

New Head Appointed For Mining

Dr. Howard L. Hartman, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Mining Engineering at Colorado School of Mines, has been named head of the University's Department of Mining, effective July 1.

The appointment has been approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Asman Resigns

Dr. Hartman will succeed Arnold W. Asman, who resigned to become product manager of mining equipment sales for the Robins Conveyor Division of Hewlett-Packard, Inc., Stamford, Conn.

Dr. Hartman received his bachelor of science degree in mining engineering at the University in 1944 after two years of undergraduate work at the Colorado mining school. He received his master of science degree in mining engineering at the University in 1947.

Worked in Arizona

Dr. Hartman continued as an instructor at the University for a year, then began working as a mining engineer and a state mine dust control engineer in Arizona. He obtained his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Minnesota. He was a professor in Minnesota before receiving the appointment to the Colorado School of Mines staff in 1954.

WSGA Changes Frosh Tea Date

The Women's Student Government Association Senate last night approved a recommendation to hold the Freshman Tea in the fall semester instead of in the spring.

The recommendation sets Nov. 24 as the date for next year's tea.

This year's tea committee recommended the change of date because in the spring there is a lack of interest which causes poor attendance. This may be due to too many other springtime activities, said Janet Moore, chairman of this year's tea. She added that holding the tea in the fall would enable freshmen and upperclasswomen to get acquainted earlier in the year.

The Senate approved a recommendation by Susanne Smith, WSGA president, to send a donation to overseas hospitals if there is a balance remaining in the WSGA treasury at the end of the year.

Elections Group Forms Available

Students wishing to apply for membership on the All-University Elections Committee may fill out forms before May 23 at the Hetzel Union desk.

Peter Fishburn, committee chairman, said about 15 applicants will be selected to serve on the committee next year. The final selection of members will be made in the fall.

Present members who wish to remain on the committee must also fill out applications, Fishburn said.

Candidates must have a minimum 2.0 All-University average, and no political clique affiliation at the time of application.

issues a month. The survey showed the need for a 12-page paper daily but not the funds to pay for it.

To Do Further Study

A Collegian Inc. committee is expected to further study the proposal.

James H. Coogan, the University's sports publicist and a former editor of The Daily Collegian was elected chairman of Collegian, Inc. He replaces Donald W. Davis head of the Department of Advertising, who resigned the post. Davis, a member of Collegian Inc. for 15 years, will continue as a member.

Edward Dubbs, editor of The Daily Collegian, was named secretary of the board.
