Alpha Sigma Phi will meet Tau Kappa Epsilon at 8 tonight in the game that will determine the 1957 Intramural Fraternity football championship. Both won their semifinal contests last night on the golf course.

By virtue of a 6-0 win over Nittany 22, the Warriors earned the right to meet the defending Indie championship Timites at 7 tonight for the Indie football crown.

The Timites defeated a stubborn McKee II squad, 7-0. With seven minutes remaining in the initial frame, Bruce Forbes took a long pass from Bob Thomas and ran the ball into paydirt from twelve yards out. Pete Basile added the extra point.

McKee threatened seriously in the second half, using Bill Boyer on sleeper plays and sending ends deep for passes. But they failed to coordinate a scoring combination.

Alpha Sig rode over Sigma Pi, 14-0; scoring both touchdowns in the first half, and TKE came back late in the game for an upset victory over Phi Kappa Sigma with a Herb Ludwig to Jack Jackowski TD pass and a conversion by Tom Phillips.

Coed Officials Club Will Meet Tonight

The Women's Recreation Association Officials Club will discuss basketball rules at 6:40 p.m. tonight in White Building.

Since there has been an increase in student enrollment, three basketball games will be played each evening in the intramural competition. Many officials will be needed, and the WRA Officials Club urges all women interested in officiating to attend this meeting.

Beating a West Point soccer team on its home field is tougher than trying to crack out of Sing Sing at high noon. But Penn State's booters will attempt to leap this home field hurdle when they visit West Point tomorrow afternoon.

And if the present Lion edition is as good as its 1955 predecessors, it should accomplish this "feat" in fine fashion. For the last time Coach Ken Hosterman took his outfit up the Hudson River, they handed the Cadets their first defeat on home grounds in six years.

That victory, a 3-1 decision, was the 10th for the Lions in the all-time series and they added number eleven last year with an 8-1 holocaust. Army has won only six in the series and three games have ended in ties.

The fact that Army hasn't beaten the Nittanies for the past three years should be enough to spurn the Cadets onto victory, but that 8-1 loss they received last year adds more coal to the fire.

"That was one of their worst defeats in history," Coach Ken Hosterman said of the game, "they will no doubt want to revenge that loss and they will go all out to do it. It's going to be a pretty rough ball game—but it always is at the Point."

And the six Army starters back from last year's team won't help matters either. Included among the six returnees are center half Chuck Oxreider and inside right Bob Puff, regarded by the West Point clan as all-American candidates. Both are seniors.

The other returning first team performers include junior goalie Fred Manzo, left half Bill Roomm, outside right Bill Morrison, and inside left Juan Villanes. All but Manzo are seniors.

Four other Cadets who earned letters last fall are also on hand and three of them will probably appear in Army's starting array. Senior Henry Gardner is a right fullback choice, senior Tom Car-panter is the center forward pick, and junior Les Gibbings is an outside left selection. The other veteran, junior Ray Baugh, may see action at right halfback or fullback.
