will be limited between noon and 1 p.m. the day of Carnival. Violations of publicity rules will result in loss of points, the number to be determined by the Spring Week Committee, Valentine said.

Deposits Returned

The Carnival will be held from 6:30 to 11 p.m. Tuesday. After the Carnival is over groups will have until midnight to take down their booths and clean up the area. Six women from each group have been given 12 o'clock permissions by the Dean of Women's office to help.

Deposits will be returned to the organizations within a few days after the Carnival. Each group gave a $20 deposit to insure that they clean up their booth area. Any amount that the Carnival committee must spend to have the area cleaned will be deducted from the $20.

Tower Chimes 'Ring In' DST 1 Day Early

Daylight Saving Time isn't scheduled to begin until tomorrow, but the chimes in the tower of Old Main, affected by unseasonal warm weather, "jumped the gun" to ring an hour early yesterday morning.

Scheduled to go on at 8 a.m., the chimes, because of a slip in the mechanism, began ringing an hour earlier, prematurely waking at least one borough resident, who phoned the University's utilities division to register a mild complaint.

Even though the chimes feel differently, Daylight Saving Time will begin at 2 a.m. tomorrow. For those still up at that time, clocks in Centre County municipalities, including State College, should be set ahead one hour, to 3 a.m.

Most of the county will revert to Eastern Standard Time on Sept. 29, but the borough will remain on DST until Oct. 27, partly to accommodate some University functions, particularly football games.

The "premature" chimes were off-schedule all yesterday morning, until they were adjusted by H. E. Byers, assistant to the head of the utilities division.

The chimes are controlled by a clock mechanism involving a set of disks. The disks revolve and activate the chimes at quarter-hour intervals. Part of the time yesterday, the slipped disks caused the chimes to strike a full hour and a quarter ahead.

Hussein Launches War To Rid Jordan of Reds

AMMAN, Jordan, April 26 (AP)—King Hussein placed Jordan under a military governor today and launched a determined war against the Communists in his kingdom.

The Arab Legion, the King's loyal and predominantly Bedouin army, began a roundup of Communists, left-wing leaders and extreme nationalists, in an attempt to snuff out the Red influence which has helped keep this nation in seething ferment.

Hussein's new premier, 69-year-old Ibrahim Hashem, called in the ambassadors of neighboring Arab states and informed them of the developments which have been rocking Jordan for nearly three weeks.

Wins Temporary Victory

The 21-year-old King, winner of at least a temporary victory in the second round of a struggle for his throne, left little doubt in any of the Arab leaders' minds that he considers his primary job at this time to be the crushing of any further attempts at Communist penetration.

As military governor for the whole country, the King named his new defense minister, Suleiman Toukan, who will wield enormous power.

This step followed a declaration of martial law yesterday and imposition of virtually total curfew upon Jordan's main cities—Amman, the capital; the Old City of Jerusalem, Nablus, Ramallah and Irbid in Palestinian Jordan, the latter near the Syrian frontier.

Revolutionists Jailed

In Syria, unconfirmed Damascus reports said nationalist former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi, whom Hussein sacked two weeks ago, was under house arrest, and more than 60 members of the "free officers" group had been jailed. The "free officers," patterned themselves on the Egyptian Revolutionary Council, opposed Hussein. Because of Syria's direct interest in Jordanian events, such reports had to be received with reservations.