

Ike Offers NATO Allies Medium Range Missiles

PARIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower today offered America's European Allies medium range missiles and atomic warheads.

The long, tense first closed session of the NATO summit conference then quickly split over how to deal with his proposition.

Ike Cancels NATO Meal Appearance

PARIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower, still convalescing from a mild stroke, canceled a NATO ceremonial dinner engagement tonight after a long, exhausting day of Atlantic Alliance conferences.

But his doctor said there was "nothing medically wrong."

The doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said further in a message relayed to newsmen that Eisenhower was "in fine shape" despite having been pictured earlier as tired out.

And the President himself, said White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked him with a chuckle that reporters be told:

"I am a 9:30 or 10 o'clock boy tonight and I am going to bed at that time."

He made two major speeches today and sat through two crowded NATO sessions, one lasting 4 1/2 hours.

But 20 minutes after the long afternoon meeting, which ran from 3:30 to 8:05 p.m., press secretary James C. Hagerty summoned a news conference.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany was a top objector to Eisenhower's weapons offer, urging that any decision on such military problems be postponed at least until next spring.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, whose country already is an independent nuclear power and has a missile base agreement with the United States, did not refer to the Eisenhower subject.

Instead, Macmillan urged that the West take seriously the latest letter from Soviet Premier Bulganin proposing new East-West talks. The United States had already termed the Bulgarian notes propaganda.

The American plan, presented jointly by the President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, also pledged efforts to obtain congressional approval to help the Allies build and run atomic submarines.

N.Y. Subway Strike Ends
NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The worst subway strike in New York's history ended tonight, after eight days of vast transit confusion above and below ground. It had persisted in defiance of state law and court order.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Joint State Government Commission today ordered a preliminary study of Pennsylvania's so-called "Blue Laws."

Fate of County To Be Decided By Ala. Voters

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 16 (AP)—Negroes, heavily outnumbered at the polls, appealed to white voters throughout Alabama today to defeat a constitutional amendment to abolish Macon County.

The abolition measure is one of 25 proposed changes in the state's constitution to be voted on in a statewide referendum tomorrow.

It would empower the Alabama Legislature to abolish Macon County, where Negroes, many of them college trained, outnumber white residents nearly 7 to 1. Neighboring counties with white majorities would absorb Macon's population and land area.

The amendment was sponsored by State Sen. Sam Engelhardt, executive secretary of the segregationist Alabama Assn. of Citizens Councils, as a means of offsetting threatened Negro control of the county.

Future U.S. Sea Control Uncertain, Chief Testifies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, testified today the U.S. Navy now has command of the seas but the future is uncertain.

Burke was one of several Navy witnesses who testified today in the Senate's investigation of the U.S. missile and satellite programs.

The director of undersea warfare, Rear Adm. C. E. Weakley, told the senators the Navy is maintaining an around the clock alert in the face of a threat to sea communications which he described as "without parallel in the peacetime history of the world."

With Russia possessing the largest submarine fleet in the world, Weakley said, the Navy is tackling undersea problems with the utmost urgency.

"We have aircraft and ships on an alert status ready to investigate any submarine when ordered," he said. "This is a 24-hour duty."

In reply to a series of questions from Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.), Burke said he knew of no evidence that Russia now has nuclear powered subs, although he said the Soviets have been working on them for several years.

Indonesia Warns 'Hands Off'

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Dec. 16 (AP)—Indonesia warned anew tonight that intervention in this government's dispute with the Netherlands would "widen the cleavage between the Western and Eastern nations."

Secretary General Sawita Kusumowadjo of the Indonesian Foreign Ministry said NATO nations should be careful "not to be carried away" by Dutch moves in NATO against Indonesia's claim to Dutch West New Guinea.

"If the Dutch succeed in getting NATO to intervene in our present crisis," the secretary general said, "the Afro-Asian nations will have to consider what further actions to take against the colonial powers."

At today's opening of the NATO summit meeting in Paris, Dutch Prime Minister Willem

Drees called attention to "the very serious situation in Indonesia."

Although he did not ask specifically for NATO intervention, he reminded the conference that the NATO Permanent Council gave the Dutch "much valued assurances of solidarity" 19 days ago.
