

Cleveland Symphony To Perform Sunday

The overture from "The Roman Carnival" by Berlioz will highlight the program when the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra appears Sunday night in Recreation Hall.

The concert, scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m., is the last program of the present Artists' Series. The orchestra is conducted by George Szell.

The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, now in its 40th season, was begun in 1918 under the Russian-American conductor, Nikolai Sokoloff. In 1931 it moved into its present home, Severance Hall, built for it by the Cleveland philanthropist, John Long Severance.

Nearly 1500 student tickets and more than 600 tickets to be sold to non-students were still available yesterday for the Cleveland Orchestra program to be presented at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Building.

The tickets will be distributed or sold Friday and Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Main Desk, Hetzel Union Building.

The auditorium is believed to be one of the most perfect music halls in the world.

Conductor George Szell, who took over in 1946, increased the size of the orchestra to its present 100 pieces.

The orchestra does 48 adult and 48 children's concerts a season—more than the total given by any other orchestra in the United States. This year it also did a series of 20 coast-to-coast broadcasts over the CBS network. With the exception of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, it is the only American symphony orchestra on a nation-wide hook-up.

The orchestra made its first European tour in May and June of 1957. At the invitation of the U.S. State Department, the orchestra traveled throughout the continent, flying from country to country to complete 29 concerts in 40 days. Everywhere it went, it was very well received.

Sunday night's program will be:

- "Partita for Orchestra," Toccata, Pastorale Siciliana, and Gigi Burlesca by William Walton (which was especially commissioned for the Cleveland Orchestra's 40th anniversary);
- "Overture to Rienzi" by Wagner;
- "Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, Opus 68," Un Poco Sostenuito, Andante Sostenuito, Un Poco Allegretto e Grazioso, Adagio, Piu Andante and Allegro Non Troppo, Ma Con Brio, by Brahms.

Soph Receives Chem Award

Barbara Troman, sophomore in chemical engineering from Hellertown, received this year's sophomore scholarship award, given by Phi Lambda Upsilon, national honorary chemical society.

The award is given annually to the sophomore who at the end of the freshman year holds the highest scholastic average in any of the following curricula: chemistry, commercial chemistry, chemical engineering, agricultural and biological chemistry, metallurgy, ceramic technology, fuel technology, petroleum and natural gas engineering and mineral preparation engineering.

Miss Troman's average for her freshman year was 3.91.

In recognition of this award the recipient's name is inscribed on a permanent cup which is placed on display in the library of the college from which the winner has been chosen. The winner is also presented with a miniature replica of this cup.

Tempered Topics--

(Continued from page six) tion. One can learn a lot just sitting and listening. But of course one just doesn't sit. One drinks beer. And then instead of ideas, it's you who are spinning and spinning about the room.

As the American poet, Samuel Hoffenstein, so ably put it: "Congress, give our children beer."

Approved Fraternities

All fraternities have been approved for the entertainment of women guests tonight and tomorrow night except Alpha Phi Alpha, Alpha Phi Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Psi and Pi Sigma Upsilon. Kappa Alpha Psi and Pi Lambda Phi have been approved for tomorrow night only.

Bike Owners To Register

All student bicycle owners must register their bicycles with the State College Borough police within the next four weeks, chief of police John R. Juba announced.

Registration and inspection of bicycles will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays for the next four weeks at the rear of the Borough building on Frazier Street.

The cost of a license is 25 cents, while an additional 25 cents will be charged for inspecting those bikes not purchased recently. A bill of sale must be presented to verify the new bicycles.

The license is good until April, 1959, and all bicycle owners in the borough and on campus are required to register them.

Three Granted Extended Leave

Extension of leaves until June 30, 1959, have been granted to three faculty members by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Jerome K. Pasto, associate professor of farm management, has been granted an extension to continue with the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome.

Dr. Elton Atwater, professor of political science, has been granted an extension to continue serving as associate director of the UN Quaker Program.

Dr. Grant W. Smith, professor of chemistry, has been granted an extension to continue as program director of the summer institute for science teachers of the National Science Foundation.

Graduate Appointed Head Of Crime Clean-Up Drive

Malcolm Anderson, a 1937 graduate, has been appointed head of an organized Federal drive to clean up major crime across the country.

Anderson, who is head of the Justice Department Criminal Division, received the appointment to head the drive just three weeks after his appointment as Assistant Attorney General was confirmed by the Senate.

The Justice Department drive is aimed at the large crime organizations. Anderson said the first step in the all-out attack on organized crime will be to contact the department's many bureaus and gather all the available information.

As an undergraduate, Anderson majored in pre-law and received his bachelor of arts degree from the University. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity; a member of Pi Lambda Sigma, pre-legal society; and associate manager of the soccer team.

Anderson first became interested in law through his father, Judge D. M. Anderson. After receiving his baccalaureate he studied law and was graduated in 1940.

He has served two years as assistant U.S. attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania and two-and-a-half years as attorney for the district.

He served as a pilot in the Air Force from 1941-1945, when he was discharged as a captain.

Anderson is married and has one daughter.

Carpenter Writes Technical Works

Dr. Clarence R. Carpenter, professor and head of the Department of Psychology, has contributed chapters to two technical works, one to be published in Germany, the other in the United States.

He wrote a chapter on "Sociology and Behavior of Free-Ranging Sub-Human Primates" for the "Handbook of Zoology," a 14-volume encyclopedia published in Germany.

Carpenter also is the author of a chapter of the book, "Behavior Evolution."
