

New Dorms To Revise 3 to 1 Ratio

The new women's dormitory construction which will enable the University to admit 600 additional coeds is going to wreak havoc on the 3 to 1 ratio currently existing between men and women students.

The 600 additional coeds who will be admitted this fall will raise the coed population to a new high of 3700. Men's enrollment will remain at approximately 10,000.

C. O. Williams, dean of admissions, said pressure to equalize men and women's enrollment on campus has been growing steadily stronger in recent years. The long-time campus ratio has been three men to one coed.

5300 Apply

Applications for admission had reached 5300 by May 1, according to Dean Williams. Of this total, 2800 have already paid their enrollment deposits.

Dean Williams said the University will admit about 4600 freshmen in 1957, 1600 of them women.

However, because of limited housing on campus, 1300 of the new freshmen will be assigned to off-campus centers. Two-year undergraduate centers are now maintained at Altoona, Erie, Hazleton, Ogontz, Pottsville and the State Forestry School at Mont Alto.

Enrollment Exceeds 16,000

Total enrollment in 1956-57, both on and off campus, topped 16,000, of which 3500 were coeds. These figures include graduate, special and part-time students.

Dean Williams reported freshman campus quotas are already filled in engineering and architecture, business administration and the elementary education area of education.

He said openings still exist on campus in other areas of education, agriculture, the liberal arts, mineral industries, home economics, chemistry and physics, physical education, and in all curricula at off-campus centers.

What Pedestrians?

PLENTY OF CARS, but George Nagrony (left), junior in mechanical engineering from Susquehanna, and Vincent Paparella, senior in civil engineering from Milanville, are looking for pedestrians to count in yesterday's campus-wide tally of foot traffic.

Tractor Contest To Open Today

Contestants in the annual tractor driving contest will assemble at 1 p.m. today at the parking lot next to the Forestry Building to receive the rules for the contest.

The men's division will start at 1 p.m. and the coed division will begin at 3 p.m. The winner of each division will receive a trophy.

Contestants will drive a tractor hooked to a farm implement through a serpentine course designed to test their skill.

Safety will be stressed in the judging. Points will be subtracted for unsafe conduct, which includes clashing of gears, excessive speed, standing while operating the tractor and failure to set the brakes when getting off the tractor.

AIM Extends Deadline For JBR Applications

The deadline for applications for the Association of Independent Men Judicial Board of Review has been extended to 3 this afternoon.

Applications are available at the Hetzel Union desk. Independent men with a minimum All-University average of 2.0 may apply.

Faculty Club to Hear Talk on Outdoor Ed

An illustrated lecture on "Penn State's Outdoor Education Projects" will be presented to the Faculty Luncheon Club at noon Monday in dining room A of the Hetzel Union Building.

Herman C. Kranzer, assistant professor of education, and Fred M. Coombs, professor of physical education will present the lecture.

27 Recommendations Tabled by Cabinet

All-University Cabinet has voted to refer all 27 recommendations made by the Spring Week committee to next year's committee.

Robert Krakoff, committee chairman, presented the recommendations to Cabinet in his report on Spring Week Thursday night.

The main recommendations were:

● That the carnival closing time be extended from 11 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

● That the Mad-Hatters Parade be replaced by a float parade.

● That the coronation of Miss Penn State be moved from the beginning to the end of the week and combined with an event similar to this year's All-Star Service Revue.

● That the He-Man contest be held on a separate night, with the events arranged so that there is no competition between runners and weight men.

● That a limit be placed on the amount to be spent by organizations advertising their carnival shows.

● That the faculty be given notice of Spring Week at the beginning of the semester so they can avoid giving examinations during the week.

Krakoff proposed the following calendar of events for next year's Spring Week:

Monday—Float parade.

Tuesday—Carnival

Wednesday—He-Man contest and tournament of the Queen of Hearts.

Thursday—Special show and coronation.

In other business Cabinet heard a report on the University Health Service by Robert Stroup, president of Engineering and Architecture Student Council.

Stroup listed several students' complaints about the service. He discussed these complaints with Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the health service, before making his report.

Juri Niiler, alternate for John Sopko, sophomore class president, asked that a Cabinet committee be set up to supervise the handling of information about closed sections during registration.

● Residents of Rodanthe, North Carolina, celebrate Christmas each January 6, the ancient Twelfth Night.
