

Perry Remains Unbeaten, But Lion Trackmen Lose

Rod Perry remained unbeaten in the 120-yard high and 220-yard low hurdles at Michigan State, Saturday afternoon, but his efforts were not enough to keep the Lion cindermen from absorbing their fourth straight defeat.

Ohio State, led once again by Olympic 400-meter hurdle champion, Glenn Davis, won the triangular test with 66½ points to Michigan State's 47½ and Penn State's 47.

Davis, the star of the Buckeye's 71-51 conquest over the Nittanies in a dual fracas two weeks ago, scored victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump. He was second in low hurdles but came in fifth in the high hurdles—the event reputed to be his specialty.

Once again it was a story of overall team strength which led to the Lions' downfall. Coach Chick Werner's forces won five first places, two less than the Buckeyes and two more than Michigan State, and had a five-three-four advantage in seconds. But the Nittanies copped only two third places while Ohio State had six and the Spartans eight.

The Lions were whitewashed in three events—the 220-yard dash, the pole vault and the broad jump.

Perry bested teammate Dick Winston in the high hurdles with a winning time of :14.5, .003 better than Winston's mark, and ran the low hurdles in :23.6. Winston was third here, behind Davis.

John Tullar, Ed Moran and Bob Parker carried off the other top places for the Nittany thinclads. Tullar kept his winning streak intact in the discus with a 147' 8" throw and Moran won his third straight mile event in a 4:20.2 time.

Parker, despite his 5' 8" height, won his first place in the high jump although he had to share the honor with Ohio State's Dick Furry. Both men leaped 6' 1".

Tullar and Moran also claimed second place finishes. Tullar's shot put heave of 49' 2½" was ¾" off the winning mark posted by the Spartans' Sam Eliowitz. Moran lost the 880-yard run to Jack McClain of Ohio State by :00.5. McClain's time was 1:56.6.

Winston was another Lion second place finisher, trailing Davis in the 100. Davis' time was :10.1.

Fred Kerr was the only other second place winner for the Nittanies with a 9:31.8 two-mile run. Michigan State's Gay Denslow took the event in 9:26.6.

Jim Norton also placed among the point makers with a third in the 440-yard run. Ohio State's Ted Storer was first with a 50.1 time.

'Doc' Speidel Selected To Hall of Fame

Charley Speidel Receives Mat Honor

Lion wrestling Coach Charlie Speidel, the dean of Penn State coaches, was selected to the wrestling section of the Helms Foundation Sports Hall of Fame.

Speidel, who has been tutoring Lion mat teams for 31 years, was among five wrestlers and nine coaches honored by the West Coast group.

Included in the select circle were wrestlers Bob Peace and Jack Van Bubber of Oklahoma A&M, William Smith of Iowa Teachers, Russel Vis of Los Angeles and Henry Wittenberg of New York.

The coaches named included Ed "Taps" Gallagher of Oklahoma A&M, Clifford Keen of Michigan, Hugo Otopalik of Iowa State, Fendley Collins of Michigan State, Billie Sheridan of Lehigh, Harold Howard of Iowa, Henry Stone of California and Ray Swartz of Navy.

Speidel came to Penn State from Panzer College in 1927 and has coached the Lions ever since, except for a four-year period during the second World War.

"Doc," as the amiable mentor is known, has coached seven Eastern Intercollegiate championship teams and one NCAA championship squad—the only team from the East ever to win a National title.

Forty-three Lions have won individual Eastern titles under the tutelage of Speidel and seven have copped National crowns, including 1958 captain-elect, Johnny Johnston.

Speidel can boast a dual meet record that is the envy of many of his coaching counterparts—151 wins, 35 losses, and eight ties.

Lions Lose Crown To Swarthmore, 5-1

Earnie Baer's lacrosse men took off on a two-game trip to Rutgers and Lehigh yesterday evening while trying to forget their unsuccessful defense of the Penn-Del title against Swarthmore last Saturday.

Although the defense and goalie Jimmy Houck "played their best game of the year" and held the Little Quaker hosts to their lowest scoring game of the year, the Lion attack couldn't hold up their end of the team play and lost, 5-1.

But Swarthmore Coach Ave Blake admitted that his squad played "way over their heads" in their last game of the season. Blake, who rates his team as the best in Swarthmore history, said that they were really up for the game since the team had an undefeated league record and the win over the Lions virtually sewed up the title, except for the voting.

The Little Quakers got their first goal of the rain-soaked day, when Lion goalie Houck was clearing the ball upfield, slipped on the wet grass and lost it. With the nets untended, Carter Reynolds threw in the first goal and gave the Little Quakers a 1-0 lead.

Houck managed to stay in the goal area (and on his feet) the rest of the game and made 16 saves to up his season total to 128. With four more games remaining the Lion veteran still has a chance to take top honors among the nation's goalies. Last year's top save mark was 274.

Blake liked Houck's goal-tending so well that he is joining Syracuse Coach Roy Simmons and others in recommending the Lion net master for the spot in the annual North-South All-Star game.

Bill Hess scored the only goal of the day, but extended his streak as the high game scorer to 10. The All-America candidate raised his season total to 28. He set the Lion record with 41 last year.

the teams while they are having one of their best years," said Baer. "It was the last game of the season for Swarthmore and they went all-out to win it. They had an undefeated Penn-Del record and knew this one meant the championship."

At 3:30 this afternoon, Baer's charges meet another team that is having one of its best seasons on record, Rutgers. The Ivy League's lost to three of the nation's top lacrosse teams, all by close scores. They lost to Army, 6-4, to Princeton, 8-7, and to the nation's most outstanding lacrosse organization, the Washington Lacrosse Club, 14-9.

5 Fraternities Cop IM Soccer League Crowns

Alpha Chi Sigma (League A), Phi Kappa Tau (League B), Alpha Tau Omega (League D), Delta Tau Delta (League E) and Alpha Sigma Phi (League F) won their respective leagues in intramural soccer competition Friday night on Beaver Field.

ACHiSig turned back Beta Sigma Rho, 3-0, thanks to two field goals by Jack Bash and one by Jim Patterson.

Phi Kappa Tau defeated Acacia on the basis of corner kicks, 2-0, for the League B crown.

Larry Beaver scored two goals in the first half to give ATO a 2-0 edge over Delta Theta Sigma.

Alpha Sigma Phi captured League F honors with a victory over Chi Phi, two corner kicks to none. Delta Tau Delta defeated Kappa Sigma by forfeit to capture League E honors.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's 1-0 victory over Alpha Gamma Rho placed League C into a three-way tie. SPE now shares top honors with Alpha Phi Delta and Alpha Gamma Rho. All three teams have 1-1 records.
