

Panhel Approves Motion Raising Quota by Three

The Panhellenic Council last night voted to raise the sorority quota from 50 to 53, with a provision for increase in the fall semester if necessary.

An earlier motion to raise the quota to 55 was defeated. Several Panhel members objected to raising of the quota by five because their own sorority quotas were not filled and they wanted to fill them first before the quota was raised.

8 New Seats Recommended By MI Council

A motion to enlarge the Mineral Industries Student Council by eight members by a constitutional amendment was presented at a meeting of the council Monday night.

It was not voted on because a quorum of three-fourths of the members of council was not present. The proposal will be read and voted on at the next meeting of the council.

The plan would increase representation of each class by two council members. The representation then would be 10 seniors, eight juniors, six sophomores and four freshmen. The membership of council would rise from 20 to 28.

The proposed changes would be in effect for the spring elections. It was announced that two senior seats and one sophomore seat are vacant in council. The seats will be filled by appointment by the president, James Stratton, with unanimous consent of council.

Any senior or sophomore in the College of Mineral Industries may apply by contacting George Maier at ADams 7-7881.

WSGA Issues Black Marks For 67 Coeds

The Women's Student Government Association Judicial Board issued 67 blackmarks yesterday. The blackmarks were issued mainly for signing out incorrectly for vacation, failure to address postcards to parents, unmade beds and untidy rooms.

The board also issued six one o'clock removals, four lenient weekend campuses and one strict campus. The one o'clock removals were issued for failure to sign out for special permissions, lateness, and the accumulation of four blackmarks.

The receiver of a lenient weekend campus must keep weekday hours on the weekend and cannot date after 6:30 p.m. The campuses were issued for failure to sign out for vacation, lateness, and the postponement of a one o'clock removal.

The receiver of a strict campus must sign in at 6:30 p.m. every night for a week. The strict campus was issued for failure to take a lenient weekend campus. The penalties were issued for offenses committed during the weeks of Nov. 18 through Dec. 2.

A collection of contemporary Israeli paintings will be on exhibition at the Hillel auditorium until Dec. 15.

Dead Baby's Identity Remains Unknown

State police have been unable to turn up any clues leading to the identity of the partly-decomposed male baby found Saturday behind the Nittany Lion Inn.

Police are counting on an autopsy report due today in hopes of solving the mystery. Dr. Anacleto Hermogenes, Williamsport pathologist, is performing the autopsy.

The report is expected to place the approximate time and cause of the baby's death. The report also is expected to estimate the time of the birth, if the baby was stillborn.

Police said the time element is the most important factor now. Once the time of the death is established, police said, they expect to be able to question the occupants of the Inn from that period.

Trooper Leonard J. Washkewicz of the Rockview state police sub-station is in charge of the investigation. He and several other policemen have been questioning residents of the Inn and other persons who may be able to give some light to the mystery.

Walter Stine, a dishwasher at the Inn, discovered the body Saturday when he took a break from work. The body was lying amidst some barren shrubbery about 15 feet from a shallow hole where it had been buried. Campus Patrol and State Col lege police were notified by the hotel manager, who then called the state police.

Capt. Philip A. Mark of the Campus Patrol said the infant's body appeared to have been "tugged at" by a small animal. The body was wrapped in a bathmat, two white line towels and a restaurant-type kitchen apron. Mark said anyone could have obtained any of the items.
