

Lions Favored to Win 3 of 6 Individual Events

(This is the second of a series of articles reviewing the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics Championships to be held Friday and Saturday in Recreation Hall. Today we review the six standard collegiate events.)

Lion Lee Cunningham and Cadet Gar O'Quinn stand the best chance of being double-winners in the Eastern Individual Championships that start tomorrow with O'Quinn out to defend his side horse title and Cunningham out to take it away.

Cunningham is also rated one of the top contenders on the horizontal bar while O'Quinn could take his second win on the parallels, if he wins the side horse.

Two other Lions are favored to take individual titles—junior Dave Dulaney in tumbling and senior Phil Mullen in the rope climb. The flying rings are the private airplanes of Pitt's champion flyer Tom Darling but the parallel bars and the high bar will probably provide the most wide-open competition of the meet.

Although defeated by O'Quinn (267) in dual meet competition at West Point, Lion Captain Bob Foht (259) and sophomore Jay Werner are top contenders for the crown along with Cadet Bob Shurtz (262), Middie Ken McNutt (258), Syracuse's Lowell Meier and Pitt's Don Shima.

Foht lost the event at Army when he failed to hold a one-arm handstand. He hasn't lost any points on that particular move since that meet—he simply doesn't use it anymore.

As for O'Quinn's winning routine at Army, it was simplicity at its best, but with terrific form. McNutt must have a very difficult routine in that he broke twice during a fast exercise full of flaws and two breaks yet the judges gave him a 248 for second place against the Lions.

The dog fight on the high bar looms among Cunningham, team-and O'Quinn stand far above the field. The defending champion is given the nod by the EIGL coaches to revenge a dual-meet loss to Cunningham on the horse. Middie Fern Sheppard and an unknown outsider from Springfield, Bob Peterson, are possibilities should the two aces fail to come through.

Tumblers Dulaney and Gracie Cowan have defeated everything the East has to offer, including last year's champ, Lowell Meier of Syracuse. So has ropeman Phil Mullen. The Lion speedster did a :03.5 last week to tie his previous record. His top competition should come from Cadet Degen who had a :03.7 clocking at the Point.

On the rings, Werner is again the top challenger for Darling's crown. Others who are reaching for the air include Middie Guy Houston and Cadet Bill Gialourakis.

Reserve seat tickets for both Friday evening's preliminaries and Saturday afternoon's finals cost $1. General admission will be 50 cents. Student activity cards are not acceptable for admission.

Werner is capable of, and has hit for, scores in the 260's on the high bar. Degen's winning routine, another example of Army simplicity, earned him a 250. Darling won the high bar against the Lion sophomores, but both were below their par. On the side horse, Cunningham

IM ROUND-UP

BASKETBALL

Watts I defeated the McKee Royals, 23-20, to win the Independent League E title and the Masters and Cardinals each won to become deadlocked in League F Tuesday in intramural basketball at Recreation Hall. The Cardinals walloped Hamilton B, 55-9; and the Masters topped the Hamilton Hillbillies, 37-18.

Watts I led at halftime, 12-11. If they had succumbed to defeat, they would have thrown their race into a three way tie, with McKee II and the Royals.

In other games, the Terrapins edged the McElwain Men, 25-22; the Bullets won over Hamilton A, 34-8; and McKee 3-4 defeated McKee I 35-31.

The Vikings beat Jordan II, and the Watts Devils defeated the Jordan Jaguars, 2-0, by forfeit. Both teams forfeited in the Freed Angels-Nittany 28 game.

George Corson, Cardinals, was the leading individual scorer of the evening, with 18 points. Dennis Straiter, Bullets, was runner-up with 17 points. Bill Benton, Cardinals, was third, scoring 15 points.

BOWLING

Theta Xi took a strangle-hold on first place in the Intramural Fraternity Bowling League A Tuesday night in scoring its fourth straight shutout of second half play over Theta Delta Chi, 4-0, thus compiling a 16-0 record to far outdistance the competition in the race for the flag.

Alpha Tau Omega's Jack Neifert, one of the most consistent high scoring bowlers in IM competition, led his team to a 3-1 win over Alpha Zeta by again rolling the high single game and the high series for the night of 222 and 580 respectively.

In remaining competition Sigma Nu defeated Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Delta Rho downed Delta Upsilon by 3-1 scores. The Phi Mu Delta-Sigma Alpha Epsilon match ended in a 2-2 deadlock.

HANDBALL

Six fraternity men slammed out decisive victories in Tuesday night's fraternity handball competition.

Bob Neff of Alpha Gamma Rho turned in the top performance of the night by trampling Joe Washko of Delta Sigma Phi, 21-6, 21-0.

Other winners in fraternity competition were Jerry Neil, Phi Sigma Delta; Gene Flick, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Al Lipner, Phi Epsilon Pi; Reid Roberts, Pi Kappa Phi, and Frank Magalski, Phi Mu Delta.

In independent league play wins were turned in by Ron McCamsey over Dale Schissler, Dick Carroll over Dave Byham, Bob Foster over Lou Keitz and Dick DeSara over Dave Schwartz.
