

PI Publication Work Exhibited at Library

General catalogues, posters, certificates, bulletins, illustrated booklets and programs, all works of the Department of Public Information, may be seen in the main showcases of the Pattee Library.

Scholarship Award Given To Bloom

Jacqueline Bloom, junior in education from State College, last night was awarded the scholarship medal of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society.

The medal is presented annually to the initiate having the highest scholastic average in the social sciences.

Initiations Held
Miss Bloom was one of 36 students and eight faculty members initiated last night at a banquet.

Dr. E. Willard Miller, professor of geography and president of Pi Gamma Mu, presented the banquet address, "Resources and World Peace."

Faculty members initiated were:

Dr. Ruth W. Ayres, professor of clothing and textiles; Dr. Jean O. Britton, instructor in psychology; Helen Canaday, instructor in home community relationships; Dr. Ruth R. Honey, professor of family economics and housing.

Other Initiates
Merwin W. Humphrey, professor of forestry; Dr. Will E. Mason, associate professor of economics; Dr. Francena L. Nolan, assistant professor of rural sociology and home management; and Delpha E. Wiesendanger, assistant dean of the College of Home Economics and professor of home management and housing.

Ceramic Society Installs Osborn

Dr. Elburt F. Osborn, dean of the College of Mineral Industries, has been installed as a trustee of the American Ceramic Society to represent the Society's basic science division.

Dr. Osborn and six research scientists are attending the 59th annual meeting of the society, which began Sunday in Dallas, Tex., and ends today.

More than 1800 ceramic scientists, plant operators, engineers, designers and research men from the United States and other countries participated in the meeting.

Membership in the society is accorded to those working to advance the techniques of production and scientific research in the ceramic field.

WRA Tickets Available

Tickets for the Women's Recreation Association modern dance concert may be obtained free of charge in White Hall.

The concert will be held at 8 tonight and Saturday night in White Hall.

Hance Wins Outstanding Ed Award

Judith Hance, senior in education from Glenside has been named the outstanding senior in the College of Education.

She was presented the outstanding senior award Tuesday at the Education Student Council banquet.

Miss Hance was one of seven outstanding education seniors honored at the banquet. The award's were presented by Dr. Charles M. Long, professor of education.

Senior Awards
They were given to Natalie Moskowitz, Scranton; Daisy Zimmerman, Lewisburg; Nancy Scholl, Glenshaw; Mary Moore, Watsontown; Sheila Nearing, Milford; Virginia Hance, Glenside and Miss Hance.

Miss Hance was president of the student council this year, and secretary last year. She represented the council on All-University Cabinet. She has been a member of the Education Advisory Committee and attended the Student Encampment last year and in 1954.

Works on Newsletter
Miss Hance worked on the editorial board of the Monitor, the Education Student Council newsletter. She was a member of the Education Academic Honesty committee, the All-University Cabinet Compensation committee and was on the staff of LaVie.

Old and new council members attended the banquet, and guests, including Dr. and Mrs. Abram W. VanderMeer, Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Patrick, Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Long and William G. Noyes.

Ex-Collegian Editor Given $500 Award

Herbert G. Stein, a former city editor of The Daily Collegian, has been given the $500 Borden Graduate Award in Journalism.

Stein, the Maxwell M. Geffenscholar and a graduate student in the School of Journalism at Columbia University, received the award from the Borden Company Foundation, Inc., on the basis of high academic standing and professional achievement. This is the third time the award has been given.

After he was graduated from the University in 1951, Stein worked for five years on The Oak Ridge, daily newspaper in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Approval Date Set For Summer Studies

May 15 is the day. If you're going to summer school you'd better see your adviser before then.

Students planning to attend any of the three summer sessions must have courses of study approved by the proper officials before that date.

On-campus undergraduate and graduate students must report to their advisers to fill out an official registration form for each session they expect to attend.

Undergraduate students should fill out the form printed in black ink and graduate students the form in green ink.

Adviser's Signature Needed
Undergraduate students must obtain only the signatures of their advisers, except where they want to carry fewer than five or more than seven credits in the main summer session.

Graduate students must get the signatures of their advisers and that of the dean of the Graduate School.

After obtaining the signatures on the forms, students should present the approved form at the office of the dean of the summer sessions, 102A Burrows.

A "notice of acceptance" for each session the student will attend will be mailed before the opening of the summer school. This notice will include instructions for completing registration on the official registration day.

Report to Advisers
Special summer session students should also report to their advisers to fill out a registration form, which will be printed in red ink. The dean of the summer sessions must sign the form.

If for any reason a student has not obtained advance approval for his program, or if he wants to make changes in a previously-approved program, he should report to the headquarters in Recreation Hall on registration day.

An alphabetical listing of times to report to the headquarters is posted at the Scheduling Office, basement of Willard.

Registration Open
Students who have not obtained advance approval for the summer programs before May 15 may register in full on the official day of registration. However, no advance approvals for programs

LA Keys Available

Liberal Arts Student Council members who ordered keys may obtain them in the Associated Student Activities office, 201 Hetzel Union.

The exhibit was prepared by Wendell MacRae, of the Department of Public Information. MacRae explained that the department puts out between 350 and 400 publications a year, and that the purpose of the exhibit was to show students and faculty members the variety of publications published each year.

Work Out Format
MacRae said that the Department of Public Information works out the format, the number of pages, type of paper and various other means involved in the publication of a book. The persons or organizations interested in having the book published give the department the copy and the illustrations.

The publications on display are those on which MacRae has worked. Most of them are official, but MacRae has also helped with booklets for the Women's Recreation Association, the Women's Student Government Association and sorority rushing.

Copies of the general catalogue, the principle publication of the University, and Graduate School catalogues are in one showcase. Posters and certificates offering assistantships and fellowships in all fields, and a photograph of the Armory, taken in 1894, used in one of the publications may be seen in another.

Wood Patterns Used
Several Forestry School bulletins are on display. MacRae explained that the covers are patterns of different woods, such as cyprus and pine.

Commencement programs and the special booklet that was put out when former president of the University, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, was inaugurated, are also exhibited.

In one of the cases a dedication program of a Hillel mural shows the ideals of Judaism. The mural was painted by a woman graduate student from Chile.

Publication Steps Shown
Another case shows the various steps taken in getting the manuscript of "Penn State Yankee," the autobiography of Fred Lewis Pattee, into book form. The specification order, purchase order, galley proofs, page proofs, jacket design and the finished book are shown.

Examples of Caslon, Baskerville and Bodoni type faces, with the histories of their designers, are also included in the collection. Pages from the first publication of the University Press are on display.

And last, but certainly not least to hungry patrons, are the menus of the Nittany Lion Inn.

2 Sophomores Will Fill WSGA Committee Posts

Two sophomores were appointed to head Women's Student Government Association committees last night at a WSGA Senate meeting.

Constance Jones, sophomore in education from Bethlehem, was appointed WSGA elections committee chairman, and Susan Whittington, sophomore in arts and letters from Arlington, Va., was appointed WSGA publicity chairman.

for her special day
Sunday, May 12

Hallmark
Mother's Day
Cards

She'll know "you care enough to send the very best."

McLanahan's

For Your Important Evenings

Here's to many a beautiful evening and a just-gorgeous you! We've the most romantic, feminine, absolutely glamorous evening fashions ever, and they're ready for your important Spring festivities. Come see, select.

Clearfield's
Fashion Center

$17⁹⁵
TO
$25⁰⁰

E. COLLEGE AVE. ACROSS FROM OLD MAIN STATE COLLEGE

MAKE
MOTHER'S DAY
SHOPPING A PLEASURE

Before you decide on her gift—see the lovely and dainty corsages with hand made earrings to match.

A lasting gift and one she will treasure.

The Blair Shop