In saying this, Steele quoted from the English political philosopher, Edmund Burke, who said:

"Your representative owes you not his industry only, but his judgment; and he betrays instead of serving you if he sacrifices it to your opinion."

Turning over the All-University president's gavel to his successor Jay Feldstein, Steele said:

"I am very proud of the old Cabinet members. You acted very intelligently and sensibly and with necessary deliberation. It was a fine year for student government."

Steele placed his confidence in the new Cabinet members, too, telling them he hoped for an even better year for student government.

Later in the meeting, in a partial statement of policy, Feldstein told new Cabinet members he will not let parliamentary procedure "bog down" the issues at hand. He said, "I won't stand for anyone using parliamentary procedure to waste time."

He said the important thing is not procedure, but "getting the will of the majority across."

Also at the meeting, Eugene Curry, junior in business administration from Reading, was appointed 1958 Student Encampment Chairman.

James Meister, junior in business administration from Scranton, was appointed Book Exchange chairman.

Other Book Exchange appointments were Ronald Kolb, treasurer; Stanley Foster, store manager; Ellen Burke, secretary; Gerald Carlson, purchasing agent; John Featherman, UBA manager; Jean Kissick, personnel manager; and Sheldon de Satnick, advertising manager.

APhiO, G Sig To Sponsor Blood Drive

Alpha Phi Omega, men's national service fraternity, and Gamma Sigma Sigma, women's national service sorority, are sponsoring a drive to recruit donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile which will be on campus Wednesday and Thursday.

Blood donors may register from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and Monday at the Hetzel Union desk.

Members have begun to contact sororities, fraternities and residence halls to explain the drive and give out minor's release cards for students to send home to their parents.

Persons under 21 are required by the Red Cross to have parental permission to donate blood and must not have donated blood in the last two and a half months. Prospective donors must weigh over 100 pounds.

The University is included in the Johnstown blood donation area which runs a free blood bank program. Students are eligible to receive blood transfusions at no cost under the program at almost any hospital in the U.S. The program is run on a free basis so long as donations fill needs.

James Knipe, committee chairman, has asked students not to pledge to give blood unless they intend to keep their pledge.

A list of groups that donate more than 15 pints will be published in the Collegian and posted in the HUB. Chi Phi is the first house to pledge 20 pints.

A doctor will be on duty at all times when the donations are being taken. Donors will receive a donation record stating their RH factor and blood type, and free coffee, orange juice and cookies.
