

Lutherans Will Hear Address by Leiper

The Rev. Hal Leiper, associate director of the University Christian Association, will speak on "To-Hell-With-It-All-ism" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Lutheran Student Association Center.

The LSA also will sponsor a cabin party at the Forestry

Chapel to Hear Starbuck Speak On True Faith

The Rev. Robert B. Starbuck, associate director of the University Christian Association, will speak on the topic "Toward an Authentic Faith" at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

Starbuck next month will begin a new job in Mainz-Kastel, Germany. He has been appointed a fraternal worker by the Congregational Christian Service Committee to be on the staff of the Institute of Church and Industry of the Gossner Mission.

He will work with the study and group life of young pastors from East and West Germany.

Starbuck has been directing the University Christian Association European seminar tours for the past two summers and has developed the UCA courses in religion.

A special arrangement has been made each Sunday to invite the congregation to an after-service coffee hour in the Memorial Lounge, when questions or comments arising from the service and the sermon can be discussed with the ministers.

The services are sponsored by UCA and are open to the public.

Colbourn Awarded $5000 Fellowship

Dr. H. Trevor Colbourn, assistant professor of history, has been awarded the new $5000 American Studies Fellowship established by the Library Company of Philadelphia.

This grant's purpose is to stimulate research in American studies and will enable Dr. Colbourn to use the resources of the company and other libraries in Philadelphia this year.

He will work on a book, "The Historical Origins of American Independence," involving a careful study of the major figures of the Revolution to gain insight into their thinking.

Cabin. Transportation will be provided from the Center at 1:30 p.m. today. A discussion will be held tonight on "Why Am I".

Westminster Foundation members will hear a talk "Stewardship of Time and Talents" by the Rev. John S. Duly at 6:20 p.m. tomorrow.

Members of the Wesley Foundation will hold a cabin retreat today and tomorrow at Watts Lodge. Cars will leave the foundation building at 1:15 and 1:30 p.m. today. The cost is $2.50 a person.

A benediction service is scheduled by the Newman Club for 7 p.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Victory Church. Father Ream's discussion group will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in 104 Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The United Student Fellowship will participate in a discussion on "Dean's List and Date List: Can I Make Both?" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Episcopal students of the Canterbury Association will hold a breakfast at 9 a.m. tomorrow. Following the breakfast they will meet in the fireside room of the St. Andrews Episcopal Church parish house for a speech and discussion.

Organ Recital Set for Chapel

A Vesper Organ Recital, first of a series of vesper services, will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The worship series will use a variety of art forms as integral parts of the service. They will be held occasionally on Sunday afternoons throughout the academic year under the sponsorship of the University Christian Association, cooperating with departments of the University.

George E. Ceiga, associate professor of music, will present the organ recital tomorrow. The Rev. Hal Leiper, Protestant chaplain, will deliver the invocation, prayer and benediction.

Included in the recital will be compositions by Andre Campra, J. S. Bach, Johannes Brahms, Richard Purvis, J. Francois d'Andrieu and Leo Sowerby.

Dr. Charles D. Spotts
Lancaster Theologian

Spotts Chooses Skepticism As Chapel Topic

Dr. Charles D. Spotts, head of the department of religion at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, will speak on "Contemporary Unbelief" at the Chapel service at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The Chapel Choir, directed by Willa C. Taylor, will sing the introit "If Thou but Suffer God to Guide Thee" by Neumark and the anthem "Kyrie Eleison" by Durante.

George Ceiga, University organist, will play "Prelude on a Gregorian Tone" by T. Frederick Candlyn as the prelude, "Rhosymedre" from "Preludes Founded on Welsh Hymn Tunes" by R. Vaughan Williams as the offertory, and "Fugue in E Minor" by J. S. Bach for the postlude.

Dr. Spotts, a native of Cambridge, Pa., has served as minister to several churches in and near Lancaster and has taught at Franklin and Marshall College since 1923. He holds a bachelor of arts from Franklin and Marshall, bachelor of divinity from Lancaster Theological Seminary, master of arts from the University of Pennsylvania and doctor of divinity from Catawba College.

Dr. Spotts is the author of several books, including "You Can Read the Bible," "God's Wonder World" and "Science and the Christian Faith."

557 New Telephones Installed in Dorms

A total of 557 telephones—338 in the new women's residence halls and 219 in the West Halls—were installed during the summer.

This brings the number of telephones in residence halls to about 4000, according to Thomas Davies, local manager for the Bell Telephone Co.

The 338 telephones in the women's residence halls are in Haller, Lyons, Hibbs, Stephens and Ewing. In addition, 202 phones will be installed in Cross, Cooper and Hoyt Halls when these are completed.

In these halls, there is a phone in every room and two coin box phones in each building. The room phones are on the residence halls exchange.

Each room in the women's residence halls is reached by a separate extension number instead of by the room number and residence hall name.

In the West Halls, a new telephone was installed for every four rooms. These phones are on the University exchange, the same exchange that carries administration and faculty offices.

These phones are located in the halls with a bell box in each room. Each room has a different ring—such as one long or two shorts—and the ring is heard only in the room for which it is intended. This system works much the same as the party-line system used in many rural communities.

However, with the new system, only one coin box telephone is located on each floor. Thus a student may often have a long wait to make a town or long distance call.

Under the new system, 98 telephones are in Hamilton, 43 in McKee, 69 in Thompson, 17 in Jordan, 15 in Watts, and 8 in Irvin.

Placement Aid Given Seniors

The fall semester program of the University Placement Service has begun aiding January graduates and advanced degree students looking for jobs.

Schedules for job interviews will be posted on the service's bulletin board in Old Main and will be sent to the departments concerned. The interview times will be announced two weeks in advance.

The placement service, under the direction of George Leetch also sponsors a spring semester program for the benefit of June and August graduates and undergraduates who desire summer jobs.

These interviews are held from early February through the middle of May.

Formal Smoker Planned By Scabbard and Blade

Scabbard and Blade, national tri-service military society, will hold a formal smoker from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Monday at Theta Chi fraternity.

A board of review for pledges will be held Oct. 9 in 218 Hetzel Union.

EE Society Applications

Applications for membership in the Electrical Engineering Society will be accepted next week in the lobby of the Electrical Engineering Building.

11 Faculty, Staff Members to Retire

Nine faculty members and two long-time members of the administrative staff will retire Tuesday.

Samuel K. Hostetter, vice president for finance emeritus, began employment in 1908 as an assistant in administration. He served under five presidents and one acting president during his many years on campus.

Dr. Stuart W. Frost, professor emeritus of economic entomology, retiring after 39 years, is well-known for his studies in zoology and entomology. He has headed the State Insect Survey for the past decade.

Dr. Frederick G. Merkle, professor emeritus of soil technology, is retiring after 38 years of service. He is widely known for his research in soils.

Dr. Donald S. Cryder, head of the Department of Chemical Engineering, was named to the staff of the department of chemistry in 1920. He became head of the Department of Chemical Engineering in 1948, when work in this field was organized into a separate department.

Dr. Mason Long, professor emeritus of English literature, is author of many books, and is remembered by students for courses on the Bible. He is retiring after 37 years on the faculty.

Dr. John R. Bracken, landscape architect, has completed 33 years of service in the field of landscape architecture and 43 years of teaching. He is responsible for many landscape designs not only in State College but in the rest of the state.

William R. Gordon, professor of rural sociology extension, joined the faculty initially in 1922, resigned in 1934, then returned in 1943. He is well known for his development of the pageants of the State Farm Show for the past 11 years.

Russell E. Clark, expediter in General Extension, joined the administrative staff in 1936. Prior to his present position, he was at times Bursar and Director of Housing.

Mary Lovelace Mitchell, home economics extension, joined the staff in 1937. Foods and nutrition and home crafts were her major fields. She worked in Chester County for 19 years.

William H. Armstrong, professor emeritus of industrial engi-

Young Republican Club To Hear DA Candidate

Joseph E. Fazuzza, Republican candidate for district attorney, will speak to members of the Young Republican Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday in 209 Hetzel Union.

Nominations for officers of the group will be held at the meeting. A discussion of Republican candidates for 1958 also will be held.

The first steamboat on the St. Lawrence made its maiden trip from Montreal to Quebec in 1809.

neering, is retiring after 20 years on the staff. He was in charge of manufacturing process courses in the department, and is the author of a textbook, "Machine Tools for Metal Cutting."

Sybil D. Emerson, professor emeritus of art education, joined the art staff in 1942 after many years in high school and college teaching, as well as in freelance designing, decorating, painting, textile designing and writing. Her work has been exhibited in major cities in the United States and abroad. She designed and directed the making of the dorsal hanging behind the altar in the Chapel.

DINNER

at

the TAVERN RESTAURANT

For traditionally fine food in a pleasant, relaxing atmosphere . . . a favorite among Penn Staters.

Dinner is served from 5 'til 8 p.m.

We Specialize in Cheese Cake and Other Delicious Pastries That Are Made In Our Own Kitchen Daily.

Central Control To Be Placed On Machines

The control of vending machines on campus will be centralized under a new plan by the Department of Purchases.

Allen C. St. Clair, director of purchases, yesterday said the new setup will simplify the program, which now is spread over several authorities.

With the centralization of control will come several new machines. St. Clair said he is not sure what type machines will be installed or where they will be placed.

The purchasing director said the centralization will not include the machines operated by the food service in Waring Hall and the Hetzel Union machines in the summer.

The new plan is scheduled to begin operation Tuesday, but the program has run into several snags and probably will not be complete for several weeks.

Prof, Wife Give Technical Papers

Charles R. Marsh, associate professor of electrical engineering, and his wife, Elizabeth, presented papers last week at the National Technical Conference of the Illuminating Engineering Society in Atlanta, Ga.

They jointly presented a paper on "New Photographic Method of Measuring Brightness"—a method especially developed for day lighting studies. Marsh also presented a paper on "Lighting of Highways and Turnpikes in Fog."

Coins of pure platinum were issued by Russia during the early part of the 19th century.

new! different!
foil wrapped chocolates
only $1 a lb.

Russell Stover
CANDY JAR
CHOCOLATES

Six delicious cream and chewy centers, covered with the finest milk chocolate. Petite size, about 54 pieces to the box. Perfect for party time, gift time, treat time, any time!

exclusive at
Griggs Pharmacy
120 E. College Avenue