

—Daily Collegian Photo by Bob Thompson

STUDENT SIDEWALK SUPERINTENDENTS look concerned over the progress of the landscaping along the lower Mall as they watch workmen removing trees in preparation for construction of a wing on Sackett Building.

Landscaping Begun For Sackett Wing

Workmen are landscaping an area along the lower Mall—to the interest of a daily crowd of sidewalk superintendents—in preparation for construction of a new wing on Sackett Building and construction of the new engineering building.

Among the trees being removed by the landscaping division are some very old trees, one planted before the University was founded, according to Walter W. Trainer, superintendent of landscaping.

Trainer said workmen are removing a red oak tree between the Petroleum Refining Laboratory, now being dismantled, and the Frazier Street entrance to the Mall. This tree, he said, is believed to be about 100 years old.

The landscaping which is drawing the most attention from on-lookers is on the north side of Sackett Building, where a Japanese zelkova tree, a walnut tree and several catalpa trees are being removed. The zelkova tree, Trainer said, was planted about 1875, and the catalpa trees in 1865.

Trainer said trees located between the sidewalk and West College Avenues and those along the Mall, inside the-campus gate, will not be affected by the construction.

DOC Will Elect Student Council

Voting for Division of Counseling student council members will be held today and tomorrow in the Hetzel Union cardroom.

Twelve of the 14 self-nominated students in DOC will be elected to positions on the council. Those nominated are Barbara Slubin, Ronald Miller, Kenneth Houck, John Borchert, Barbara Keely, Linda Elliott, Jane Kleinfeld, William Vandergrift, Linda Benson, Catherine Craig, David Trump, Judith Latch, Martha Yeager and Robert Plaskon.

Officers will be elected from among the new council members. Present officers are Wayne Mason, president; James Pringle, vice president, and Barbara White, secretary-treasurer.

LaVie Photo Staff

The photography staff of LaVie will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Collegian business offices. Candidates may attend.

FUTURE TEACHERS MEETING

Gamma Phi Beta Suite
Tonight 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Paul Bixby - Speaker
New Members Welcome!!

Imported Modern Marvels Shadow Campus Machines

By JEFF POLLACK

With the opening of the Industrial Exposition at the Hetzel Union Building today, thousands of students will wonder at the marvels of the machine age, while other fine specimens of machines all across campus will be clicking their hearts out—virtually forgotten.

Some students, especially seniors, are vividly aware of the presence of the tabulating machines in Old Main. After finals they will be forced to wait until the machines process their records and feed the results to another machine which, although fingerless, can give the well-known-thumbs up sign, signifying a passing and graduating student.

One of the machines in the newest of these installations is actually a duplicate of that now famous card sorter of "The $64,000 Question."

Run by Computation Services, the new machines located on the first floor of Boucke Building may be used only for research and instruction. Five machines presently make up the unit, although three additional machines are expected next week.

Another machine in the unit, an electronic calculator, can multiply, square, divide and square again. It is used when a third machine which only adds is not sufficient to solve the problem.

The new machines will be used to supplement the present set-up. An interpretator and a collator will supplement the card sorter in arranging cards for further processing. The third addition is a gang punch which can transform sets of facts from two separate cards onto a single card.

The penstac machine, an electronic tape-using brain, is located in Electrical Engineering Building. It is capable of storing and processing more information faster than the Boucke installation.

Computation Services' facilities are available for any research project without charge unless the research is sponsored, when a small hourly charge is made.

Seventeen Initiated By Sigma Tau Delta

Seventeen students have been initiated into Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary fraternity. Those initiated are: Doukeni Baroutsis, Doris Beane, Marian Cammins, Rudolph Centorcelli, Mary Eberly, Rachel Friedman, Sylvia Gedrocz.

Reva Heller, Mary Louise Malloy, Elaine Peplinski, Marie Russo, Elizabeth Seanor, Roberta Swarr, Judith Thompson, Donna Toledo, Natalie Tutt and Carole Zielke. Three pledges, Virginia Dean, Carol Gredsky and Barbara Hill, will be initiated in the future.

History Prof Presents Paper About Samurai

Dr. Harry D. Harootunian, instructor in history, has presented a paper dealing with the dissolution of the Samurai as a class in Japan during the 1870's and 1880's, at the annual meeting of the Association for Asian Studies held in New York City.

Goethe's Mementoes Displayed in Library

By JANET DURSTINE

The German writer Goethe not only wrote Faust and other works of literature—he did wash drawings.

And like men of less distinguished accomplishment, on occasion he gave flowers to a woman.

Remnants of these varied activities are found in the display cases in the Pattee Library.

The exhibit, which is part of a display on German culture, includes a program from the production of one of his plays, a special edition of that play and several of his personal letters.

Another case shows the work of one of his translators, Bayard Taylor. There is an edition of Goethe's "Faust," translated by Taylor and autographed by the translator.

Taylor was the United States minister to Germany in 1878. The display includes his special envoy's passport and a letter granting him audience with the German crown prince.

Pennsylvania "Dutch" dialect literature occupies two cases. The literature consists of a grammar book, a play, poetry and anecdotes.

Children should learn German at an early age, according to a newspaper article in one of the display cases. Colorful picture books, much like first grade reading texts, are used for this task.

Other portions of the display include copies of work and correspondence from the Austrian poet Hugo von Hofmannsthal, pictures of German language opera productions and German periodicals and pamphlets on literature.

Out of the German vein, but also shown with the periodicals, are a letter by Thornton Wilder, writings by Wilder on James Joyce and an original manuscript by the French poet St.-J. Perse.

Thalimer Heads Regional ICG, Succeeds Kling

Daniel Thalimer, junior in education from Pittsburgh, has been named regional director of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government.

He succeeds William Kling, senior in journalism from York, who was elected temporary speaker at the State ICG Convention, held over the weekend at Harrisburg.

Kling said Thalimer's appointment, made Saturday by a caucus of the Central Region at the convention, was based on past work in ICG and knowledge of parliamentary procedure. Thalimer was chairman of the Committee on Labor at the convention, which took the form of a national unicameral legislature.

James Goodwin, senior in physics from Philadelphia, was appointed one of four parliamentarians of the convention. He and Kling were members of the regional bargaining committee which influenced the election of Central Region candidates for convention speaker and clerk.

About 25 ICG members participated in the convention along with Lee E. Corter, assistant professor of political science, who is the University ICG chapter adviser.

Debate Team Places Third

The men's debate team placed third in a field of 18 with a 6-2 record in the Dickinson Novice Tournament this weekend. The women's team had a 4-4 record in the tournament.

The affirmative team, with a 3-1 record, consisted of Richard Wexler and Robert Liebendorfer. They defeated Morgan State College and California State Teachers College. They lost to the University of Pittsburgh.

The negative team, with a record of 3-1, consisted of Frederic Pomerantz and Robert Thompson. They defeated the University of Pittsburgh, Morgan State College and Juniata College.

The women's affirmative team of Betty Thompson and Joan Kemp had a record of 4-4. The negative team of Rosalie Samley and Arden MacHatton also had a 4-4 record.

Delta Chi Wins Bridge Tourney

Delta Chi has won the fraternity championship in the IFC-Panhel bridge tournament held in connection with Greek Week.

Delta Chi won the title in a special playoff with Pi Kappa Alpha after the two fraternities tied in the regular games last week. Sigma Sigma Sigma won the sorority championship.

Members of the winning Delta Chi team were William McMurray, Robert Muskas, Philip Mullen and James Hepler. Dr. Roger Saylor, professor of business statistics, officiated for the tournament playoff.

3 Receive AEC Permits

Alan M. Jacobs, Ira B. McMaster and Douglas S. Vonada, staff members of the research reactor, have received reactor operator's licenses from the Atomic Energy Commission.

It's the MADdest!

Nobody asked for it, but here's a big, thick permanent collection of the best of MAD's barrel of fun—hilarious satire, parody, burlesque, offbeat art and assorted zanyisms about every facet of the American scene. It's a great gift for a MAD friend. Hardbound. A cheap $2.95

MAD FOR KEEPS
by the Editors of Mad

Now at your bookstore. But if you don't want to go in and ask for it, send $2.95 to Crown Publishers, Dept. 76, 419 Fourth Avenue, New York 16, N. Y. If you don't go stark, raving MAD within ten days, return the book for refund. Send for your copy TODAY! (We need the business.)

You've been waiting and planning for it all year . . .

CARNIVAL

It's the Spring Week Carnival bringing with it all the exciting atmosphere of booths, barkers, dancing girls and rides. Over 30 great shows giving the big TV artists a run for their money.

It's Fun • It's Entertaining • It's Carnival

It's a big Spring Week Event you will not want to miss! TUESDAY APRIL 28

Advanced Ticket Sales - Mon. and Tues.
HUB and The Mail

Don't forget the Axidentals
May 1 in Rec Hall
ABC-Paramount Recording Stars

Jubilee