

Nittany Gridders Seek Consistent Performances

Wanted: a Penn State football combination which will give a consistent performance for 60 full minutes. That's what Coach Rip Engle was seeking as he sent his Penn State football squad through practice sessions for the Syracuse game Saturday afternoon at Syracuse, N.Y.

Engle pointed to inconsistency as the main deficiency of his footballers in their four games to date. This explains, in part, the Lion characteristic of faltering in the late stages of the game—which, in turn, led to two close wins and two sound defeats. "We're not getting enough consistent performances from enough kids," he said yesterday.

In looking for that consistent combination, Engle decided to use sophomore Pat Botula as his alternate unit left halfback against the Orange in place of the veteran Bruce Gilmore.

This, in no way, means that Gilmore is without a job. Engle explained the shift this way: "We don't know what he (Botula) can do . . . we do know what the other boy (Gilmore) can do."

The Lions spent this practice week stressing fundamentals—strange as it may seem with mid-season now approaching. But, according to past performances, fundamental mistakes are the ones which have hurt the Lions most.

"Our mistakes are coming at particularly wrong spots and have hurt us," Engle said. He cited examples of other college teams which made fundamental mistakes in past games and escaped without any serious damage being done. "It isn't working that way for us this season," he said.

Personnel-wise, the Lions figure to be in good shape for the Syracuse tilt. Only Captain Joe Sabol has been hit this week with the flu bug. Sabol spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the infirmary but will make the trip to Syracuse. Again, his physical strength remains the big question mark. All the other Lions, with the exception of halfback Fran Paolone, are physically ready for the contest.

And, Paolone will dress for the contest. However, his injured ankle—injured against William & Mary and reinjured against Vanderbilt—makes him a question mark as far as playing ability goes.

Here is the Lion traveling squad:

3 Win Tennis Flights; Sigma Chi Cops Keg Win

IM BOWLING

Anthony Agnone, Sigma Chi, rolled 204 to take high single-game honors in Wednesday night's IM Bowling fraternity B League.

In doing so, he helped his team to a 3-1 victory over Alpha Phi on the Rec Hall alleys.

Phi Epsilon Pi, in defeating Phi Kappa, 3-1, emerged with the high game score, (822), while three-game laurels were shared at 531 points each by Dave Bucke of Delta Chi and Dennis Uhrin of Phi Kappa.

In other matches: Delta Tau Delta beat Alpha Gamma Rho, Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated Phi Kappa Psi, and Theta Chi beat Sigma Pi by 4-0.

The scores, Delta Chi was defeated, 3-1, by Delta Theta Sigma.

IM TENNIS

Three fraternity men have won their respective flights in the Intramural Tennis tournament.

Bill Sekaras, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Jerry Carp, Beta Sigma Rho, both romped over four opponents while John Krall downed three foes to become eligible for the championship-bracket quarter-finals.

Sekaras, Flight 1 winner, and Carp, Flight 2 winner, will meet each other in the quarterfinal round. Krall, Flight 5 winner, will oppose the Flight 6 winner—as yet undecided.

A combined sickness and inclement weather epidemic had interfered considerably with the tennis scheduling. Matches are in the process of being rescheduled.

Ruslavage 'Too Small'

Like his coach, Rip Engle, Penn State center Charley Ruslavage never played football until he reached college. Ruslavage was considered too small physically as a schoolboy. Football was non-existent at Engle's high school.
