Botula, Shopa, Caye Slated for 2nd Unit

ably swung the key vote in their favor.
Realizing the importance of the contest to both clubs, Engle elected to stay with his usual front-line unit with possibly one exception—that being at left guard where Captain Joe Sabol is the first choice.

However, Sabol is still recuperating from the effects of his recent attack of the flu, which forced him to spend two days in the University Infirmary. He is listed as a tentative starter but his condition at kickoff time will be the determining factor.

Should he be unable to start, Engle said he would go with sophomore Earl Kohlhaas at the opening post with Skip Stellfox and Sabol sharing the alternate unit duties.

Engle did, however, make a few changes in his alternate unit line-up—the three changes coming in the backfield. There, Engle will go with sophomore Pat Botula at left halfback in place of the veteran Bruce Gilmore, Pete Shopa at fullback in place of Maurice Schleicher and Eddie Caye at right halfback in place of Fran Paolone.

The Caye switch was made in an attempt to find a consistent combination to overcome the Lion jinx of a second-half slump. Engle said that inconsistency was a big factor in permitting the late-game slumps so evident in all four Lion encounters.

Caye, who started against Vanderbilt in place of the sick Andy Moconyi, got the nod over Paolone. Paolone has been bothered with an ankle injury which he injured against William & Mary and reinjured against Vanderbilt. Its strength is a big question at the moment. Paolone will see action, however.

Looking at the game, Engle said of Syracuse: "They have a real good football team... they're big and strong and representative of past Syracuse teams."

He said he thought the Orange had a stronger line than last year but not as good a backfield. This, chiefly because of the loss of all-America Jimmy Brown and his halfback counterpart Jim Ridlon by graduation. Brown and Ridlon were definitely the Orange's biggest offensive threats last season. They have been replaced by Dan Fogarty, who also is the Orange's number two quarterback, and sophomore Tommy Stephens.

Engle isn't letting the fact that the Lions are the underdog bother him. "We've been the underdog before," he said, although he admitted that playing at Syracuse was a slight disadvantage. "We don't like to play on that field," he commented.

But, the Lions will be there come 1:30- and there will be an Eastern-wide TV audience watching as they try to get back on the winning road.

The probable starting lineups:

PENN STATE	SYRACUSE
Walters LE	Aloise
Wahner LT	Strud
Sabol or Kohlhaas LG	Beneck
Rushavage C	Hill
Smith RG	Hershey
Robart RT	Luciano
Farle RE	Lasse
Jack QB	Zimmerman
Kaporian LHB	Stephens
Moconyi RHB	Fogarty

LaX Scrimmage Set for Today

With the conclusion of the fifth and final week of fall drills, Coach Ernie Baer will put his 1957 edition of the Penn State lacrosse team on display at 2 p.m. today on the Nittany Dorm Recreation Field.

The annual Blue-White scrimmage will include two balanced teams of veterans, new varsity sophomores and freshmen. Heading the list of veterans will be All-American tackle man Bill Hess. The left-handed scoring ace broke the existing Lion scoring record two years ago with 41 goals, and then broke his own record last year with 49.

In the goal will be another "veteran," Bert Houseworth.

Stan's Men Down Lions, 7-6; Win Indie IM League Crown

A 45-yard touchdown pass from Bob Hess to Ed Sprague with just 28 seconds left in the game gave Stan's Men of Nittany 42 both a 7-6 win over their chief rivals, the Fortinsky Lions, and the championship of their independent intramural football league.

Outplayed throughout the game, Stan's Men were scored upon for the first time since the beginning of the season when, early in the second half, Sandy Padwe of the Lions intercepted on the Men's 10 yard line to set up the TD play. Lion's quarterback Burt Margasak rifled a quick one to Mike Lucas in the end zone.

Bill Graham's kick for the extra point was wide, but insurance seemed unnecessary as play shuttled erratically back and forth from one end of the field to the other without either team seriously threatening, and with time running out.

However, it was the short spot passes from the Men's Bob Hess to Sprague and Les Solomon picking vital first downs, that was the deciding factor of

Out On a Limb

There's going to be a shuffle in the old standings today. This just may be the week for the coaches to emerge from their mediocrity.

Frank Patrick picks for the coaches today and needs wins by Washington State, Texas, and alma mater Pitt if the Rec Hall Boys are going to challenge high-fliers Vicious Vince Carocci and Lucky Lou (Juggernaut) Prato.

Lou feels Arkansas and California will win—the others don't. Magnificent Matt Mathews received messages from Sputnik that told him to pick Maryland over Tennessee.

Indicated on Matt's sheet of choices were also those of Editor Ed Dubbs. Editor Ed agrees with Patrick on Pitt and even goes so far as to predict a win for Michigan over Minnesota.

Only on the Duke-North Carolina State game is opinion evenly divided. Patrick and Vince chose the Blue Devils. Lou and Matt the Wolfpack. (Editor Ed, the Wolfpack).

The decision was unanimous in favor of wins for Texas A & M, Auburn, Minnesota, Navy, Oregon State, UCLA, and West Virginia. Actually should any one of these teams lose, it won't hurt anyone's standing, but it will hurt the percentages, and that's what we like.
