

Cagers Beat Colgate in Slugfest

Penn State and Colgate started their basketball game Saturday night by trading baskets and ended by trading punches. The Lions won one encounter—the game, 83-76—but no official verdict was rendered on the boxing bouts.

Playing before a partisan Colgate crowd at Hamilton, N.Y., the Lions nearly had to fight their way out of the gym as a near-riot broke loose after the final whistle had blown.

Here's what happened: With the Lions leading in the waning seconds, Colgate center Jim Elson drove on a field goal attempt and was fouled at the buzzer. In the scramble, Lion Co-Captain Ron Rainey and Colgate forward Russ Brummer started trading elbows.

Rainey walked away from the heated Brummer. Brummer forced the issue and followed him to mid-court where words were exchanged. Before anyone knew what happened, punches were thrown, both benches emptied, the Colgate followers rushed onto the floor and it looked as though a riot was to be had.

Dignitaries from both schools, including the Colgate University President, Everett Case, rushed to the floor and the proceedings were taken under control—but not before a few punches were landed by players on both teams. Ironically enough, it was President Case's first visit to the Colgate gym this year for a basketball game.

Elson converted his two fouls in an anti-climax to the festivities but the ballgame was over. The fight was only the inevitable result of four or five previous near outbreaks.

Playing in as rough a game physically as they probably have all year, the Lions jumped to an early 15-10 lead and stayed in the drivers seat for the remainder of the half, leading at the break, 40-34.

Rainey, who scored 34 points for the season's Lion individual high, and Wally Colender were the mainstays of the Lion attack in the period. Rainey finished with 18 points and Colender 14.

Led by Brummer's two baskets, Colgate scored eight straight points in the early minutes of the second half to jump into a 42-40 lead. The Lions stayed close behind until the 10:50 mark when baskets by Brummer and Captain Phil Bisselle sent the Red Raiders to a 58-63 margin.

After trading baskets, the Lions went on a 10-point scoring spree on baskets by Rainey, Tom Hancock, Paul Sweetland and Bob Edwards and two fouls by Hancock for a 75-70 lead. And that was the ballgame—Colgate could never get closer.

Lion Thinclads Lose

Ohio State, with the aid of senior Olympic star Glenn Davis, turned back the Penn State indoor trackmen Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, 69-45. The defeat was Penn State's third in a row in dual competition.

Davis set a French Field House record in one event, tied another and anchored the winning mile relay team.

The fleet-footed senior established a new mark of 8.5 seconds in the 70-yard high hurdles, tied the existing mark of 6.3 seconds in the 60-yard dash and ran a 48.9 second quarter for the relay team.

Ed Moran, junior Lion trackster from Kane, set another field house record, winning the 1000-yard run in 2:12.2. Moran also tied for first with teammate Dick Engelbrink in the mile with a 4:24 time and ran a 49.4 quarter-mile leg for the mile relay team.

Other winners were Dick Ham-bright, Penn State, 440—:50.0; Jack McClain, Ohio State, 880—1:56.3; Jack Blackburn, Ohio State, two-mile—9:34.9; John Eubel, Ohio State, shot put—49'11"; Stan Lyons, Ohio State, pole vault—14' (tied field house record) and Ohio State in the mile relay, 3:20.3.

Only one team in the country—Texas Western—posted a better record than Penn State in kick-off return defense in 1957.

The Fearless Five upset the Hamilton Wildcats, 20-17, and sent Independent League D of intramural basketball into a three-way tie Friday night at Recreation Hall. The Sinkers, Night Riders and Hamilton Wildcats each own 5-1 records now.

In fraternity competition, Alpha Tau Omega came within a game of the Fraternity League E title when it defeated Sigma Tau Gamma, 24-19. Alpha Phi Delta, the only other team with a chance for the League E crown, won 30-20 over Phi Kappa Sigma.

In other Greek contests, Tau Phi Delta whalloped Sigma Alpha Mu, 29-4; Theta Kappa Phi beat Lambda Chi Alpha, 23-13; Theta Xi won over Sigma Chi, 43-19; and Alpha Chi Rho defeated Theta Delta Chi, 37-29.

In the other indie encounters, the Slipsticks beat Hamilton Hustlers, 28-18, and the Masters defeated Hamilton-A, 31-19.

Bill Bush, Theta Xi, was the leading individual scorer, with 19 markers. Ron Bauer, Alpha Tau Omega, was runner-up with 16 points.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE WRINKLING

While everybody knows that the soft collar on Van Heusen Century Shirts won't wrinkle, ever, a Van Heusen survey among college students has revealed that precious few know why. Here are some of the responses:

J. L.—sophomore at the Psychodynamic Institute for Arts, Crafts, and Number Painting—"Obviously, the collar won't wrinkle, because it's afraid to wrinkle. It may have been threatened by some surly Van Heusen vice-president. Ergo, it exhibits the Cavandish anti-wrinkle syndrome."

G. F.—junior at Uenry School of Advertising—"Collar-wise, there's no demand for wrinkler. No customer benefit. Now, this is strictly off the top of my cranium, but the statement, 'the soft collar that won't wrinkle, ever,' is too negative. Substitute 'never' for 'ever' and you not only have a positive statement—but—as demonstrated by that famous cigarette, this ungrammatical concept will be attention-getting."

L. V.—senior quarterback at Milton College—"I wouldn't be without a Van Heusen. Look here . . . under my pleatless shoulder pads. See? Out of simple decency, the collar refrains from wrinkling. It's this kind of restraint that recently led to our glorious victory over Birdbrain U. Not a man was scathed. Huzzah for the collar—and fight furiously, fellows."

Yes, this is the kind of ignorance we run across. Actually, while other collars are made of 3 pieces of material, the secret of this soft collar with its wrinkle-shunning qualities is one-piece construction. Van Heusen Century shirts come in 5 collar styles. $4 and $5.
