

IFC-Panhel Ball, 'Big Weekend' May Be Canceled

The University will lose a "big weekend" unless fraternities agree to underwrite the IFC-Panhel Ball by buying one ticket for every three house members.

The dance will be canceled unless fraternities will support it, Stephen Higgins, Interfraternity-Council secretary-treasurer, said last night.

Higgins, who gave the ultimatum at last night's IFC meeting, said the council can not afford a financial loss as heavy as resulted from last year's IFC-Panhel Ball.

Cancellation of the dance would mean elimination of "big weekend" privileges such as import housing and extended hours for coeds, according to O. Edward Pollock, assistant to the dean of men.

The dance had been set for March 21, with tickets priced at $5.

Fraternity presidents will take the ultimatum to their individual fraternities, and will vote on the question at the next IFC meeting, in two weeks.

If the dance is cancelled, it would leave only one "big weekend" in the Spring semester—Spring Week.

Last year's IFC-Panhel Ball lost $793.17, according to an Associated Student Activities financial report.

In his report to the council, Higgins said there will be about 2200 men in fraternities in the spring semester, and the dance will have to sell 733 tickets through fraternities to meet expenses.

He said the estimated total expense of the dance is $4300. If 733 tickets were sold through fraternities, Higgins said, 127 would have to be sold at the Hetzel Union desk.

All dance tickets had previously been sold at the Hetzel Union desk.

Higgins said the IFC came out $100 in the black on the 1956 dance, although the ball the year before that lost $800.

In other business, the council voted unanimously to eliminate rushing lists of freshmen, which had been distributed to houses during the fall semester each year. Council members said the lists are not worth the effort it takes to compile them.

Discussion on the fraternity-independent rotation plan was postponed until the IFC can study the report on the plan to be made by the elections committee.

Lions Top Mountaineers, 27-6, With Best Performance to Date

By VINCE CAROCCI

Penn State's surprisingly-easy 27-6 victory over West Virginia Saturday afternoon at Beaver Field put teeth into remarks made by Assistant Coach Joe Paterno to the press in the Penn State locker room following the Lions' loss to Vanderbilt two weeks ago.

Immediately after Vanderbilt's 32-20 victory over the Lions, Paterno said in effect that this Penn State team was a much stronger team than it had shown in its four games to date . . . that someday the squad would "jell" into the team it had the potential to be and virtually kick the tar out of the opposition.

Well, Saturday was the long-awaited day that the Lions did jell and virtually did kick the tar out of the Mountaineers.

Probably the most surprised man in Beaver Field Saturday afternoon was West Virginia Coach Art "Pappy" Lewis. In the Mountaineer locker room after the game, the surprised Lewis said he just didn't know what happened . . . this is one game he thought his team could win.

In contrast, however, the overjoyed Lion coaches walked about the Penn State locker room with an air that seemed to say: we knew they could do it; it was just a matter of time.

This, obviously, was the game the coaches and team had been waiting for—not because of the opposition, but from a performance standpoint.

In reviewing the win, Coach Rip Engle said that it certainly was the team's best ball game from an all-round standpoint. He said that the Lion defense reacted much better than in previous showings and that he was very

Senior Injured In 2-Car Crash Over Weekend

A senior from Rochester, N.Y. was hospitalized early Sunday morning from injuries received in an auto crash on Route 53 between Pleasant Gap and Axemann.

Michael Karp, senior in chemistry, underwent X-ray examinations of the skull and knees yesterday in Centre County Hospital, Bellefonte. A nurse said the X-ray pictures examined so far show no injury. Karp will remain at the hospital until further X-rays are studied.

Karp was the driver of an auto which was struck at about midnight Saturday by a car driven by Stanley Page, Oak Hall, State. Police said Page failed to negotiate a curve.

Total damage to both cars has been estimated at about $600.

Klutz, Clouds Disturb Lion

The Nittany Lion jumped from his den this morning with amazing agility for a cold, cloudy day.

"Victims of Tyranny Unite!" he shouted as he headed for the office of Clyde Klutz, renowned Burgess of University Park.

He ran all the way to the office from which Klutz yesterday distributed his signs around campus, when he realized that V.O.T.E. day is not until Nov. 13 and 14. The Lion's dejection was even more severe when he had to walk all the way home in today's predicted sprinkle of rain.

Party Campaigns Begin With Get-Out-Vote Drive

Concentrated drives to get out the student vote began yesterday when the All-University Elections Committee, Lion party and Campus party began distributing an avalanche of campaign literature.

Lion and Campus parties are out to get the students' votes for the party's candidates; Elections Committee is out to get students to vote.

Posters with catchy slogans and signs with names, photographs and activities of candidates suddenly appeared around campus this morning.

In keeping with the increased interest in student politics, Peter Fishburn, Elections Committee chairman, Gary Young, Campus clique chairman, and William O'Neill, Lion clique chairman, will speak over radio stations WDFM and WMAJ tonight.

They will appear on "Forum of the Air," sponsored from 9:30 to 10 p.m. by All-University Cabinet, to discuss the functions of student political parties and the Elections Committee. Jay Feldstein will be master of ceremonies.

Fishburn said at an Elections Committee meeting Sunday night, that the committee will dock votes for any violations of the Elections

Code occurring during the fall campaigning and elections.

The value of retaining the voting clause permanently is being studied by the committee.

When a code violation occurs, the committee decides before the ballots are counted how many votes will be docked. The penalization clause of the code states:

"In the case of violations of this code by an individual candidate or group of candidates, the Elections Committee may dock any number of votes it sees fit from each offending candidate. In the case of a violation by an entire clique, a fine of not more than $25 shall be imposed on the offending political party. In addition to the monetary fine, the Elections Committee may, in extreme cases,

Red Missile War Ability Said Only 2 Years Away

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—One of wartime Germany's top rocket experts said today the launching of Sputnik II proved that Russia was "within two years" of being able to launch a massive attack on the U.S. with intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Dr. Walter Dornberger, now a consultant to the Bell Aircraft Corp., said, "There can be absolutely no doubt now that the USSR has the means for sending an atomic or hydrogen warhead anywhere in the world."

"If they can get a 1000-pound satellite up," he said, "they can put up another similar satellite with a television camera inside, capable of transmitting to Russia pictures of potential targets all around the globe.

"From a military standpoint that would be a beautiful reconnaissance device," he said.

He said, "The Russians now stand where Germany stood at the end of 1942 in relation to the development of the V-2."

Dornberger noted that it took Germany 23 months from the first successful test of the V-2 rocket until the attacks on London be-

Flu Vaccine Available For 2000

A total of 2000 units of Asiatic flu vaccine will be available at the Health Center starting at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Shots will be given until Friday or until the supply is exhausted. Shots will be given on a first come basis. They will cost $1.

Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of Health Service, said most students will not have any reaction from the shots except for a slight redness and soreness at the site of the injection.

But some others may have a "grippe-like response" with some fever and headache lasting 24 to 48 hours.

Except for the vaccine, which is 70 per cent effective, there is no other effective treatment or cure for the Asiatic flu. Antibiotics are of no help and once contracted, bed rest is needed to fight the virus.

Symptoms are a sore throat, marked perspiration, fever, body aches and extreme prostration which last four or five days, followed by four or five days of convalescence.

The University's inoculation program is part of a nationwide effort to vaccinate before the flu epidemic reaches the United States. The University community underwent a few weeks of a wave of respiratory illnesses a few weeks ago but it was not of epidemic proportions, Glenn said.

The Asiatic flu epidemic, if there is one, is expected to reach the United States in December or January.

The University hospital has re-established visiting hours which were discontinued during the respiratory illness wave.
