

Ike's Illness

May Threaten Moroccan Talks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The chill that sent President Eisenhower to bed threatened tonight to upset the King of Morocco's plans for talking with him about international problems including the future of American airbases.

Bloody Clashes Cause Spanish-Moroccan Rift

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 25 (AP)—Spain's relations with Morocco were near the breaking point today because of bloody clashes in Spain's West African colonies.

Spain has sent reinforcements to the colonies from the Canary Islands, her former protectorate in northern Morocco and from Sevilla in southern Spain, reliable informants said. Fifteen Heinkel bombers also left Sevilla a few days ago for West Africa, it was reported.

Diplomatic sources said Spain has asked the United States to intervene with King Mohammed V of Morocco to secure withdrawal of "Moroccan liberation army" forces attacking Spain's Ifni and Rio de Oro colonies.

The Spanish believe the stakes in Rio de Oro, especially, are high. They believe oil deposits found in Libya and Algeria continue into Rio de Oro.

Reports that six Spanish army posts in Ifni have fallen to Moroccan rebels could not be confirmed here.

Information from Ifni and Rio de Oro, both military zones forbidden to foreigners and newsmen, was hard to obtain in Madrid. No official statements of the fighting which has been going on sporadically for months were issued. Nationalists in Morocco said yesterday new fighting broke out last Friday in Ifni.

Supreme Court Issues Witness Contempt Ruling

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that repeated refusals of a witness to answer questions falling within the same general area of inquiry constitutes one, not several cases of contempt.

The ruling was given in the case of Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates, California Communist leader, who received 11 one-year concurrent sentences for criminal contempt of court.

Justice Tom C. Clark said in the majority opinion "The prosecution cannot multiply contempts by repeated questions on the same subject of inquiry within which the recalcitrant witness already has refused answers."

By a 6-3 vote the court set aside 10 of Mrs. Yates' contempt convictions and returned the case to U.S. Dist. Court Judge William C. Mathes in Los Angeles to consider "in the cool reflection of subsequent events" whether the remaining sentence should be reduced.

Justice William O. Douglas said in a dissenting opinion in which Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Hugo L. Black joined:

"This case to me is a shocking abuse of judiciary authority. It is without precedent in the books."

In other actions today the court:

1. Agreed to review a 5-3 deci-

level discussions with Eisenhower at the White House at 9 a.m. tomorrow. Two hours had been set aside for the meeting which was to include Secretary of State Dulles and Moroccan Foreign Minister Ahmed Balafred.

The White House after disclosing the President had been ordered to bed by his doctors late today said nothing about whether he would be able to keep his date with the King tomorrow.

King Mohammed said tonight he was "extremely sorry" to hear of the President's illness. A press spokesman who relayed this to a reporter said the King had been informed after returning from a visit to a mosque.

Tomorrow's meeting between the two leaders was the first of two which had been arranged months ago in keeping with Mohammed's desire to discuss problems with Eisenhower at the highest level.

A second meeting had been set for Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. to take up such issues as American aid to Morocco and Algerian rebellion against France in North Africa.

Mohammed returned tonight to Blair House, his residence during his visit, a few hours before he was to show up at the White House to attend the state dinner where Eisenhower was to be host. He apparently was unaware at that time of the President's illness.

The King arrived in Washington this noon.

Flanked by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, President Eisenhower warmly greeted the North African monarch at National Airport after the former presidential plane Columbine I flew him from Rabat with 16 aides.

Ike Ordered To Bed; Hammaraskjold Announces Mid-East Peace Mission

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower was ordered to bed by his doctors today because of what the White House called a "chill."

The development caused cancellation of a nationwide television-radio address the President was scheduled to make in Cleveland tomorrow night.

The White House first announced—shortly after 6 p.m. EST—that Eisenhower had suffered a chill, resulting from his appearance at National Airport this morning to greet the King of Morocco, and had been ordered to bed.

At 8 p.m., associate press secretary Anne Wheaton issued this terse statement:

"The White House announced tonight that the President's scheduled speech in Cleveland Tuesday night had been postponed because of his illness."

The statement was timed at 7:50 p.m., but it was 10 minutes after that when Mrs. Wheaton handed typewritten copies to newsmen in the White House lobby.

The press secretary steadfastly refused to elaborate on the statement.

"I cannot go beyond that," she told reporters.

Earlier she had said that Eisenhower was being attended at the White House by two physicians, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder and Col. Walter R. Tkach.

Snyder is the chief White House doctor and Tkach is his assistant.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 25 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will leave Friday for another peace mission to the Middle East, the UN announced tonight. He will visit the Jordan capital of Amman and confer with other governments in the area "insofar as time permits."

Ominous flareups along the Israeli-Jordan and Israeli-Syrian borders prompted Hammarskjold to make the visit, which will last for about a week.

U.N. officials would not comment on reports that Damascus and Ankara were also on Ham-maraskjold's itinerary. A spokesman said Hammarskjold planned to confer in areas where U.N. interests are directly involved, and that the detailed schedule of stops would be announced later.

Damascus, Cairo and Jerusalem were regarded as fairly certain in addition to Amman.

He will confer in Amman on the demand by Jordan that he remove a U.S. marine officer in charge of Israeli-Jordan mediation. Jordan charged the officer had been unfair in his handling of an Israeli-Jordan border dispute.

Hammarskjold will arrive in Amman on Sunday. He plans to return to U.N. headquarters by December 8.

Tunisian Talks Inconclusive; Teen-Agers Riot in Paris

PARIS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Riot troops and police broke up a teen-age demonstration against Britain and the United States today as British Prime Minister Harold O. Macmillan held inconclusive talks here over Tunisian arms.

Shouting "Algeria is French" and "Macmillan to the gallows," about 300 young men, many in leather jackets, attempted to march on the U.S. Embassy near the Place de la Concorde.

The authorities had been warned to expect possible riots by signs splashed on walls overnight by two rightist parties declaring, "The British and Americans have given arms to the Algerian rebels via Tunisia."

Heavy rings of police and troops had been thrown about the British and U.S. embassies shortly after Macmillan flew in from London to begin his talks with French officials.

Almost as soon as the youths began converging, the police moved in with their clubs. About 100 of the demonstrators were bundled into police vans. The remainder were herded into the center of the Place de la Concorde and police hurled stench bombs into their midst.

Warned by the electric atmosphere, Macmillan tried to smooth the way for NATO unity by declaring upon his arrival: "We are in the same boat—don't let us or anyone else rock it."

But this was small relief to the feelings of the French. They believe Macmillan and President Eisenhower, who will attend a NATO summit conference here in mid-December, already had rocked the boat by delivering 900 small arms to the troops of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba.

The British and American view is that the step was necessary to forestall any Tunisian-Soviet arms deal, and that Bourguiba promised the weapons would be used only for Tunisian security.

Macmillan returned to the British Embassy through the cordons of riot forces after his first round of talks with Premier Felix Gaillard.
