

Today's Forecast:
Slightly Warmer;
High 65-70

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Why Waste
Students' Money?
See Page 4

VOL. 57, No. 144

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 17, 1957

FIVE CENTS

Dean Gives Probation, Suspension

The dean of men's office has suspended one freshman and placed another on disciplinary probation, both on charges of drinking and the unauthorized borrowing of a bicycle belonging to a borough resident.

The students were also found guilty of disorderly conduct by the State College police.

This is what happened according to Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men.

The students said that they had visited several fraternities and had consumed an undesignated amount of beer before taking the bicycle.

To Meet Girl Friend

They explained that they had taken the bicycle from the front of a house on Heister St. so they could get to Thompson Hall before 1 a.m. to meet a girl friend of one of the students. The girl had a date, but had agreed to the meeting.

They arrived at Thompson too late to meet the girl, and on the way back to town had a minor accident with the bicycle. They were apprehended by police near the Kappa Sigma house on Beaver Ave. for operating a bicycle without proper lighting.

When the police found that the bicycle did not belong to the students, they forced them to return it to the owner and pay the estimated damages, amounting to $4.

Meant to Return Bike

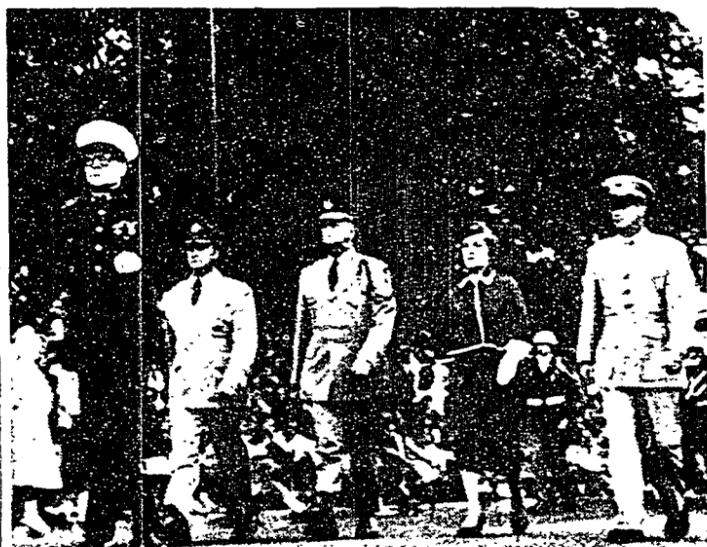

The students told the police they fully intended to return the bicycle, but were apprehended before they had a chance.

They also said that, though the beer they consumed might have affected their judgment, they were in control of their actions when they took the bicycle.

One of the students had appeared before disciplinary committee prior to this incident, at which time he was given a deferred suspension. When a student is given a deferred suspension, he may be suspended directly by the office of the dean of men in case of further disciplinary violations.

The student will be permitted (Continued on page eight)

Forward, March!

PARADE MARSHAL Ossian R. MacKenzie, vice president of the University, leads last night's Armed Forces Day parade. Following MacKenzie are, left to right, Col. Daniel F. Riva, U.S. Air Force; Col. Arthur W. Kogstad, U.S. Army; Josephine Groesbeck, head of the Division of Transportation; and Lt. Col. William W. Curtis, U.S. Marine Corps.

Daily Collegian Photo by Bob Thompson

Senate Defeats Bid To Up Faculty Ratio

The University Senate last night defeated a motion which would have produced a majority of faculty over administration representatives on the Senate, the sole legislative group on all questions pertaining to the academic interest of the University.

Ratio of administrative to faculty Senators, therefore, remains at three to two.

Walker to Address Lehigh Graduation

President Eric A. Walker will give the commencement address at Lehigh University graduation exercises on June 10.

He will speak to the graduates at 10:30 a.m. in Grace Hall on the Lehigh campus.

Lehigh will confer 475 baccalaureate degrees and 115 advanced degrees at the graduation.

Would Be "Unwieldy"

The motion also would have increased the Senate's size from 200 to 370, a number termed "unwieldy" by many speakers at last night's meeting.

On both questions—size and ratio—some Senators said that they desired to maintain the "status quo."

The Senate is made up of 120 who hold membership by virtue of position and 80 who are elected.

Those who hold membership by position are administrative personnel—central administration, department heads and deans.

More Representation Urged
The defeated plan, the Committee on Organization and Operation, had the objective of making (Continued on page two)

Leader Seeks End Of State Segregation

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader today fixed a tentative Oct. 1 deadline for abolishing racial segregation in all public schools and state-aided colleges in Pennsylvania.

"It will be the policy of the commonwealth to do everything within its power to eliminate school segregation," the governor told his weekly news conference.

Then Leader with Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride—laid down a five-point enforcement program that included sanctions and criminal prosecutions against offending school districts.

3 Segregated Districts

It was the governor's first meeting with newsmen since a Public Instruction Department report was made public Tuesday night listing three school districts in the state as practicing racial segregation.

The districts include Coatesville and Kennett consolidated schools, both in Chester County, and Steelton-Highspire in Dauphin County. They pledged to end segregation after periods ranging from six months to three years.

The governor was asked specifically what would happen to these three school districts should they fail to meet the tentative Oct. 1 deadline.

Optimistic About End

"We expect everybody to be in compliance at that time," Leader replied.

Leader then went on to explain that if any of these school districts found it was physically impossible to do so there might be an extension.

He indicated, however, that he expected the school system to make some effort before then to mix Negroes and white students in the particular schools involved.

McBride, on the same question, replied:

"We have to use every means of persuasion we can without hitting people on the head."

Warm Weather Expected Again

Today's prediction calls for fair and slightly warmer weather with an expected high of 65-70 degrees.

The Nittany Lion, however, was nowhere to be seen.

A check revealed that the Lion decided yesterday that best things always come last, and therefore, he would post his automobile at the end of the Armed Forces Day parade, giving his public the ultimate thrill.

As he followed the parade in front of him, however, an agriculture student leaving for an inspection of the dairy barns pulled out from the curb. Thinking that the student was the next car of the parade, the Lion followed him. He was quite startled when upon reaching the destination of the "parade" he was greeted by a rather sad-eyed cow.

Cabinet to Send 4 To NSA Conclave

Editorial on Page Four

All-University Cabinet last night voted 12 to 9 to send four delegates to this summer's National Student Association congress.

Cabinet took the action after hearing pleas for representation at the congress from Leonard Richards, former All-University secretary-treasurer; Barbara Hendel, former NSA regional chairman; and Susan Hill, former president of Home Economics Student Council.

After debate which lasted more than an hour, a roll call was taken on the 4 delegate motion, which was introduced by Robert Nurock, president of Liberal Arts Student Council.

Will Allot $434

Cabinet also voted to allot $434 to pay the delegates' expenses. This appropriation must also be approved at next week's meeting before it can be made.

The question of whether to send delegates was first brought up at last week's Cabinet meeting. Cabinet then defeated two separate proposals for representation at the congress, to be held in Ann Arbor, Mich.

In his talk to Cabinet, Richards urged that delegates be sent.

He said: "There comes a point when a person has to look beyond his own local situation. . . . NSA can play a role in the life of students in general by bringing out thought and action on a plane not only in the University but also on a plane above and beyond the University."

Gives NSA's Purpose

He called the primary intention of NSA "solely political," and said that the congress goes over policies which represent the feelings of students of the country. Problems affecting students in other parts of the world also involve us here, Richards said.

He concluded his speech with "the plea of us old timers: take a good look first before you leap." Joseph Boehret, All-University secretary-treasurer, in speaking against Nurock's motion, said Cabinet would be making "a very unwise move" in sending the four delegates.

The delegates, he said, would be giving at congress the opinions of four individuals only, not the opinion of All-University Cabinet, because Cabinet has not discussed the issues which will come (Continued on page eight)

State Delays Budget Talk For 1 Week

The possibility of action on the University's 1957-1958 budget was postponed yesterday until at least Wednesday because of a Senate decision to adjourn June 15 instead of June 2 or 8.

The House, thinking the Senate would adjourn either June 2 or 8, wanted to act on the present budget measures in time to get it to the upper chamber for their action.

But in the face of the Senate's decision, the House "decided there was no sense sitting up all night to get the bills ready by Thursday (yesterday) inasmuch as they (the Senate) stretched adjournment by a week," House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson said.

35 Budgets Scheduled

There was a good chance the University's budget was among the 35 budgets scheduled for presentation yesterday by the House Appropriations Committee, since Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), chairman of the committee, had predicted some time ago that it would come up around the middle of May.

Both houses will return to their duties Wednesday after a 2-day recess for primary elections. It is expected that the budget proposals will be presented to the House then.

Upped by Wood

When the University's budget request went into the Appropriations Committee it was set at $33,849,000 by Wood, short of President Eric A. Walker's requested $38.5 million figure, but (Continued on page eight)

Traffic Survey Work Will Close Today

The field work of the campus parking and traffic survey will end today with pedestrian counts at 25 stations.

One hundred ten students, civil engineering faculty members and employes of the Department of Physical Plant are participating in the tabulations, which began at 7:30 this morning and will continue until 5:30 tonight.

Five of the stations, which are located at College and Allen streets, Burrows and Pollock roads, Pollock and Shortlidge roads, Pollock road and the Mail and Pollock road west of the Hetzel Union Building, will continue operating throughout the day.

Thirty counters will work at these stations alone.

Tallies will be taken at the peak hours of 7:45 to 8:15 a.m., 8:45 to 9:15 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., 12:45 to 1:15 p.m. and 4:45 to 5:30 p.m.

Class Makes Counts

Eight seniors from Civil Engineering 423, a class in traffic engineering, have been making spot counts of both pedestrian and vehicular traffic during the spring to supplement the regular counts.

Calvin G. Reen, professor of civil engineering and director of the survey, said the amount and placement of heavy pedestrian traffic would be determined from today's counts.

The survey report will contain appropriate recommendations such as added walks or separation of pedestrian and vehicular traffic, he said.

Totals to Be Available

Reen said the results of the vehicular traffic counts held Monday were being tabulated by members of the traffic engineering class.

The results of the vehicular counts may be available the early part of next week, he said. These will include only the totals of the various stations with no analysis.

The final survey report will be submitted to the University administration by September 1, Reen said.