

Cuba Rebels Sputnik Model Shown at Fair Near U.S. Navy Base

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's rebel forces carried their guerrilla warfare to within sight of the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba yesterday.

The rebels shot up Caimanera, a sugar mill town of 6000 persons on the west side of Guantanamo Bay. There was no immediate report of casualties.

Caimanera is near the northern outskirts of the U.S. Naval Base in southeast Oriente Province.

Cuban army headquarters in Havana said earlier that rebel forces had suffered heavy casualties in an attempt to drive to Guantanamo.

Insurgent fighters also attacked Jamaica, a town of 4000 about six miles north of Guantanamo, and exchanged fire with police and troops.

Street shootings were reported in Guantanamo before dawn. Some railway, bus and sugar cane workers have been on strike there. The shooting apparently took place between strikers and police or troops. This could not be confirmed, however, since telephone lines linking Guantanamo and Havana were out. Guantanamo, a city of 130,000, is about 50 miles east of Santiago, the provincial capital.

Cuban army planes swooped down on the mountains of Oriente Province with bomb and machine-gun attacks in an effort to flush rebels from their hideouts. There was no report on whether the attacks were effective.

Haitian Diplomat Shoots Colleague

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bullets fired by a disgruntled official of the Haitian Embassy killed a fellow diplomat Monday.

Samuel Devieux, 52, died from wounds in the chest and neck.

Police said Andre Toussaint, 39, first secretary of the Embassy, admitted the shooting.

An Embassy statement said orders for Toussaint's recall reached the Embassy Monday morning.

Police said they were told Toussaint blamed Devieux, who was minister counsellor, for the recall.

Prompt Answer Given Khrushchev by Pianist

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev got a prompt answer when he asked 6-foot-4 Van Cliburn "Why are you so tall?" "Because I am from Texas," Cliburn replied.

The Texan, who received a gold medal and 25,000 rubles for winning the Soviet Union's international Tchaikovsky piano contest, met Khrushchev at a Kremlin reception.

Sputnik Model Shown at Fair

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Soviet Union has fired the first shot in the big World Fair propaganda battle by unveiling a life-sized Sputnik.

They gave Belgian Prime Minister Achille Van Acker and Cabinet ministers a preview yesterday of their sprawling exhibit, which threatens to swamp the American show by its size and the amount of rubles lavished on it.

The fair—first to be held in 19 years—is scheduled to open Thursday and continue through Oct. 19.

The Soviet and American pavilions stand almost side by side—a narrow road, but miles of ideology, separating them.

With their huge and costly exhibit, the Soviets are seeking to extol the virtues of Communism, while the United States hopes to show the world the advantages of democracy and free enterprise.

The propaganda battle will be seen by an estimated 35 million visitors.

Highlight of the Soviet show is the Sputnik. Standing about nine feet tall, it looks like a glass-enclosed nose of a giant rocket. Starting from a sharp metal tip, or point, it slants backward like a spear, broadening to a base about four feet in diameter. Its principal parts appear to be two shining metal spheres—supported by metal tubes.

Second Sputnik Officially Dead

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union made it official Monday night: Dog-carrying Sputnik II has broken up and burned out on a trail that led across Brazil.

An official Tass statement confirmed reports of foreign observers that Sputnik II, which had whirled around the globe more than five months, came to its end as it dropped into denser layers of the earth's atmosphere yesterday morning.

The only earth satellites now circling the world are American. The announcement said Soviet scientists are still studying material from Sputnik II, including valuable information on the density of the upper atmosphere, cosmic rays and radio waves.

Public Works Affects Pa.

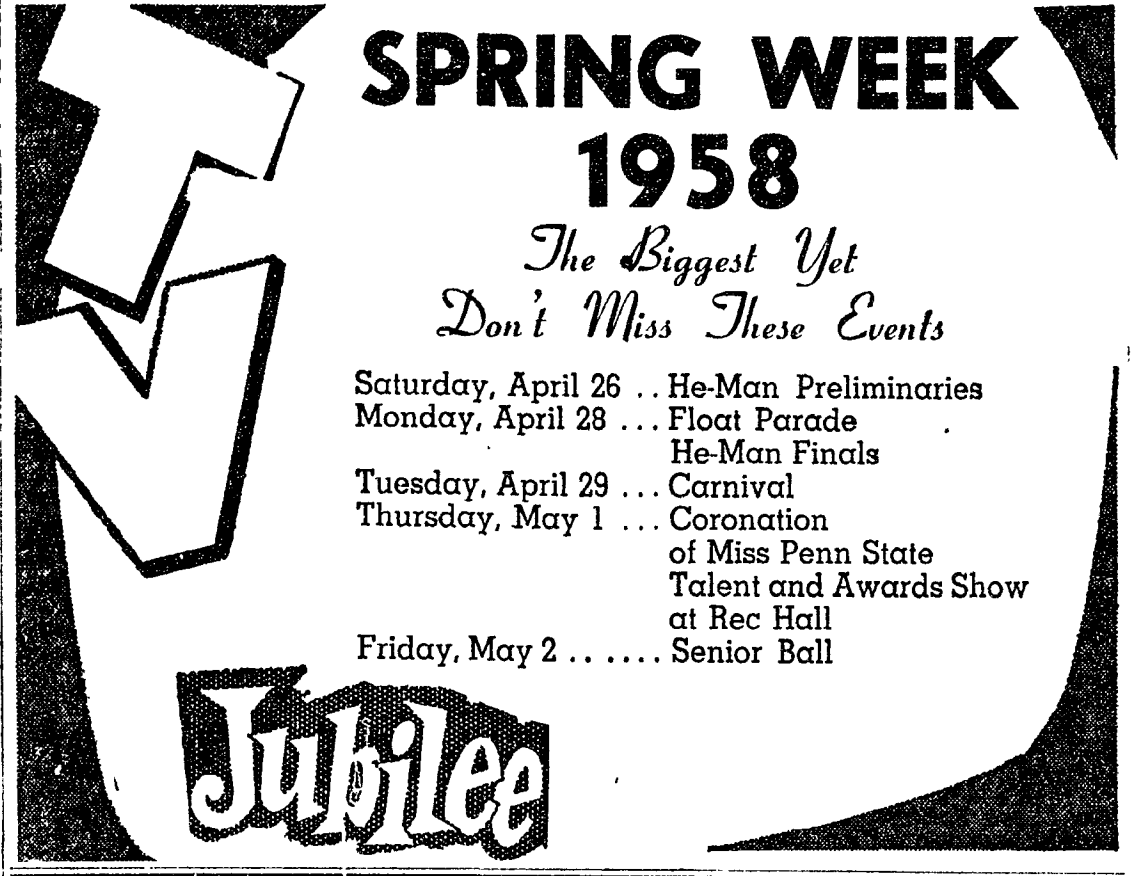

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania cities and towns have a big stake in Senate action scheduled today on a bill to accelerate municipal public works projects.

The proposed legislation would make available low interest loans to municipalities for public works.
