

Speidel Cautions Matmen Action Stormy in Cage Play Despite Win Over Colgate

"Our win over Colgate doesn't prove we can beat teams like Illinois, Lehigh, Cornell and Pitt," Penn State's wily wrestling Coach Charlie Speidel said yesterday. Speidel was referring to the Lions' 18-8 opening season victory over Colgate Wednesday afternoon.

"I was worried about Colgate and probably always will worry about them," the wizard continued. "They have a good coach (Harvey Potter) and some good wrestlers. But it was a good open-able to pin their men if they hadn't been over-anxious.

"Said the cagey Speidel: "They kept pushing their men all over. But you don't get a fall by force. You have to make the other man wrestle. You catch him when he moves.

"But I was pleased with everyone. Andy Stynchula and Sam Minor looked good even though they lost. After all they were meeting the best two men on the Colgate team." (Stynchula was pinned by Pete Newell—a top Eastern heavyweight threat—and Minor lost to Fred Schult—a highly-rated 167-pound junior.)

Two one-point victories and one of three forfeited games helped produce a stormy night of intramural basketball action at Recreation Hall Wednesday evening.

The Gnarps edged the Linden Five, 18-17 in one of the close tilts. The score was 10-10 at half time. In the other close contest of the night, Beta Theta Pi overcame a one-point halftime deficit, to win over Sigma Pi, 19-18.

The storm erupted with 9:27 minutes gone in the All Stars-Travelers game. At this time a Travelers player was ejected from the game, leaving only four men on the Traveler squad. They refused to play with a four man squad and thus the officials forfeited the game, giving the All Stars a 2-0 forfeit win. They had been leading 15-6, before the incident occurred.

In the two other fraternity tilts, Beta Sigma Rho defeated Beaver House, 27-14 and Delta Upsilon beat Phi Sigma Delta, 29-17. The Beta Sig-Beaver House game produced the leading scorer of the night in Joe Fenkze. The Beta Sig ace poured 17 points through the hoops.

The Fourteen Lions won over Pollock IV, 29-16 and The Tribe beat the Hoyas, 31-23 in the other independent games of the night. Dan Greyback and Sixto Pachecollouger scored 14 and 12 counters respectively to pace the attack of the Fourteen Lions. Pete Logan netted 13 tallies for the Tribe cause.

In the two other forfeits of the night, the Wesley Five beat the Hounds and the Burns defeated the Convicts. The three forfeits in one night is the high mark for the season in that department.

er for us, for it helped the five newcomers get some good varsity experience. That counts a lot."

Speidel spent last night's practice session going over individual mistakes with the eight Lion starters. "Everyone made a few mistakes," Speidel said, "but that's only natural in the first meet. Some of the boys let many opportunities slip by. That's why we make these constructive criticisms."

The Lion foreman, who owns an almost fantastical Penn State coaching record of 153-35-8, said that captain Johnny Johnston and Guy Guccione may have been

Walters, Kasperian On All-State Team

End Les Walters and halfback Dave Kasperian have made the Associated Press' All-Pennsylvania college football team.

Guard Joe Sabol made the second team. Honorable mention berths went to end Jack Farls, tackle Bill Wehmer, center Charlie Ruslavage and fullback Babe Caprara.

Kasperian was the only junior to make the first team. Besides Ruslavage all the other Penn State members of the squad have played their last game of football for the Lions.
