Satellite--

(Continued from page one) mation was fed to the machine, were not correct, or (2) the information from the sightings were not sufficiently accurate."

They hope from the calculations not only to trace the path of the satellite but fix its position in outer space and possibly give its exact shape.

A timetable worked out by the Navy scientists indicated the next passage of the artificial satellite over the United States would occur at about 12:11 a.m. EST tomorrow.

The Soviet sphere is shooting across this country in a southeasterly direction.

It follows a fairly steady course but because the earth is turning beneath it the satellite in effect moves 1500 miles westward with each orbit.

The Russians announced the rocket which carried their satellite on the final stage of its journey is also in orbit. Moscow said

700 in DOC Ed Council to Air Career Day Plan To Discuss New Council

The 700 students in the Division of Counseling have been asked to attend a meeting at 7 tonight in Schwab to discuss the establishment of a DOC Student Council.

The Inter-College Council Board will advise the students on procedure for organizing a council. James Stratton, ICCB president, will announce plans for nominating candidates and electing the representatives.

Elections for the proposed council will be held Oct. 30 and 31 at a booth in the Hetzel-Union Building. Twenty students will be elected.

The purpose of the council will be to give students in DOC a voice in student government. The council president will attend ICCB meetings. He will not hold a seat on All-University Cabinet.

Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, director of the Division of Counseling, will speak at tonight's meeting. A mixer will be held in the HUB ballroom for the students immediately after the meeting.

Letters were sent to all students in DOC from Stratton and Bernreuter, informing them of the meeting and outlining the proposed structure for the council. Members of ICCB, made up of the presidents of the nine college student councils, also have been asked to attend the meeting.

Students May Submit Contributions for Circa

Contributions for Circa literary magazine will be accepted at the Hetzel Union desk until Oct. 31.

Writing may be prose, poetry, non-fiction or descriptive pieces on art, music or the theatre.

Faculty members may also contribute manuscripts.

Ed Council to Air Career Day Plan

Ruth Johnson, junior in elementary education from Mt. Jewett will report on a proposed career day at the meeting of the Education Student Council at 7 tonight in 204 Burrowes.

The council will vote a second time on three constitutional revisions: to enlarge the council, to require students running for council to submit a photo for use at the polls and to forbid a student who has been removed from council for non-attendance to run again.

Market Club to Hear U.S. Steel Executive

Robert B. Lord, director of product development for the U.S. Steel Co. in Pittsburgh, will speak to the Marketing Club at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Beta Theta Pi.

His topic will be "Product Development in Steel."

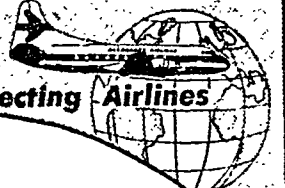

Blue Key Applications

Fifth and sixth semester men may fill out application blanks for Blue Key, junior men's hat society, at the Hetzel Union desk. Applications will be accepted until noon Oct. 19.
