

IFC Grants Initial Funds To IFCPA

The Interfraternity Council last night voted unanimously to assume the initial expenditures of the Interfraternity Council Purchasing Association, which will hire a permanent manager to handle the business of the association.

Leslie Phillabaum, president of the board of directors of IFCPA, moved that "IFC assume the initial expenditures of IFCPA necessary to establish IFCPA as an operating entity, the IFC funds to be repaid without interest by IFCPA before the end of the academic year of 1957-58."

The motion passed without a dissenting vote.

Methods of Operation Outlined

In outlining the methods of operation of IFCPA to the IFC, Phillabaum explained that during the summer the IFCPA will sign contracts with vendors dealing with meat, frozen foods and canned goods.

He explained the method of levying a service charge on fraternities with the following scale: If 20 fraternities join IFCPA, the service charge for each will be $15; 30 fraternities—$12, and 40 fraternities—$10.

Deal With Approved Vendors

Phillabaum explained that members of IFCPA must deal only with vendors approved by the association, except in the case of emergencies.

Fraternity members would also have to pay one-quarter of their estimated monthly expenses on September 10 and another quarter of their estimated monthly expenses on September 20, so IFCPA would have money to operate in the beginning of the fall semester.

Lists Advantages

Phillabaum also listed what he considered to be the advantages IFCPA would give individual fraternities.

They are:

- Constant quality checks through the permanent manager, which would assure fraternities that they are getting the quality for which they are paying.

- The association has permission to go to any department in the University for assistance.

- The cooperative buying plan would help to eliminate unskilled buying by fraternities, which is

Collegian To Present International Series

By DAVE FINEMAN

The Daily Collegian will present a series of articles, beginning tomorrow, on "International Understanding" written from five selected viewpoints—by President Eric A. Walker and four faculty members.

In so doing, Collegian hopes to bring to the students some of the difficulties and possible solutions to this topic.

Bus Ad Sophomore Involved in Crash

Damages totaling $400 resulted from an auto crash Saturday involving David W. Morrow, sophomore in business administration from Bala-Cynwyd, and George Bressler of Centre Hall.

Morrow's car was struck by the Bressler auto as Morrow was pulling from a private driveway on Route 53, near the Potters Mills intersection.

No one was injured.

International understanding as a goal is probably as old as the history of nations.

But today, in the light of worldwide tensions and fearsome weapons, it has taken on a new meaning: it is vital to the existence of civilization; and it is a problem that every student will inherit, whether he wants to or not.

4 to View Topic

In these articles, international understanding will be viewed by a scientist (Dr. Walker), a political scientist (Dr. Neal Riemer), a theologian (Dr. Luther H. Harshbarger), an artist (Dr. Albert Christ-Janer) and a sociologist (Dr. Margaret B. Matson).

Dr. Walker, formerly dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, will discuss what international understanding means to an engineer.

Dr. Riemer, in his article, "International Understanding and World Affairs," will speak of the importance of college students taking a "continuing interest" in the realm of international affairs.

Will Discuss Decisions

Dr. Harshbarger, writing on "Religion and International Understanding" will look at the moral and political decisions a person must make in the face of "a time of great revolution" in history.

Dr. Christ-Janer, writing on "International Understanding Through the Arts," will talk of the international nature of art and its abilities and limitations as a means to international understanding.

Dr. Matson will discuss the sociological significance of the problem of international understanding and what it means to the sociologist.

Final Conflict Schedule

The final examination conflict schedule will appear on page eight of today's Daily Collegian.

Students taking the conflicts will be notified by their instructors. Only students whose names appear on the instructor's list will be permitted to take the conflict.

Walker 'Reports' On AM Station

President Eric A. Walker did "a reporting job" to the Board of Trustees Executive Committee over the weekend on what has been done toward obtaining a student-run, non-commercial AM radio station.

The committee took no action.

Walker, according to a University spokesman, told the trustees the University does not have the funds at this time to build the station and that "a rather large number of students" are interested in obtaining a station.

He brought the trustees up to date on action taken toward the establishment of the station, including the search and discovery of an unclaimed AM frequency in the State College area.

Committee Seeks Money

Meanwhile, a special All-University Cabinet committee trying to obtain the necessary money for the proposed station was working over the weekend.

The committee is seeking to re-allocate a student press fund for construction of the station. The fund, which totals approximately $28,000, was accumulated through gifts by the classes of '48, '49, '50 and '52.

The committee prepared a letter to be sent to the presidents and the secretaries of these classes asking that they consider polling their class members on re-allocation of the fund.

The amount of the fund is expected to about pay for the costs of building the station, estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000.

Committee Work Halted

The committee is now at a stand-still until it hears from the class officers.

The procedure for re-allocation of the funds is as follows:

If the class presidents and secretaries agree to poll their class members, then they would write a letter to the Alumni Association requesting that it do the polling. It takes a majority of those class members responding to approve the re-allocation of the gift. If the class members approve, then final approval is needed from the Board of Trustees.

Receipts must be presented.

Motel Blaze Damage Set At $15,000

Damage has been set at $15,000 for last Thursday's fire which gutted a Traveler's Lodge Motel apartment. The apartment was occupied by three University students and a former student.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Frank, owners of the motel, said the establishment was only partially covered by insurance.

State College Fire Chief Thomas Sauer's said no investigation is planned to determine the fire's origin.

Occupants of the apartment were Howard Kreps, Larry McAfee, Anthony Tirdel and Charles DiRocco, the former student.

At least one of the students reportedly lost all his personal possessions except the clothes he was wearing. Two white shirts were the only usable articles of clothing left from the blaze, as smoke and water damage was high, according to the report. At least one of the students did not carry any insurance.

The fire started at about 6 p.m. Thursday and was discovered by DiRocco and Kreps, who saw sparks shooting 20 to 30 feet away from the apartment. They notified the Alpha Fire Company from a nearby diner.

Cheerleading tryouts will continue at 6:30 tonight through Thursday in front of Old Main.

Cheerleading Captain Samuel Wolcott yesterday called for additional male candidates. He said 50 coeds and only 11 male students tried out last week. Second semester students with a minimum 2.0 All University average are eligible.

Reen Gives Praise To Traffic Counters

Calvin G. Reen, director of the campus traffic survey, last night praised his student workers for their "excellent cooperation" during yesterday's traffic counts.

Reen, professor of civil engineering, said there were only two students who failed to work their appointed hours, neither resulting from negligence.

In one instance, due to a misunderstanding, a student arrived for work in the afternoon instead of his scheduled morning hours.

In the other, the worker was called out of town suddenly.

Women Count

Five women were included in the tabulating force which worked in four all-day stations and 30 peak period positions. The students tabulated the data at 15-minute intervals.

The stations which counted through the day were located at College Ave. and Burrows Rd., Burrows and Pollock Rds., Pollock Rd. and Atherton St., and Pollock and Shortlidge Rd.

Profs. Supervise Counts

Eight faculty members from the Department of Civil Engineering acted as supervisors during the day.

In addition to the student tabulators, automatic counting machines lent by the Department of Highways operated at 12 stations.

Machines to Remain

The machines will remain in operation 24 hours a day until next Monday morning, according to Reen.

An employe of the Department of Highways will remain on campus during the week to maintain and supervise the operation of the automatic counters.

Reen said yesterday's warm and sunny weather aided the accuracy of the results of the survey. Rainy weather might have kept many cars off the road, he said.

Committee Uncovers Beck Toy Proceeds

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee received evidence today that Dave Beck's relatives and friends made a profit of $180,000 selling toy trucks and other merchandise to the Teamsters Union.

There also was testimony from Roy Fruehauf, a Detroit trailer manufacturer, that his company provided an automobile and chauffeur to haul Beck's niece and three girl friends around Europe last summer.

$200,000 Loan Received

The committee was told too that Beck, millionaire president of the Teamsters Union, got a $200,000 loan from Detroit industrialists at a time when he needed money to cover alleged withdrawals from the union treasury.

This assertion came from Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, who said the loan was negotiated in 1954 when Beck was being pressed by federal income tax investigators for an explanation of what he had done with money missing from the treasury of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

Carmine Bellino, the committee's accountant-investigator, told the senators the $180,000 profit accrued in 1953 and 1954 to the Union Merchandising Co. He said these men had an interest in the company.

Beneficiaries Named

Dave Beck Jr., Norman Gessert, a relative of the elder Beck; Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor adviser to employers and a friend of Beck, and Shefferman's son, Shelton.

Reading his data into the committee's record, Bellino said the men made a profit of $84,802 selling the toy trucks to Teamsters locals all over the country at from $15 to $30 apiece.

The rest of the profit, he said, was made selling furniture to the union for its lavish new headquarters building here.
