

Financial Sacrifices Appealed for by Ike

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for financial sacrifices in the struggle for peace, and there were signs he might go to the public with direct appeals in behalf of his $71,800,000,000 budget.

Eisenhower made a special plea for his foreign aid policy in an off-the-cuff speech to the National Council of the League of Women Voters.

A little earlier, a White House meeting with Republican leaders of Congress was reported to have developed a general feeling that the President should appeal to the people, over radio and television, for support of his foreign aid and other programs.

Hagerty Tells Reporters
James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters that Eisenhower "feels a great deal of misrepresentation" has been circulated about his budget and "he is going to point it out." "I would think," Hagerty said, "the President would take the occasion quite frequently to express his opinions from time to time not only on the budget but also on other legislation he has mentioned in his messages to Congress."

Foreign Aid Imperiled
An economy drive in Congress, more persistent than the usual ones that come along every spring, has imperiled much of the President's program, including his plans to spend $4,400,000,000 on foreign aid.

He told the women he would like to see, before he leaves office, an even bigger tax cut than the seven-billion-dollar one the Republicans claimed in 1954.

Attorney Tells Of Quick Profit In Airline Stock

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—A Washington lawyer testified today he got an anonymous telephone tip about a secret government air route decision—and next morning unwittingly bought 400 shares of stock in the airline that benefited.

Attorney Questioned
Robert W. Oliver, a private attorney, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee he ordered—or meant to order—stock last Aug. 3 in Northwest Airlines, and instead got shares in the Northeast Airlines which had been awarded a lucrative New York-Miami route the evening before. This award was not announced until Aug. 10.

Oliver Challenged
Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) presiding at the public hearing, challenged Oliver's story and the broker who handled the transaction said Oliver specifically ordered Northeast stock.

Oliver said he refused to accept a profit of $878.45 on the purchase and subsequent sale of the securities. His broker backed up this statement—and said it was unprecedented in his 28 years in the brokerage business.

Junior Granted Design Award

Roy Vollmer, junior in architecture from Wynnewood, has been awarded the $100 first prize in the annual Summitville Tile Award competition at the University.

The competition, supervised by Phillip Hallock, professor of architecture, was based on the designing of a beach park.

Second prize of $75 was awarded to Carl Kaufman, junior in architecture from Willow Grove; third prize of $50 to James Wehler, junior in architecture from Lemont; and fourth prize of $25 to Robert Breslin, junior in architectural engineering from Bloomington.

The awards were established at the University in 1954 for juniors in architecture or architectural engineering by the Summitville Tiles, Inc., Summitville, Ohio.

Beck Called for Hearing 'Nuclear Bombers' Seen

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Dave Beck, besiged boss of the Teamsters Union, today was directed to appear before the Senate Rackets Committee next Wednesday for further interrogation. The committee said it has "further derogatory evidence" to present concerning Beck.

BONN, Germany, May 1 (AP)—The Civilian chief of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization said today its military planners soon will advise the 15 member nations to equip their forces with nuclear arms.

Britain's Lord Ismay emphasized at a news conference that no member will be forced to accept this service.

Byrd Asks New Budgeteer

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) recommended today that the Eisenhower administration get a new budget director and cut its spending by eight to nine billion dollars next year.

Byrd, the economy-minded chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, denounced the "squandering" of public money.
