

Golfers Top Mounties For 8th Win of Season

Penn State's well-balanced golf team chalked up its eighth victory in nine starts, trouncing the West Virginia linksmen, 7-0, yesterday afternoon on the University greens.

Leadoff man Pat Rielly was the only Lion involved in a close match. Rielly enjoyed a hot back nine to top the Mountaineers' Tony Morocco, 3 and 1.

Rielly had to come from behind to defeat Morocco in the initial match. The Lion golfer was three down after nine holes, but shot a two under par 33 on the back nine to gain the victory.

Johnny Boyanowski followed Rielly's win with an easy 5 and 3 triumph over West Virginia's Charlie Wollerton.

Bill Davidson regained his winning touch with a 3 and 2 decision over Jim Lane of the Mounties. Davidson has dropped just one match this season, losing to Cornell's Joe Germonde Saturday.

Captain John Branish, after emerging from his three-match losing slump in the Cornell encounter, copped his second straight win. Branish defeated Mountie Ed Cotherman, 4 and 3.

Bob Bainbridge registered Penn State's fifth win of the match, downing the Mountaineers' Steve Riethovich, 6 and 4.

John Feluz, the Lions' top medal player, rolled up the day's most lopsided tally in beating Ted Craft of West Virginia, 8 and 7.

Leo Kukkola completed the Penn State sweep with a 4 and 3 triumph over the Mounties' Bob Dadich.

Lion coach Joe Boyle reported that the match was as lopsided as the score indicated. "West Virginia was one of the weakest teams we've met all year," he said. "Our guys didn't play as well as they had been," he continued. "Had they (West Virginia) been better, we would have had rough sledding." The Lions are looking to Saturday's Eastern tourney, which may have accounted for below-par play, according to Boyle.

The shutout was the third of the year for the Lions. Penn State's linksmen scored a double whitewash over Penn and Villanova in their season opener.

Sigma Chi, Phi Ep Among Winners In IM Golf Play

Sixteen fraternities grabbed victories in the first round of intramural golf team play last week.

Alpha Chi Sigma downed Zeta Beta Tau; Sigma Chi beat Sigma Pi; Alpha Chi Rho defeated Phi Epsilon Pi; and Beta Theta Pi turned back Delta Tau Delta.

Phi Sigma Delta won over Phi Lambda Phi; Phi Sigma Kappa beat Phi Kappa Psi; Phi Delta Theta downed Theta Xi; and Sigma Nu defeated Pi Kappa Phi.

Sigma Phi Epsilon turned back Theta Chi; Delta Upsilon beat Lambda Phi; Sigma Alpha Epsilon downed Acacia; and Alpha Tau Omega defeated Beaver House.

Lion 'Nine' Lion Netters Suffer Troubled By 8-1 Defeat at Lehigh Schedule

There's no rest for the weary -- and that includes the Penn State baseball team. The Lions, who have been on the road for their last three games, leave today for an important three-game jaunt this weekend—Colgate, Friday and Syracuse in a twinbill, Saturday.

For the first time since the season opened, Coach Joe Bedenk will not be able to start either Ed Drapcho or Cal Emery, his one-two pitching punch, in a Lion test. The schedule just won't allow it.

Most likely, Drapcho, who pitched six innings against Army Saturday and five against Navy Tuesday, will get the call against the Red Raiders Friday afternoon.

Emery will undoubtedly start in one of the Orange tilts. Who Bedenk will start in the second game is a question worth posing on the "64,000 Question" quiz show.

Righthander Lynn Harbold who has seven innings pitched to his credit thus far, looms as a strong starting possibility, along with lefty Dave Simmers and righthander Ron Smith. Sophomore Ron Riese is still another candidate.

Smith, a junior, pitched three games for the Lions last year. Although he won all three, he completed only one game. Simmers, a transfer student, pitched one hitless inning of relief against Georgetown in his only mound appearance of the year.

With pitching and the schedule battling for the role as the number one Lion baseball problem—right now, they're on an even keel—the Lion hitting has improved almost unnoticeably and quite considerably.

Honors for the biggest improvement go to Captain Jim Lockerman—a .158 hitter going into the Georgetown doubleheader almost two weeks ago. Since that time, Lockerman has been the best hitter on the club, raising his average to .290—this does not include the Navy game where he had three hits.

By BILL JAFFE Penn State's tennis team suffered its fifth consecutive 8-1 loss of the season yesterday. This time to Lehigh University in an afternoon match at Bethlehem.

The lone winner for the Lions was Joe Galiardi, playing in the fourth singles spot. The Nittany netter, using a strong forehand, defeated veteran Mike Wind, 6-2, 6-3.

Lehigh posted its sixth win of the season against two losses in winning all three doubles sets and five of the singles matches.

Coach Sherm Fogg was very disappointed in the Lions' play and, to add further to his woes, number one man Fred Trust was injured in the doubles action and had to forfeit his match.

Trust lost his singles match to Lehigh Captain Bill Scarlett, 6-2, 10-8, and then teamed with Chuck Questa in the doubles play. The Lion duo won the first set, 6-4, but Trust pulled a back muscle during the second set and forfeited the match with Lehigh ahead 9-8.

After Scarlett, a 1954 PIAA state tennis champ and the Engineer's number one man in 1956, defeated Trust, Wright was extended to extra games to defeat Questa, 10-8, 8-6.

Bibleheimer, who was the lone singles match winner prior to Galiardi's win, lost his first set to Lehigh's Ed Sullivan, 6-4, but rebounded to score an 8-6 win in the middle set. Sullivan used a hard serve to his advantage to win the deciding set, 6-4.

Lehigh's Fred Kayne scored a 6-4, 6-3 victory over the Lion's Pete DeDad in the fifth singles match.

Although Dick Jacobs posted an opening set 6-4 win over

Joe Galiardi Lone Lion Winner

Dick Smith, the Lehigh senior swept the next two sets, 6-1, 8-6, to score the fifth Engineer point.

The Engineer's duo of Sullivan and Wind defeated Joe Eberly and Galiardi, 6-2, 6-4.

Lehigh Coach Gerald Leeman inserted two new men in his third doubles team and they defeated Bibleheimer and DeDad. Bob Bollinger and Roger Weiss opened an early lead over the Lion duo and won 6-4, 6-3.
