

—Daily Collegian Photo by Marty Scherr
AMONG THE MANY DIVERSIONS at the new Nittany area recreation hall, in the West side of the dining hall, are pool tables, ping-pong tables, and television. The name for the new area is the NUB.

Six Yugoslavs Study Program At University

Six Yugoslavian vocational educators are spending two weeks at the University to acquaint themselves with the program on vocational education.

The program this week includes meetings on campus and observation of the vocational education program in Bellefonte High School.

The group will study the use of closed-circuit television and visit the audio-visual aids library on Monday. During the remainder of the week, the group will visit Williamsport Technical Institute, College Area joint schools, Altoona schools and Lewistown schools.

The Yugoslavians' tour, which began in February, includes visits in Trenton, N.J., Cincinnati, Ohio, Philadelphia, Detroit, Mich., and New York City, as well as State College. It is sponsored through the International Cooperation Administration.

Northwestern Prof To Present Reading

Dr. Charlotte I. Lee, associate professor of speech at Northwestern University, will be the special anniversary guest at the 10th annual Intercollegiate Reading Festival to be held today and tomorrow. Miss Lee will read a collection of character sketches at a banquet to be held at 5 p.m. in the HUB. She will also discuss the criteria for interpreting each form of literature following its presentation.

Miss Lee has gained national recognition through her own interpretative readings given on radio and television as well as through her outstanding contributions to speech education and oral interpretation.

A poetry-reading hour will open the festival at 1:45 this afternoon in the Hetzel Union reading room.

In this afternoon's session Donna Adams, Constance Adler, Joanna Aluise, Joyce Herdman, Barbara Foster, Helen Notopolous, James Duff, Patrick Elmeigh and Richard Lantzer, representing the Altoona Center, will read "Spoon River People" by Edgar Lee Masters. Donna MacCony, Indiana State Teachers College, will give "John Brown's Body" by Stephen Vincent Benet.

Also included in the program are Carolyn McQuaid, Slippery Rock State Teachers College, "Wanderings of a Part-time Philosopher"; Michael Segura and Beverly McEwen, Juniata College, "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock" by T. S. Eliot; John Brown, Ogontz Center, "The Georgics of Virgil"; Evelyn Bernhard, Karl Boyer, Alexandra David and Robert Scott, Behrend Center, will read a group of four poems and Elizabeth Harned, representing Penn State, will give four selections.

Faculty and students may attend all sessions but are requested to enter and leave only at the end of a selection.

Frosh Board Names 6

The new members of the Freshman Regulations Board are Joan Beidler, Edith Sherman, Alice Shields, Sandra Slis, Martha Wilson and Elizabeth Wood.

Record Sale

All Major Labels
20-25% Reduction
SHADLE ASSOCIATES
corner Beaver and S. Allen

To State--

(Continued from page four)
reality here. Is this preparation for the coarseness of the outside world?

I sincerely hope the University will start dealing with students on an adult level. Praise them, damn them, but don't protect them unnecessarily and don't baby them.

My other set of memories is one of administrators who toll long and hard "for a better Penn State." They have good intentions—though their methods at times are misdirected—are sincere, warm, friendly people, possessing an earthiness that is refreshing.

And the students, who are wonderfully friendly, good-natured, funny, always trying though not always succeeding. They're students who are as nice a bunch of friends—people—as you'd want to meet.

They've given me the nicest of memories to reminisce upon.

This is my final column. It's been fun. I've tried to say everything (as the title implies) with one desire: to see the school responsible for the happiest four years of my life grow progressively greater.

Thanks State, with love.

LaVie Shingles Ready

Members of the Junior Board of the 1958 LaVie may pick up their shingles in the LaVie office today and tomorrow in 116 Boucke.

C. Crafts, assistant to the dean of men, for their help in this project.

Nittany 20, the former recreation hall, has now been converted into a lounge and a separate study room.

Reservations Will End For UCA Cabin Party

Today is the reservation deadline for the University Christian Association's cabin party to be held from 5 p.m. to midnight Saturday at Watt's Lodge.

Patricia Aiken, ext. 78, and Sandra Wentz, ext. 357, are accepting reservations. The charge is 70 cents.

Deserted Dining Hall Becomes Rec Room

By BARBARA GREENWALD

Following in the footsteps of the HUB, TUB and PUB, the NUB has been established on campus.

The recipe is simple: Take the deserted West Nittany dining hall, add ingenuity and work, and the result is the Nittany Union Building.

The recreational area, named by Alan Gross, freshman in DOC from Philadelphia, is entirely student-operated and has a $5000 yearly budget. Four students are in charge of the office, which supplies game equipment, magazines and old bluebooks.

The NUB is equipped with two pool tables, chess, checkers, cards, six ping pong tables and the popular Kikit game. One corner is devoted to a TV set, with a section of new chairs. The latter was donated by George L. Donovan, acting coordinator of student activities.

A row of vending machines is built into one wall, offering candy, soft drinks, cigarettes, hot sandwiches, milk, pastries and the specialties—Hoagies and submarine sandwiches.

Since the opening of the NUB on March 16, records show that approximately 20 per cent of the Nittany men regularly take advantage of the recreational facilities. Although the daily attendance is about 50, the number increases greatly on weekends.

The NUB is open from 1 p.m. to midnight on weekdays and until 1:30 a.m. on weekends.

The Nittany Council acknowledges Otto E. Mueller, director of housing; Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant for student affairs; Robert C. Proffitt, director of food service; and William

It's the MADdest!
Nobody asked for it, but here's a big, thick permanent collection of the best of MAD's barrel of fun—hilarious satire, parody, burlesque, offbeat art and assorted zanyisms about every facet of the American scene. It's a great gift for a MAD friend. Hardbound. A cheap $2.95

MAD FOR KEEPS
by the Editors of Mad

Now at your bookstore. But if you don't want to go in and ask for it, send $2.95 to Coward Publishers, Dept. 76, 419 Fourth Avenue, New York 18, N. Y. If you don't go stark, raving MAD within ten days, return the book for refund. Send for your copy TODAY! (We need the business.)

READY for SPRING

Smart mix and match sport sets will see you through the season in style.

BLOUSES: roll up sleeves, sleeveless, tuck in, overblouse

SKIRTS: stripes, plaids, solids

PANTS OF ALL LENGTHS: slacks, fisherman pants, bermudas, jamaicas

SMART SHOP
123 S. Allen Street

● ATTENTION STUDENTS ●
A Mistake Was Made Yesterday
Girls Sneakers at Metzgers are $4.25, not $1.25
— COME SEE THE COMPLETE STOCK —
ALL SIZES AND COLORS
"You Can Get It at METZGERS"

FREE ALL-EXPENSE PAID
VACATION for TWO
To a Lucky Customer of Dutch Pantry

Choice of 3 Trips!

2,000-Mi. Vacation To Florida by Air
Stay at fabulous new Thunderbird Motel—200-ft. white sand beach—Fresh-water pool—sun deck—Breakfast in bed.

OR
A Week for 2 on $50,000 YACHT
In Florida or Chesapeake Bay

OR Tour of Penna. Dutch Country

APR. 24-27 LOBSTER TAIL $1.19
1/2-lb. Tail, French Fries, Salad, Bread & Butter

Get Full Details & Entry Blank at
Dutch Pantry | CONTEST
230 E. College Avenue
Ends Apr. 27