

Overconfidence Warning Issued to Soccer Team

This is "Warn Against Overconfidence Week" for soccer Coach Ken Hosterman. He sends his once-beaten and once-tied Lion eleven against Pennsylvania tomorrow afternoon at Beaver Field and it is only natural to caution the Nittanies against overconfidence.

Because of its mediocre 4-1-1 record Penn could be classified as a "weak" opponent. But it just "taint so" Hosterman warns. That record can fool you.

He's right. One of Penn's victories was a 1-0 decision over Navy—a team that held the Lions to a 2-2 double overtime stalemate. And adding more woe to the situation, West Chester—who handed the Lions their only loss this season by a 5-1 count—halted the Quakers, 3-1, at Philadelphia Wednesday afternoon. That loss ended a four-game Penn win streak.

Penn's season started out very gloomy but it is now on an up-climb. The Quakers tied Dartmouth, 2-2, in the season opener and then were handed three successive setbacks—Swarthmore, 3-1, Princeton, 3-1, and Brown, 3-2—before thumping Haverford, 7-2. Wins over Navy, Harvard, 6-2, and Yale, 4-1, followed before that loss to West Chester.

That Harvard skirmish is an interesting one, for it seems that the Crimson took Penn rather lightly before the game. Here's what the Harvard Crimson, the student newspaper, said prior to the Penn-Harvard clash:

"The (Harvard) soccer team plays Penn today in what should prove a one-sided contest... (Harvard) should guard its tendency to fall down against weak teams like Penn." Final score: Penn 6, Harvard 2—nuff said.

There are seven holdovers from last fall on this year's Penn eleven, including six on the starting array. Heading the returning starters are wingman Gerry Mayall and captain and left halfback Walt Schroth—both of whom are three year veterans.

The top Penn newcomer is inside right Ray Schroth, a brother of the Penn captain. Schroth, along with the wingmen—Mayall and Strickland—give the Quakers their scoring punch.

3 Grid Clubs Can Clinch Bowl Berths

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Three teams can clinch Jan. 1 bowl dates Saturday as the college football season hits its peak. Traditional games in which conference titles are at stake dominate the scene.

Texas A&M, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, can wrap up the host role in the Cotton Bowl by beating Rice. Duke can qualify as unbeaten Oklahoma's opponent in the Orange Bowl by topping Clemson.

Ohio State can start packing for a Rose Bowl trip if it trims Iowa and Oregon can assure itself of at least a tie for the Pacific Coast crown and Rose Bowl invitation by winning over Southern California.

The 47-game winning streak of Oklahoma's will be on the line at Norman, Okla. where the Sooner's face an underdog Notre Dame team that has lost its last two to Navy and Michigan State. This will be the nation's TV game.

Auburn, ineligible for a bowl because of NCAA rulings, seeks its eighth straight at the expense of Georgia in a game to be played at Columbus, Ga.

All of the "big three" of the major unbeaten, untied teams are favored to retain their status—Texas A&M over Rice, Oklahoma over Notre Dame and Auburn over Georgia.

Villanova's Ron Delany, Fordham's Don Luisi, Brown's Ed Sullivan and Michigan State's Dave Lean and Henry Kennedy are among the top stars who will compete in the IC4-A cross-country meet Monday at Van Cortlandt Park in New York City.

Luisi had a 17-meet winning streak broken last week when he developed stomach pains and was forced to drop out of the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Cross-country Championship on the 5-mile Van Cortlandt course. At the time the Ram sophomore was tied for the lead with St. John's Pete Close at the 3-mile mark.

Luisi will be rematched for the first time with Penn State's Dick Engelbrink, who upset the Fordham ace on the anchor leg of the freshman medley-relay in the IC4-A Indoor Track Championships at Madison Square Garden last winter.

The Fordham runner had been a Garden favorite since he had won the National Interscholastic Indoor Mile Championship the previous year.

Dick Engelbrink ... in rematch with Luisi. Luisi took the baton on the mile leg 35 yards behind a Georgetown runner, and five yards ahead of Engelbrink. With 300 yards to go, Engelbrink passed both runners and went on to win the race by 15 yards. Engelbrink's time for the mile was 4:17.4.

Michigan State will add a little international flavor to the meet with Kennedy and Lean.

Kennedy, a Scottish-born Canadian who expects to become a United States citizen soon, will be aiming for his third consecutive IC4-A individual cross-country title. Kennedy has been weakened by infectious mononucleosis and influenza in the past six months but has shown some signs of regaining his old form after a poor start this fall.

Lean, an Olympic silver medalist in the 400-meter run from Australia, is beginning to develop into a fine distance runner.

Delany, a top finisher two years ago, missed last year's meet because he was in Australia winning the 1500-meter title for the Irish track team in the Olympic Games.

Sullivan, who placed 11th in last year's IC4-A meet, won the Heptagonal Cross-Country Championships by a wide margin two weeks ago at Van Cortlandt Park.

High Bowling Score Talled By Phi Kappa

Phi Kappa won team honors Wednesday evening by bowling a high game of 881 in their second game on Fraternity League B intramurals on the Recreation Hall lanes. Bill Walton's 222 in the single games gave him the top position in that division and Pat Reilly won high series laurels with a 559 tally.

In the six matches, Delta Tau Delta beat Phi Kappa Psi, 4-0; Sigma Chi defeated Phi Epsilon Pi, 4-0; Phi Kappa won over Tau Kappa Epsilon, 4-0; Alpha Sigma Phi defeated Sigma Pi, 3-1; Alpha Gamma Rho beat Delta Chi, 3-1; and Theta Chi defeated Delta Tau Sigma, 3-1.

Three teams share the first place position in League B; Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Kappa. Each has a 16-8 won-lost record. Phi Kappa heads the leaders, however, with a 746 actual pin-fall average. Sigma Chi and Delta Tau Delta have 719 and 665 pin-fall averages in that order.

Phi Epsilon Phi is the fourth ranked team with 14-10 and an average pin-fall of 700.

Fred Kerr, Penn State cross-country captain, is one of the few ever to gain the captaincy as a junior.

TKE Swims to Win In IM Pool Action

Tau Kappa Epsilon's intramural swimming team swept first places in all events except the 60-yard breast stroke for a 25-12 victory over Phi Kappa Psi in last night's activities at Glennland pool.

TKE began building its victory margin with a win in the first event when Karl Snyder swam the 60-yard free style in :36.6. Al Rossi copped the 60-yard backstroke in :38.9 and the TKE relay team of Jim Cober, Ed Rohm, Jim Durham and Rossi captured the 120-yard event in 1:06.0.

Both Rossi and Snyder finished one-two in diving. Rossi with 17.9 points and Snyder with 14.9. Phi Kappa Psi copped its lone win with Bob Passmore's :44.0 victory in the breast stroke.

In the other two meets, both independent matches, the Hamilton Wildcats came from a four-point deficit to win the last three events and edge McKee II-IV, 20-17. Jordan II swam to a 27-14 win over Hamilton Fins, monopolizing the races, but conceding the diving competition to a 14.3 effort by Preston Borell of the Hamilton Fins.

Dave Jones and Mike Comreo put McKee ahead at the beginning of the meet by winning the free-style and the back stroke events' respectively. In the 60-yard breast stroke, three swimmers were disqualified and the Wildcat's Fred Shover was awarded first place, which tied the meet at 11-11. A win in the relay event and a third place in the diving action put the match on ice for the Wildcats.
