

New Dorm Construction Progresses

Work is progressing steadily on the new men's residence halls along Park Avenue and Shortridge Road and the new women's dorms along College Avenue.

The superintendent in charge of the construction for John McShain, Inc., general contractors, said workmen in the women's dorms are concentrating on the last residence hall and the dining hall.

Foundation work also has started on the dining hall in the North Residence Halls. Charles Scott, McShain engineer, said the foundation which includes cement-filled caissons, 25 inches in diameter, has been completed for one of the four men's dorms.

The McShain superintendent said the last women's dorm is expected to be finished soon. The dining hall, without kitchen, is scheduled to be done Nov. 30, and the kitchen, Jan. 31.

Women now living in Thompson Hall will be moved into the new residence hall at the start of next semester. Thompson Hall then will be occupied by men from the Nittany and Pollock area.

When the women's dormitories are completed, the workmen will concentrate on the men's buildings on the north campus. The men's halls are scheduled to be finished by the fall semester of 1959.

'Mardi' Groups To Fireproof

The twenty-five groups entering the booths in the Mardi Gras carnival must fireproof materials today.

Fireproofing will be done at 1 p.m. today under the west stands of Beaver Field. Groups must fireproof sheets, posters, sandwich boards, crepe paper and other flammable materials. If materials have already been commercially fireproofed the groups will be required to present the wrapper or ticket as proof. Also oil painted displays must be fireproofed after they have been painted. Paper prizes and planks used in construction do not have to be fireproofed.

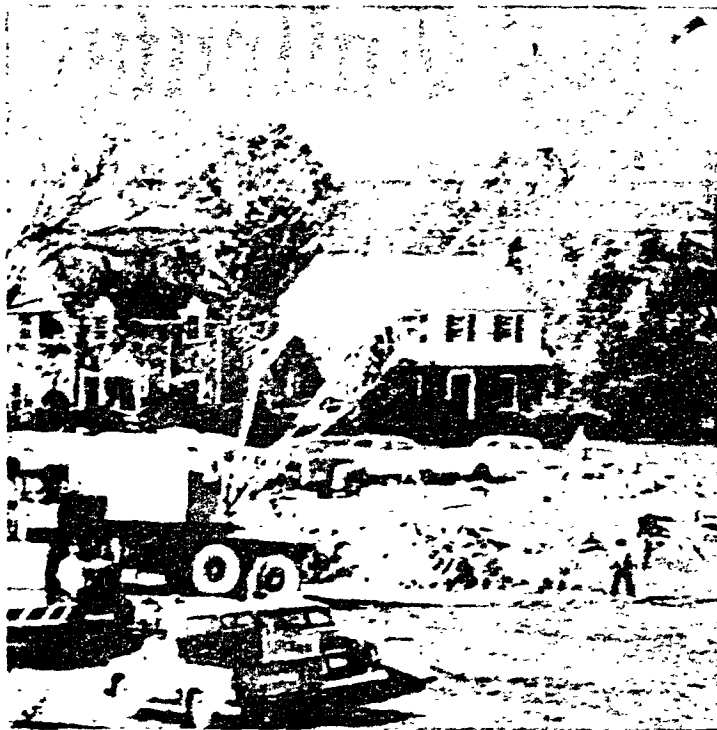

Booths will be checked for fireproofing at the carnival.

Groups will be permitted to have six people to set up booths between 5 and 7 p.m. in Recreation Hall. They will be assisted by members of Mortar Board and Alpha Phi Omega. Tickets will be required for admission, however, and can be picked up between 12:30 and 5 p.m. today from Marion Beatty in 104 Simmons.

Science Fiction Society

The Science Fiction Society will meet at 7 tonight in 216 Hetzel Union.

Copies of Ballast, the club magazine, will be distributed.

Five Faculty Members Win Posts in Borough Elections

Five of the ten members of the University faculty and administration who vied for borough posts won in the elections Tuesday.

Roy D. Anthony, professor emeritus of pomology, defeated Leonard A. Doggett, professor emeritus of electrical engineering in the race for burgess. Anthony, a Republican, had 1907 votes; Doggett, a Democrat, had 1244.

Charles F. LeeDecker, associate professor of political science, retained his seat as president of borough council. LeeDecker, a Republican, had 2047 votes. Lawrence J. Perez, assistant dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, won a seat on the council. Perez, also a Republican, received 2095 votes.

Edith H. Anderson, a Democrat, assistant to the dean of women, vied for and lost a seat on council to Republican Phillip J. Freed. Mrs. Anderson received 1500 votes and Freed received 1779 in the only close race for a council seat.

Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer, won one of the two school director posts. Watkins, a Republican, received 2031 votes, twice as many votes as his Democratic opponent.

In the race for judge of election, Robert E. Beam, assistant director of the Penn State Foundation, won the north precinct post receiving 460 votes. Beam is a Republican. Barton L. Jenks, associate professor of mechanical engineering, lost the east precinct race for judge of election. Jenks, a Democrat, received 84 votes. His opponent received 171 votes.

Two University members vied for the inspector of election post in their individual precincts. Joseph H. Britton, associate professor of child development and family relations, lost the north precinct post and John F. Bleich, stock room supervisor, won the west central precinct post. Britton is a Democrat and Bleich is a Republican.

Seniors, Grads Offered Awards

Applications are being accepted for Danforth Graduate Fellows from senior men and recent graduates who are preparing for a career in college teaching.

The fellowships are open to students who will enter graduate school in September 1958, for their first year of graduate study.

Dr. Henry S. Brunner has been named liaison officer at the University. He will nominate two or three candidates for 1958 fellowships.

Applications, including recommendations, must be completed by Jan. 31. Detailed information may be obtained from Brunner at 101 Agricultural Education.

WSGA House to Meet

The Women's Student Government Association House of Representatives will meet at 12:30 p.m. today in 217 Hetzel Union.

MI Council Group Seeks Film For High School Distribution

The Mineral Industries Student Council program committee has suggested a film be made of the college's activities for distribution to high schools.

The film is intended to broaden the scope of the present orientation program to include high schools which are not reached by career days.

The proposal suggested that the film be sponsored by the college and the council. It would show students at work in laboratories and classes.

The council voted to activate the constitutional provision for members of mineral industries societies to sit on council. They would have no vote but would serve to coordinate the societies with council activities.

Vacancies exist for two senior and one sophomore positions on the council. Persons interested in filling a vacancy may contact George Maier at AD 7-7881. The positions will be filled at the next meeting.

Council members also will submit names of possible advisers at the next meeting for a vote.
