

Eastern Gym Trials Begin at 7

By MATT MATHEWS

The Gold-dust Twins—sophomores Jay Werner and Lee Cunningham—head a strong list of Lion contenders out for individual honors in tonight's preliminary events of the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League Individual Championships. The session will begin at 7 p.m. in Recreation Hall.

Cunningham and Werner will be out to extend the Lions' 8-year domination of the all-around title. Jean Cronstedt started the string in 1952 with three wins followed by Carl Schwenzfeier in '55 and Armando Vega in 1956 and 1957. Vega, incidentally, broke Cronstedt's record score last year at Syracuse with a 1574 total.

The only returning EIGL champions are Cadet Gar O'Quinn on the side horse, Pitt's Tom Darling on the flying rings and Syracuse's Lowell Meier in tumbling. Darling and O'Quinn are unanimous choices to repeat, although O'Quinn lost to Cunningham in dual-meet competition.

Lion Phil Mullen is one of the unanimous choices of the EIGL coaches to regain a crown. Mullen was the Eastern rope climb champ as a sophomore but he lost the title to Cadet Paul Dean last year.

Lion junior Dave Dulaney is rated the giant-killer tonight. He and sophomore teammate Graeme Cowan are the co-favorites to dethrone Meier in tumbling. They hold a dual-meet win over the Syracuse champ.

The first six events on the schedule are the standard collegiate events—tumbling, side horse, high bar, rope climb, swinging rings and parallel bars. The top eight finishers in each event will qualify for the Saturday afternoon's finals.

toward the six-event all-around title—the highest honor a gymnast can attain.

The final two events on tonight's program are the fourth and fifth event of the all-around competition—the long horse vault and the still rings. The sixth and final event of the all-around competition will be the opening event on tomorrow's program—the free exercises.

During the Friday session, two events will be held simultaneously since both all-around competitors and specialists will be competing.

The all-around competitors, not necessarily in any order, are Lions Werner and Cunningham; Massachusetts' Heins Briegel; Army's Gar O'Quinn; Lion Lou Savadove; Navy's Tom Morgan; Temple's Marty Rayowith; Syracuse's Walt Dodge; Temple's Joe Ray; and Stan Chafis and West Virginia's Jack Welsh.

Werner and Cunningham were chosen to finish one-two in a poll of the EIGL coaches, but Lion mentor Gene Wettstone cautions against underestimating the potential of outsider Briegel, who does not compete in the league.

All three saw the Massachusetts athlete at the Christmas Clinic at Sarasota, Fla. and rate him as the top threat to the crown. But O'Quinn, Dodge and Morgan have all been consistent performers in league competition.

Tonight's preliminaries are more important than any previous session due to a rule change. Previously, eight competitors in the individual events simply qualified for the finals and their Friday score did not count in the finals. This year, the preliminary score and the final score from Saturday's session will be combined for the total score in each event.

Ed Bouchee Placed on Probation

SPOKANE, Wash., March 6 (AP)—First baseman Ed Bouchee today was placed on probation on a charge of indecent exposure, and won the court's permission to undergo psychiatric treatment sponsored by the Philadelphia Phillies.

In Clearwater, Fla., the National League baseball team announced that Bouchee, who starred as a rookie last season, will be sent to the Institute of Living in Hartford, Conn., for psychiatric treatment.

In placing Bouchee on probation for three years, Superior Judge Ralph P. Edgerton said the player's case "is more medical than legal." He ordered Bouchee to continue accepting medical treatment started shortly after Bouchee's arrest in January.

Bouchee pleaded guilty to indecent exposure charges involving girls aged 6 and 10.

He was accused of luring the girls into his car, showing them indecent pictures and exposing himself last Dec. 31. He has been free on $2,500 bond.

The charge is a felony and he could have been sentenced to a maximum of 20 years in the state penitentiary.

Dr. Robert M. Phillips, a psychiatrist, testified today that Bouchee has a condition of "compulsive exhibitionism" that can be cured.
