

Vandy Impresses Lion Scout Torette

"This team has great potential and I'm hoping it doesn't explode," was the way Penn State Assistant Coach Sever "Tor" Torette described the Vanderbilt Commodores—the Lion opponent Saturday afternoon in the annual Homecoming Weekend attraction at Beaver Field.

If any of the Lion coaches should know, Torette's the boy because he spent the past two weekends scouting the Commodores. And after talking with him, one gets the opinion that he is very impressed with Coach Art Guepe's boys.

Torette warned the Lion fans against allowing the Vandy record—1-1-2 to date—deceive them. The Commodores have tied Missouri, 7-7, beaten Georgia, 9-6, tied Alabama, 6-6, and lost to Mississippi, 28-0.

"Just because they (Vandy) have scored only three touchdowns, people will be inclined to think that they are poor offensively. But, they're very much in error," he said.

He went on to explain that Vandy had a good preseason outlook chiefly because of three backs—fullback Jim Butler and halfbacks Phil King and Tommy Moore—whom he described as "three backs who will probably be as good as we will see all season." All three are over 6 feet and weigh over 200 pounds. King and Butler are known to be capable of running 100 yards in better than 10 seconds.

He described King as a "power runner who is most dangerous on the outside." He said Butler and Moore are "big, strong backs who seem to do their best running on end sweeps."

"Although I think King is a great back, personally I think more of the fullback Butler," he said. King, who is being boomed for all-America honors as the best back in the Southeastern conference, is the team's top ground gainer with 217 yards in 52 carries. So you can imagine how much Butler caught Torette's eye.

Along the line, Torette was impressed with the play of guard George Deiderich, who set a new all-time Vanderbilt mark with 17 tackles against Ole Miss from his linebacker post. He is averaging 11 per game and is regarded by Torette as "the man we must get out of there to put our ground game on the road."

Until now, the Commodores have been predominantly a rushing team, stressing runs at the flanks—off tackles and end runs, Torette said. Guepe has labeled his offense as "kaleidoscopic" because of its great diversity.

Asked what the Lions would have to prepare for most, Torette replied: "We're going to have to prepare for everything . . . they use everything, used in all offenses at the present time and we're going to have to be prepared for it all."

Which, in effect, is saying don't underrate the Commodores!

Frosh Gym Candidates

Coach Gene Wettstone yesterday issued a call to all candidates for the freshman gymnastic squad. All interested should report any time between 4 and 6 p.m. to Wettstone's office in 234 Recreation Hall. Wettstone emphasized that no previous gymnastic experience is necessary but candidates should be in good physical condition.

Hosterman Has Another Problem

It seems like soccer Coach Ken Hosterman is always having problems. However, his newest problem is sort of an envious one—at least to his coaching counterparts. Here's why:

For the first time this season Hosterman will have a full booter force ready for action, when the Lions visit Colgate Saturday. This comes via the return of Mike Stollmeyer and Lou VanRafelghem from the injured ward.

To make room for either returnee, Hosterman will have to revamp the starting forward wall which helped rout Syracuse, 12-1, last week. That means at least one and possibly two "qualified" regulars will be sitting on the bench come Saturday afternoon.

Against Syracuse last week.

Hosterman positioned his line with Jim Hedberg and Ihor Chyzowych at the wings, Per Torgeson and Pete Wadsworth at the insides and Bill Fiedler at center-forward. Only Fiedler is assured of his job for Saturday's encounter.

All but Wadsworth were starters in the Lion's first two tilts.

2 Year Extension

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Bill Rigney today was given a two-year extension as manager of the Giants, the National League team which has announced that it will play baseball in San Francisco next spring. Rigney managed the club in New York for two years.

Wadsworth subbed for Chyzowych—a regular inside man—who replaced the injured VanRafelghem.

But now the situation has changed. Not only is VanRafelghem back, but so is Stollmeyer, a starter at inside last fall who was injured in pre-season drills.

All Hosterman has to do is eliminate a "starter" from the starting lineup. Now isn't that a problem?

6 Indie Teams Win in Bowling

The 12 teams of the Independent League A of intramural bowling competed at the Recreation Hall alleys Monday evening.

Three of the games resulted in shutouts and one ended in a tie.

Those games ending in 4-0 scores were: the Vets over the Tenpins; the Foul Four Plus One whitewashed McKee II; and the Bruins blanked McKee I. In the other games the Hamilton Hornets tied Nittany 34, 2-2; the Capitalists beat the Hucksters, 3-1; and RAR triumphed over Pollock II, 3-1.

League scoring honors were monopolized by the Foul Four Plus One team. Lou Klukosky led his team, which had the high game for the night (971), by copying the highest single score (283) and the highest series (580).

Engineers!... looking for a job that lets you "carry the ball?"

If you're a "take charge guy" . . . the kind of man who can work with a team but one who can "run with the ball", too, then the Pennsylvania electrical utilities are looking for you.

Right now, one of the greatest challenges in industry is to be found in the electric utility field. It is the electric industry upon which the future expansion and prosperity of our country depends . . . it is the electric industry which has more than doubled its capacity in the past ten years, and will double again in the next ten.

If you are looking for a job offering a pioneering challenge with a dynamic future . . . a job that's limited only by your own capabilities, then talk to your placement counselor or to the personnel director of one of Pennsylvania's electric power companies; or write to Pennsylvania Electric Association, State Street Building, Harrisburg, Pa., telling them where you would like to live and work!
