

Lion Nine Belts Bisons, 12-0

Emery Hurls 6 Innings, Fans 11 for 4th Victory

If Penn State's baseball team reaches the NCAA World Series again this year, the chief reason will undoubtedly be the pitching arm of one Cal Emery.

Emery, who as a sophomore last year gained nationwide recognition with his pitching prowess in the NCAA baseball carnival, gave his finest performance of the season yesterday afternoon at Lewisburg when the Lions routed Bucknell, 12-0.

The Nittany Meal Ticket twirled only 6 innings against the hapless Bucknell crew but that was enough for him to pick up his fourth straight victory. Junior Dave Simmers relieved Emery at the start of the seventh frame when it became evident that Penn State would win.

Emery limited the Bisons to two scratch singles in his six inning stint, fanned eleven and passed only two—his lowest walk total of the season. He sent the home club down in order in the first, second, third and fifth stanzas—whiffing all three men in the fifth.

The Bisons had him in trouble in the fourth and sixth innings when they filled the sacks with one out, but he calmly restored order. An error, walk and a hit batsman put three men on in the fourth but Emery ended that threat by fanning the next two men. And after another error and walk sandwiched between a single had filled the bases again in the sixth, Emery bore down to strike out one man and force another to ground out.

Junior Chuck Caldwell, a newcomer to the lineup, paced an 11-hit Lion offensive with two doubles in three at bats. Caldwell, a lefthand swinging outfielder, started in centerfield in place of Joe Moore in another Coach Joe Bedenk platoon switch.

Emery, Bob Hoover, Steve Baidy and Jack McMullen also had extra base blows for the Lions with Hoover blasting a two-run homer in the sixth frame. Emery collected a triple and Baidy and McMullen both had doubles.

First sacker Gary Miller continued his blazing hitting spree with two singles in four trips to the plate, raising his team-leading average to .600.

Penn State scored its first two tallies in the second on Caldwell's first two-bagger, Miller's first single and Emery's triple to deep right.

But the big inning was the third when four runs were plated. With one down, Ron Rainey was safe on an error. Captain Don Stickler moved him to third with a single to left and Caldwell's second double sent him home. McMullen's two-base blast scored Stickler and Caldwell and McMullen later scored on Miller's second single.

Two more runs were garnered in the fifth on a walk, double and a delayed steal by Baidy.

Bob Hoover ... hits homer

Hoover's circuit smash accounted for two tallies in the sixth and two errors and a fielders choice plated another man in the seventh.

The Lions closed their scoring in the eighth when Rainey singled with two down. He went to second on a wild pitch and rode home on Stickler's single.

Lion Frosh Threatens 3 Records

Brown, 12 Other Trackmen Enter 64th Penn Relays Today

Freshman sprint star Bob Brown and an outstanding 4-mile relay team will head a 13-man Penn State entry in the 64th annual Penn Relays today and tomorrow at Franklin Field in Philadelphia.

Entries from 500 schools and colleges and almost 4000 athletes have been received for the 2-day carnival.

Brown—the only Lion freshman entrant—will have his hands full in a much-publicized invitational 100-yard dash against three of the world's greatest sprinters—Duke's Dave Sime and Abilene Christian's Bobby Morrow and Bill Woodhouse.

Sime—owner of the world's records for the 220-yard dash, 200-meter dash, 220-yard low hurdles and co-holder of the world's 100-yard dash record of 9.3 seconds—will be running in lane two in tomorrow's special hundred. The Blue Devil senior holds a 2-1 edge over Morrow in the century event.

Morrow—co-holder of the world's record at 100 yards—has vowed that "things will be different at the Penn Relays" after losing to the Duke sprinter two weeks ago at Big Springs, Texas. Morrow—who will run in the third lane tomorrow—has finished behind teammate Woodhouse in the last three outings.

Woodhouse—running in lane four—in his last three outings has been clocked in 9.5, 9.4 and 9.3 (with wind).

Brown will have plenty of records to aim at tomorrow. The husky Lion freshman won last year's Middle Atlantic AAU 100-yard title in 9.5 after graduating from Philadelphia's Northeast High School and finished ahead of such outstanding sprinters as Sime, Ira Murchinson, Mel Barnwell and Ed Collymore in meets during the indoor season.

If Brown is to be in contention tomorrow, it is likely that he will have to be under both the freshman record of 9.7 and the varsity record of 9.6. Also in the speedy Lion's sights may also be set on the national collegiate freshman record of 9.4. Brown—running in lane five—will round out the stellar four-man field.

Of the four Lion relay entrants, the 4-mile team of Fred Kerr, Dick Engelbrink, Chick King and Ed Moran has the best chance of winning a title. The Nittany foursome will have to fend off bids by St. John's, Michigan State and defending champion Manhattan in tomorrow's contest.

Penn State entries in the sprint and distance medley relays will be up against defending champion Villanova and the Wildcats devastating miler Ron Delany. Kerr, (Continued on page seven)

Defending Champs Keep IM Crowns

By SANDY PADWE
If you think dethroning a champion is an easy task, just ask Gene Flick, Charley Bibleheimer or Bob Gross to voice their sentiments on the subject. Due to recent experiences, they will tell you that it is quite a job.

Flick and Bibleheimer tried it this week when they took on Bob Campbell and Don Harnett in the IM handball-doubles final. Campbell and Harnett won the title last year and weren't in the mood to relinquish it to Flick and Bibleheimer—although the four are fraternity brothers at Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Phi Epsilon Pi's Bob Gross met the same fate as Flick and Bibleheimer when he played and lost the Badminton final to defending champ Sammy Phaungphadki of Pi Lambda Phi.

Harnett and Campbell turned back their "brothers" in two close games, 21-17 and 21-12. The win not only enabled the duo to capture their second championship, but put them in the position of becoming the first handball-doubles team to win three titles in a row. Harnett and Campbell will try for the unprecedented third win next spring.

When asked to comment on the prospects for next year's tournament, Campbell said he expected the most trouble to come from Flick and Bibleheimer. Of the recent tournament Campbell said: "The competition was not as tough as last year, but our semi-final match with Alpha Zeta's Sam Minor and Don Robinson was very tough."

Phaungphadki had an easy time, beating Gross 15-1, 15-2. Asked to comment on the tournament, Sammy said the competition was tougher than last year. He particularly pointed out his match with Per Torgesson as his toughest.

In the Indie Badminton final, Matthew Sterling won the title, beating Dave Houghton, 15-11, 15-6.
