

AIM Appropriates $50 Gift for Sharp

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors has voted to contribute $50 to the Christmas Gift for Larry fund.

The fund, established by All-University Cabinet, will aid in paying for Larry Sharp's hospital expenses.

Jr. Board Hits ROTC Compulsion

The Junior Class Advisory Board has unanimously directed George Sellers, junior class president, to vote in favor of the Liberal Arts Student Council resolution asking abolition of compulsory ROTC at tomorrow's All-University cabinet meeting.

The board last Sunday also approved a motion proposed by John Bott, chairman of the Christmas Project committee, that board members and other interested junior classmen visit shut-ins in and around the State College area as their annual Christmas project.

Bott said that in years past, the board usually sponsored a Christmas party for faculty children, but that this year a change would be more in order. He said many other campus organizations play host to the children.

Gifts will be given to persons visited during the project.

The board heard a report from Bruce Walsh, junior class vice president, that the Junior Prom, held Nov. 3, incurred a deficit of perhaps $200.

"We are not yet sure of the exact amount that the dance went into the red," he said, "because of bills that have not yet been received."

Walsh said the cost of the Woody Herman orchestra which played at the prom was $2750.

Student Gets $25 In Parking Suit

A senior was awarded $25 last Monday in a damage suit against a State College parking lot owner.

A car owned by Albert Ominsky, senior in pre-law from Philadelphia, was towed from a parking lot owned by Perry Gentzel, 124 S. Pugh St.

Justice of the Peace Guy B. Mills said Gentzel was ordered to pay $25 damages and $12.50 in costs. Mills said Ominsky had parked his car illegally in Gentzel's parking lot.

Gentzel chained the Ominsky car to a truck and towed it away, Mills said. The student's auto reportedly was damaged during the towing.

The board also established a committee to determine the benefits and the possible improvements of the residence halls counseling system. Questionnaires will be used to sample students' reaction to the present system. Louis Wonderly was appointed chairman of the committee.

The board on Monday approved a motion to discuss the "Outstanding Living Award" report at its next meeting.

The report was on the agenda but the board decided to postpone findings and devote the time to the reading of the revisions of the AIM constitution.

A recommendation from Wonderly, chairman of the Indie Week Committee, proposed that Indie Week be scheduled in the future for the first week in November instead of the last week in October.

Wonderly said the committee felt that more interest could be achieved if the week was held after the first round of "blue books" instead of during the week.

Charles Bartholomew, representative from Town Independent Men, was appointed administrative assistant to AIM President John Morgan.

The duties of the assistant are to supervise motions, resolutions and business of the board, according to Wonderly.

Have a Nice Vacation? He Didn't

So you think you've got troubles? So you say nothing exciting happened over vacation-time?

Well, just un lax, because you probably didn't have to go through the harrowing experience that confronted Gary Krimmel, junior in hotel administration from Erie, when he got home.

Krimmel, who had planned to go to New York during vacation, received a call from his parents telling him to come home. He no sooner stepped in the door when he discovered that his parents had been living in the constant threat of death for the last week.

It seems that Krimmel's father, Frank, who owns a restaurant in Erie, was thinking of hiring a woman as a waitress. However, one of the woman's boyfriends decided he didn't want her to work in the restaurant. As a quick solution, the boyfriend, a salesman, called the elder Krimmel and threatened the lives of him and his wife.

The FBI was called in, and while solving the case, confined the Krimmels to their home. They finally caught the salesman, who had also sent a poison pen letter to Gary's father. To complicate things, Gary's mother has an identical twin sister also living in Erie, and her family also was confined to its house.

As Gary put it, "that's one helluva thing to greet you when you come home for vacation."

WH Council to Discuss Christmas Decorations

The West Halls Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in 127 Waring to make plans for Christmas tree decorations for Hamilton, Waring, McKee and Irvin Halls.

President Carl Smith will appoint a committee to take charge of the decorations.

61 Student Fines in Borough Range from Cars to Canines

Sixty-one students were fined during October in State College for violations ranging from speeding to a "dog violation."

One student, Stephen Rade of Philadelphia, who is a prisoner in Centre County jail, Bellefonte, on a forgery count, was ticketed five times during the month for parking violations.

The violations included parking against traffic, in front of a private entrance, parking where prohibited and 2 meter violations which were unpaid.

Three students, Frank Pearson, Ridley Park; Edward Stein, Philipsburg; Robert Stoner, State College, were fined for two violations each.

Other fines included eight for speeding; one, driving too fast for conditions; six, failing to stop at stop sign; two, failure to yield right of way; 18, parking against traffic; 13, parking within 25 feet of corner; one, blocking a private entrance.

Two, turning without proper signal; one, no lighted lamp on bicycle; two, failure to obey lawful order of police officer; one, step light; one, stopping on crosswalk; one, following too closely; one, illegal passing; one, one way street; one, no left turn; one, dog violation; and one, disorderly conduct.
