

North, Jacks Will Play Against Pitt Tomorrow

Penn State's victory hopes for the Pittsburgh game brightened somewhat when it was revealed that end Paul North and quarterback Al Jacks will be available for duty when the two teams clash tomorrow afternoon at Pitt Stadium.

North, who has played a prominent part in the success of Coach Rip Engle's alternate unit with his leadership, suffered a slight concussion against Holy Cross last Saturday and his availability was a question mark when the Lions began practice sessions Tuesday afternoon.

However, according to team physician Dr. Alfred H. Griess, North "is coming along all right." Dr. Griess said that North will be able to play against the Panthers if his condition stays on the same path to recovery.

Jacks, who has been out with a shoulder separation since the Syracuse game, dressed for the Holy Cross contest but did not see action. Dr. Griess said that Jacks would be physically fit to play against Pitt.

Although Jacks is ready for action, Engle said that he would not start him tomorrow afternoon. Sophomore Richie Lucas has been handling the starting quarterbacking duties for the Lions since Jacks' injury—and with considerable success. He will open at quarterback tomorrow.

Decisive victories were the order of the night in Wednesday's intramural basketball action at Recreation Hall. The only exception was Nittany 28's 30-27 win over the Fierce Frosh.

In fraternity action, Phi Gamma Delta beat Chi Phi, 34-23; Omega Psi Phi defeated Alpha Gamma Rho, 24-11; Theta Chi won over Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 23-16; and Zeta Beta Tau defeated Kappa Sigma, 29-20.

In the independent circuit, the Shieks beat Wally's Boys, 21-14; Nittany 44 defeated the Yellow Jackets, 27-13; Lucky 13 walloped Nittany 24, 26-3; and the Bruins beat the Fearless Five, 41-36.

Leading scorer of the night was Pete Lane of the Fearless Five with 22 points. Runner-ups in the scoring parade were Lucky 13's John Zuber and the Bruins' Larry O'Day with 16 each.

In Tuesday's action, Pollock 12 edged the Bums, 28-26; the Red Raiders defeated the College Coop, 29-24; the Hoyas beat the Spaniels, 20-12; Linden Five won over the K-Bovs, 33-23; the Fourteen Lions edged the Convicts, 22-21; and the Tribe beat the Gnarps 24-21. All were indie games.

In the Greek loops, Alpha Sigma Phi walloped Alpha Epsilon Pi, 45-22; Phi Delta Theta edged Delta Sigma Phi, 21-19; and Tau Kappa Epsilon won over Phi Sigma Kappa, 15-9.

Jacks and North, the Lions will be without the services of half-back Bruce Gilmore and guard Willard (Bull) Smith—both out since the West Virginia game with a dislocated cartilage in the knee.

Dr. Griess confirmed the report that both will undergo knee operations Tuesday at Geisinger Hospital in Danville.

The Lions will complete their practice efforts with a light workout at Beaver Field this afternoon and then leave for Pittsburgh. Engle said that the team did not go through any contact work this week—customary for the Lions once the season opens—but described the practice sessions as "good."

Although the Lions will be physically ready—numerically, at least—for the Panthers, Engle said he was more worried over the boys who will be able to play rather than those that will not. He explained his feelings this way: All year, the Lions have been meeting teams that have outweighed them. However, they are quick, eager, but light Lions have more than held their own. Now, he is wondering if the punishment his players took against the heavier foes is beginning to take a toll on his team's effectiveness.

Pitt outweighs the Lions in almost every aspect and only the game itself will have the answer to his question.

The Nittanians can turn a successful season into a very successful season with a win over the Panthers—Lord knows how they want to. For Penn State, a win over Pitt is a big as a win over Navy is to the Army or vice versa.
