

67 Delegates Selected To Attend Encampment

The names of students chosen to attend the sixth annual Student Encampment Sept. 4 to 7 at the Mont Alto Forestry School have been released by Harry Martini, encampment committee chairman.

One of the originally scheduled workshops, the Student Placement and Employment Workshop, has been dropped.

Sr. Board To Select Gift Ideas

The Senior Class Advisory Board will meet at 7:30 tonight in 218 Hetzel Union to select six suggestions for the class gift.

A sum of $10,000 has been set aside for the gift.

Suggestion boxes which were located at various places on campus will be opened for the first time shortly before the meeting. Joseph Harnett, class president, said that all suggestions will be carefully weighed for their merit.

Last Year's Gift

Last year's class gift was an ambulance for the University Hospital. The ambulance, due to arrive late this spring, was selected by seniors from five other suggestions.

These suggestions were a cabin for the Beaver Dam project, a book collection for the Fred Lewis Patte Library, a women's recreation area near Simmons and McElwain residence halls, furnishings for the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Memorial Chapel and an art collection for use in the HUB.

Seniors to Vote

Seniors will vote on the suggestions when they pick up their copies of LaVie at the HUB desk. This date has not yet been set.

In other business, Harnett will present a resume of all senior activities, including graduation, from now until the end of the semester. Final reports from committees for the Senior Ball will also be heard.

Phi Eta Sigma to Hold Pledge Meeting Tonight

Pledge nights for Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary scholarship fraternity, will be held tonight and tomorrow night, from 7 to 9 p.m. in 301 Sparks.

Pledges have been asked to bring a $15 initiation fee.

Skulls, Cat, Stolen From MI Museum

Two human skulls and a mounted skeleton of a cat, together valued at $100, were stolen sometime over the weekend from a display case in Mineral Industries Building.

The theft occurred between 7 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday and was discovered by a campus patrolman during a routine check.

David Snell, curator of the Mineral Industries museum, yesterday said other undetermined items may have been taken but this was not definite, as all material in the case was not catalogued.

Part of Geology Exhibit

The case from which the specimens were taken is a part of the geology exhibit on the first floor of the building. The door of the case was pried open, breaking the lock.

Captain Phillip A. Mark, of the campus patrol, said the theft was probably the work of pranksters. He said several checks are being made to locate the specimens.

Dr. John D. Ridge, assistant dean of the College of Mineral Industries, yesterday urged that if the specimens were taken as a prank that they be returned to University authorities.

Possible Theft at MI Camp

Ridge also said that the department is investigating possible theft at the Mineral Industries summer camp in Stone Valley where a building was entered by breaking a window and forcing a door lock.

He said a preliminary check showed no missing articles but a more thorough examination will be made this week. The broken window was discovered Monday by the camp caretaker.

5 Students Fined By Traffic Court

Five students were fined a total of $26 by Traffic Court Monday night.

Traffic violations accounted for $20, failure to register automobiles for $5 and failure to report to the Campus Patrol office within the next complete school day for $1.

Four students had a total of $12 in fines suspended. Two students failed to appear before traffic court and lost their right to appeal. They were automatically fined $4.

There are ten times as many miles of surfaced highways in the United States as there are miles of railroad tracks.

9th Reading Festival To Begin Tomorrow

The ninth annual Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading Festival, sponsored by the Department of Speech, will be held here tomorrow and Friday.

Students from 12 colleges and universities, including seven students from the University, will participate in readings of prose narrative, poetry, short poems and drama during the 2-day festival.

The festival was developed to give students an opportunity to share aesthetic experiences and to perform before large audiences without competing. The festival places emphasis on sharing literature.

No Awarding of Prizes

The event is non-competitive and no speaking contests will be held. There will be no judging and no awarding of prizes, trophies or ratings.

The poetry sessions will be held in the reading room of the Hetzel Union Building. Sessions for prose, narrative and drama will be held in the Mineral Sciences auditorium. All sessions during the two days are open to the public.

University students participating in the reading sessions are John Wellen, senior in arts and letters from Pittsburgh; Patricia Doll, senior in arts and letters from York; Jon Wilder, sophomore in arts and letters from State College; Joyce Basch, freshman in arts and letters from Scranton.

Others Participating

Gerald Denisof, senior in theatre arts from Philadelphia; Carol Leveton, sophomore in education from Pittsburgh; and Bernard Robbins, junior in arts and letters from Greenville.

The festival will end with a banquet Friday. Eleanor Horan, senior in arts and letters from Frackville, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Mildred T. Evanson, associate professor of drama and speech at Catham College, will speak on "Interpretation: A Cross-View of the Arts."

Festival chairmen are Mrs. Harriet D. Nesbitt and Dr. William W. Hamilton, assistant professors of speech.

More than one-third of the entire population of Arizona resides within a 30-mile radius of Phoenix.

Addition Set In Poultry Research

Poultry research will be expanded at the University upon completion of an addition to the present poultry building scheduled for July 1.

Construction of the addition was started two weeks ago. The new portion will be 80 feet long and 12 feet wide.

Charles A. Lamm, head of the division of building maintenance and operations, said the addition will expand facilities of the present research laboratory and workshop.

Minor Projects Underway

Lamm also said several minor maintenance projects are underway including interior painting in the older part of the infirmary and in Woman's Building. New offices for agricultural economics and agricultural extension are being created in the Weaver Hall Annex Building.

Some minor spring maintenance work is being completed by University employees. Workmen last week began tarring the roof of Mineral Industries Building. The project is scheduled to be finished next week.

Spring Landscaping

Spring landscaping work is progressing rapidly, also. Walter W. Trainer, head of the division of landscape construction and maintenance, said landscaping is being finished this week around the Home Management Buildings and University Hospital.

Trainer reported work is a little behind time due to the present hot weather which followed right after a rainy period.

State Rec Conference Begins Today

Registration will begin today at 10 a.m. for the 10th annual recreation conference of the Pennsylvania Recreation Society.

Approximately 250 people will attend the meetings and workshops.

The theme of the conference, which will continue until Friday, is "A Decade of Recreation Progress in Pennsylvania."

The main speakers at the three-day conference are Paul H. Douglas, Pennsylvania Recreation Council; Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of forests and waters; Milton A. Gabrielson, professor of education at New York University; C. C. Bream, Jr., chief of the recreation division of Veteran's Administration, Washington, D.C.; and Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Luncheon Follows in HUB

A luncheon in Hetzel Union dining room "A" will follow registration today.

A general session will begin at 2 p.m. under the topic "Recreation's Contribution to Physical Fitness."

Afternoon workshops include sections on administration of parks and playground maintenance, puppetry, standards for the training of hospital and institutional recreation personnel and an archery clinic.

Banquet to Be Held

A student-alumni banquet and dinner meeting will follow an afternoon coffee hour.

Tomorrow's general session at 11 p.m. will be followed by a luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. and another general session at 2:15 p.m.

Afternoon workshops will include cooperative planning for regional parks, the hospital and its relation to the community, rifle clubs and firearms safety programs, outdoor cooking and camp skills and student career meeting.

Dinner will begin at 6 p.m. and will be followed by a folk dance festival at 8:30 p.m.

Luncheon Meeting Follows

Friday's general session will begin at 10:45 p.m. and will be followed by a luncheon meeting at 12:30 p.m.

All the meetings are open to the public.
