

Tar Heels First Again In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

The North Carolina Tar Heels have a lot going for them. They are unbeaten in 36 games, the top ranked club in the Associated Press weekly basketball poll and the defending National Collegiate champions.

Dickey Resigns As Yank Coach; Houck New Aide

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Ralph Houck, former New York Yankee catcher who managed Denver of the American Association for the last three years, today was named a coach of the Yankees.

Houck, 37, succeeds Bill Dickey who has retired. Dickey suffered nervous exhaustion in spring training last year and never rejoined the club. His place was taken during 1957 by Randy Gumpert and later by Charlie Keller.

In announcing Dickey's retirement, the Yankees said the former catching great and Hall of Fame member is recuperating at his Little Rock home and will be welcomed back when he is ready to resume work.
