

Von Braun Says U.S. Can Send Man Into Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rocket expert Wernher von Braun said Tuesday the United States could send a man 150 miles into space one year from the word go on such a project.

The Russians, he said, already have the capability of shooting a man 200 miles into space. Von Braun said he is convinced if this country doesn't get a man into space soon the Russians will do it first.

No 1 Cure For Cancer Prof Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—No single cure for cancer is possible, for there is no single cause of the disease, a University of Wisconsin scientist asserted Tuesday night.

Dr. Van R. Potter, professor of oncology, the study of tumors, at Mc Ardle Memorial Laboratory for Cancer Research, presented his theory to a joint session of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology meeting here all this week.

"Cancer is the result of an inherent tendency of normal cells to make errors when they try to reproduce themselves," Dr. Potter told an assembly of 4000. "These errors probably occur about once in a million times."

Dr. Potter said a biochemical approach suggests the virus theory of cancer does not explain all aspects of cancer formation.

It means, too, he continued, that the treatment of cancer with chemical drugs will be difficult because of the many types of the disease.

He said he believes chemical treatments probably will be prepared—tailor-made was his phrase—and successfully used for increasing numbers of recognizable cancer strains.

Dr. Potter emphasized, however, that the tendency of cells to make mistakes "will continue to produce new and bizarre forms of cancer, and under the influence of new forms of therapy, resistant cancer cells will continue to arise."

He was transferred from Western State Penitentiary where he had been confined for the last several months.

U.S., Britain Outshine U.S.S.R. With Beauties, Beer at Fair

BRUSSELS (AP)—The United States and Britain rustled up some beauties and beer at the Brussels world fair preview and stole the show from the Soviet Union.

The Soviets got the propaganda jump by unveiling their spectacle for the press—a model of Sputnik II.

The United States then came up with some models of its own, shapely and smiling U.S. college girls who will escort visitors through the ultramodern U.S. pavilion.

Then the British won a point with the press. Commissioner General Sir John Balfour hailed the foot-wear newsmen at the British pavilion.

"Come," he said, "there's nothing like a good glass of beer in a British pub."

The newsmen stormed the place. More than 2000 of them had been

New Influx Of Rebels Enter Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Army forces today pursued a yachtload of Cuban rebels from Mexico who landed on Cuba's southwest coast in an attempt to open a new front for insurgent leader Fidel Castro.

Military authorities said the band, unofficially estimated at 50 in number, had landed during the weekend at La Colomba beach in lower Pinar del Rio province and scattered in the hills.

The army claimed it had seized the yacht—El Coraje Courage—and quantities of arms and munitions the invaders hid in a farm house.

If the new group keeps out of army hands, it will be in a position to open up a third front in Castro's guerrilla war against President Fulgencia Batista. The eastern province of Oriente, where Castro landed from Mexico with 81 men in December 1956, is the focal point of the revolt. A second front is operating in central Cuba's La Villas province. The main rebel force in Oriente struck at several points around Guantanamo, site of the U.S. Navy's base in Cuba.

The rebels shot up Caimanera, a sugar mill town north of the base. There were no casualty reports on that foray, but the army said four rebels were slain in an attack on Jamica, a town six miles north of Guantanamo, and 26 were killed in the town of Lima near the base.

Three rebels were gunned down in an attack on the American-owned Soledad sugar mill seven miles northeast of Guantanamo. The insurgents burned the mill warehouse, destroying 1000 bags of sugar.

Dulles Slashes Soviet Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles charged Russia Tuesday with prostituting diplomacy for propaganda purposes and thereby endangering international peace.

At a news conference, he called on Moscow to halt its outpouring of public letters and diplomatic notes if it genuinely wants to ease tensions with the West.

The United States has always felt, he said, that exchanges between heads of government "were designed, generally on a highly confidential basis, sincerely to achieve some practical result."

"For the first time that I know of in all history," he added, "that process has been debauched and prostituted into purely an organ of propaganda. There seems to be no desire whatever to use this machinery really to get to an agreement."

Union Policing Bill Introduced in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to police labor unions and punish wrongdoing by their leaders was introduced in the Senate Tuesday by Sen. John L. McClellan (D.-Ark.).

Exploitation of union members and the public by arrogant and crooked union leaders, McClellan told the Senate, has reached a point where it constitutes a serious threat to free trade unionism.

His bill would give the secretary of labor broad new powers to investigate and clean up union affairs. It would punish as felonies bribery and extortion in connection with union activities, as well as falsification of union books and records.

Other provisions would strip unions of their federal tax exemptions if they violated the proposed new code, and deny them any standing before the National Labor Relations Board.

McClellan heads a special Senate committee appointed last year to investigate improper activities in labor-management relations.

He said the legislation he is sponsoring is based on findings of the committee but that he was acting as an individual senator in introducing it.

The measure would require unions to register with the secretary of labor to retain their tax exemption, their right to serve as collective bargaining agents and their right to file complaints with the NLRB in behalf of union members.

It would deny the right to register where the union refuses to file with the secretary copies of charters and bylaws meeting minimum requirements spelled out in the bill to assure democratic procedures in union affairs.

Among other things, the bill would forbid loans from union funds to union officials and those with whom the union does business. It would also subject labor relations consultants to the same penalties provided for unions and employers in cases of corrupt practices.

AEC Discloses 7 Past Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission disclosed Tuesday it set off seven more nuclear blasts in the last four years than had been announced.

Three of the newly announced shots occurred in the Eniwetok area in the spring of 1954 and four in the same Pacific test site in 1956.

The commission declined to say whether the explosions were of hydrogen or atomic devices, but it is known there were H-blasts in both years.

Department Drops Action To Revoke Citizenship

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Federal petitions to revoke the citizenship of seven persons charged with concealing their membership in the Communist Party when they applied for naturalization papers were ordered dropped Tuesday by the Justice Dept.

Included among the seven are Steve Neison, one-time head of the Communist Party in western Pennsylvania.

trooping about the fairgrounds because their automobile train got stuck in the frantic traffic of work vehicles rushing to get exhibitions ready for the formal opening Thursday.

The pub did a tremendous business. Then the beer ran out. The truck bringing fresh supplies got tied up in that fairgrounds traffic.

The truck came in at last, having honked its way through the traffic, and once more the British beer flowed free.

Growled a Russian: "Wait until we start serving caviar in our restaurant. You'll all be there."
