

IFC Auditing Plan Backed by Panhel

Panhellenic Council last night unanimously agreed to send President Grace Antes to the Senate Subcommittee on Student Affairs Thursday to back the Interfraternity Council's audit plan.

Richard Christian, chairman of the IFC committee, explained the plan of Panhel and answered the questions which were brought up.

IFC's proposal which was presented at the last Senate meeting would require proof of a yearly audit to be presented to the University, but would not ask that the figures of the audit be released.

In a second unanimous vote Panhel raised the amount of money that a sorority may spend for rushing expenditures from $65 to $100. Many members of the council said that their sororities felt that the amount should be raised to correspond with the higher cost of living.

Completing a trio of unanimous votes, the council approved the five constitutional amendments which were proposed at the last meeting.

The approved amendments are:

- Chapter membership shall be limited to 53 members, with provision for expansion as needed.
- The scholastic average of a petitioning group shall be 2.30.
- All elected officers and the rush chairman shall not be considered the official delegate from the sororities represented in office. These officers shall not vote.
- Elections shall be held in the lounges of Simmons, McElwain, McAllister and Atherton.
- The executive committee shall consist of the five officers of the council and the rush chairman.

WSGA Rules Revision To Be Given at Meeting

A revision of rules will be presented by Anne Friedberg, Judicial chairman, at a meeting of the Women's Student Government Association Senate at 6:30 tonight in 217 Hetzel Union.

Lianne Cordero, co-chairman of the WSGA handbook committee, will present a progress report.

WSGA Sets February Date For Elections

The Women's Student Government Association House of Representatives yesterday set Feb. 12 as the date for unit elections, in the new residence halls and in the units where present officers are moving out.

Nominations will be held Feb. 5. Presidential elections will be conducted by WSGA Senate members. Presidents who are remaining in their units will conduct the elections for other officers. Vice presidents who fill the requirements for presidency may move into that office without elections.

Lois Henderson, chairman, appointed chairmen of three May Day committees. They are:

Patricia Leh, junior in physical education from Kutztown and Heather Lohrentz, junior in arts and letters from Mt. Lebanon elections committee; Gwen Spiess, sophomore in arts and letters from Columbia, costumes committee.

Patricia Peterson, junior in arts and letters from Strafford and Arlene D'Onofrio, junior in arts and letters from Broomall, hemlock chain and honor arch committee.

R-Mae Shultz, assistant to the dean of women, answered questions concerning Redifer Dining Hall.

Frosh Advisory Board Plans Meeting Tonight

Coed members of the board have special 10 o'clock permissions to attend the meeting.

Morini To Perform Tomorrow

Erica Morini, who has been described in the New York Times as "one of the world's greatest violinists" will give a concert at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium in the eighth program of the Artists Series.

Schilling—

(Continued from page one) dealing with the applied sciences. Robert Franklin, junior in journalism from Glenside, asked Schilling whether a military program could be moved to the high school level so that all young men could get the military experience, not only those attending college. Schilling said, although he did not know whether a program of this type would work or not, he thought that perhaps it would be too early to give ROTC training in the high schools. He said high school students were perhaps too young to assimilate this military training.

Franklin also said the present ROTC program is, on this campus and others, treated as a source of humor. Schilling answered, "If it's a source of humor, change it — but don't abolish it."

Schilling described as one disadvantage to voluntary ROTC that students do not know much about a subject until they take it; therefore if a subject will benefit the student sufficiently, then it should be made compulsory.

He said ROTC should do four things:

- It should provide general understanding of life. The military has become a great part of national life. Everyone — men, women and children — will be involved in the next war if there is one, he said. Therefore everyone will have to know a good bit about the military and ROTC can teach students about the military more ably and intelligently than any other department in the University.
- It should teach discipline and basic skills not available in any other part of the University.
- It should introduce the student to military life. It should give the student an inside feeling for what the military "is all about." It can also show the vocational opportunities available in the military.
- It should provide future officer material. It should provide a basis to screen applicants for the advanced ROTC program.

Miss Morini will play a David-off Stradivarius violin for the concert.

Miss Morini has been featured by every major orchestra and at every major music festival both here and abroad. She has fulfilled over 1000 orchestral engagements throughout Europe, North America, Australia and Asia.

A frequent guest star on leading networks, Miss Morini has recently recorded the major compositions of the violin repertoire for Westminster Records.

Among Miss Morini's engagements of last season were her appearances at the Hollywood Bowl and at the Robin Hood Dell in Philadelphia. She is a regular soloist each season with the New York Philharmonic Symphony, both on its winter series in Carnegie Hall and on its summer series at the Lewisohn Stadium.

Born in Vienna, Miss Morini finished the master course at the Vienna Conservatory at the age of eight, studying under the famous Sevcik.

Miss Morini made her debut in the United States at Carnegie Hall, under the direction of Artur Bodanzky. She now is a U.S. citizen and lives in New York City.

Tickets for non-students will go on sale today at the Hetzel Union desk for $1.25. Students may pick up any extra tickets tomorrow at the HUB desk. Tickets for students were available until yesterday at the desk.
